ENGINEERS IMPATIENT.

Resent Criticism of the Canal.

"Do the Work Yourselves," is the Retort Courteous from Panama.

Unprecedented Conditions to Deal with, the Statement of Paul Wolfel.

Fear that the Esprit of the Officers and Men may be Broken.

[PACIFIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PANAMA, Oct. 25.—Today for the first time the engineers dredging the tremendous quantity of earth which recently slid into the canal at Gaillard cut displayed a spirit very much like impatience at criticisms of them expressed in the United States and at the possibility of a Congressional inquiry into the conditions that caused slides.

"It is far from encouraging to the men who predicted the possibility of what has happened, who have seen working day and night for months and expect to continue to do without thought of reward, to see all publicity given to the opinions of persons who have absolutely no knowledge of local conditions. These unjust criticisms might tempt some men to retort to the critics 'do the work yourselves.'"

This was the statement to the correspondent made by one of the engineers today. Necessarily he does not wish his name to be made public.

He called attention to the arrival on the great new dredge at the canal today. The three most powerful dredg-

FIVE HUNDRED MEN LOST ON A GERMAN CRUISER.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 25 (via London.)—With a small part of the crew of the German cruiser Prinz Adalbert in tow by a British submarine in the Baltic, was rescued.

This was made known in the following official statement today:

"A telegram from the Naval General Staff dated October 23 states that the cruiser Prinz Adalbert was sunk by torpedo shots from an enemy submarine off Libau. Unfortunately only a small portion of the crew could be rescued."

The complement of the Prinz Adalbert was 557 men. An official announcement from Petrograd yesterday stated that she had been sunk. It was said the cruiser formed part of a squadron which probably had been charged with a special mission.

INSURANCE DOUBLED.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 25.—As the result of the activity of British submarines in the Baltic the rate of Swedish war insurance on ships bound for German ports has been doubled, a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company states.

ANTI-HYPHEN SOCIETY ORGANIZED IN NEW YORK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Steps toward formation of a national organization of American citizens of foreign birth of parentage to discourage "hyphenated Americanism" were taken here today. Twenty-five persons, who responded to a circular distributed by a committee headed by William Lustgarten, formed themselves into a provisional committee to encourage the fight on hyphenism.

Mr. Lustgarten said that about 5000 persons had signified their desire to become affiliated with the movement. Ninety per cent. of the responses, Mr. Lustgarten declared, came from Germans of foreign birth or parentage.

A letter from Col. Roosevelt to Mr. Lustgarten was read at today's meeting. It said, in part:

"I welcome the work of your society in working against the most sinister and evil of all movements which would tend to destroy our national unity and to split us into a tangle of warring German-Americans, Irish-Americans, English-Americans, French-Americans and Scandinavian-Americans. You and I are fellow Americans—just plain, straight-out, ordinary Americans."

"Order in Council."

FLAG NO PROTECTION TO UNNEUTRAL SHIPS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 25, 1:05 p.m.—An order in Council was gazetted today abrogating article No. 57 of the Declaration of London, which provides that the neutral or enemy character of a vessel is determined by the flag she is entitled to fly. British prize courts henceforth will apply the rules and principles formerly obtaining.

The order in Council was gazetted, according to official information, in order to arrest the proceedings of a large number of vessels which are sailing under neutral flags, but in fact are owned wholly or in part by Germans. The Anglo-American convention now reinstated by reason of the abrogation of article No. 57 of the Declaration of London considers the nationality of owners and permits the confiscation of a vessel if it is found a subject of an enemy country has an interest in it. By this reversion to the old prize law a vessel in which such an enemy subject may have had a part interest, may be condemned and disposed of, either by the sale of the enemy subject's share to the neutral co-owners or the sale of the entire vessel and the appropriation of the interest of the enemy subject.

It is said in government circles that when the order becomes known the Germans will retaliate, as far as they are able to do so. Some British-owned vessels under Scandinavian flags, it is said, may be seized in the Baltic or other dangerous areas, but most of these vessels are now leaving such waters, as the season has closed.

A dispatch from London last Saturday said that the British Admiralty had posted a list of forty-seven neutral vessels, ten o them flying the American flag, together with a warning to British shippers against chartering them, owing to the belief that they were either controlled by German capital or engaged in unneutral service. Vessels on the list, which promised to trade only with the Entente allies or in unsuspected neutral trade, would be eliminated from the list, the warning said. The ten American ships on the list belong to A. Jensen of the American Trans-Atlantic Company.

VIA SERVIA TO THE SEA

German Route is About Open.

Invaders on the Eve of Realizing Their Dream, London Reports.

Bulgars, Cut off from Their Allies, may be in Hard Straits.

Italians and French Inject New Vigor into Their Offensives.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 26, 3:06 a.m.—The Bucharest, Rumania, correspondent of the Times sends the following:

"Servian troops have withdrawn from the neighborhood of the Danube and the Austrians have crossed the river, traversing the island of Odakale. The Austrian forces will now obtain free passage to Bulgaria from Orsova where 50 steamers and lighters laden with munitions have assembled."

LONDON, Oct. 25.—While the Austro-German and Bulgarian campaigns in Northern and Eastern Servia are being carried out, according to the plan, despite fierce Servian resistance, and the Bulgars who crossed the Timok and hold the town of Prahovo are separated from the Germans who crossed the Danube near Orsova by only a few miles, in the south things are not going so well for the invaders. In the latter region the French troops have joined hands with the Serbs and, according to French accounts, have inflicted a severe defeat on the Bulgarians at Krivolak, forty miles north of the point where the Saloniki-Nish railroad crosses the Servia-Greek frontier.

This success places the Bulgarians who reached Istip, Veles and Uskup in rather an awkward position, for a further advance of the allied army would seriously threaten their flank. In fact, unofficial reports state that the advance of the French, who are being closely followed by the British, has already caused the retirement of the Bulgars toward Strumitsa.

The first desire of the Germans, however, is to open a route through Northeastern Servia and Bulgaria to Turkey and this is on the eve of being accomplished.

On the other hand, military writers here do not believe that the position of Servia is so desperate as has been painted. It is serious, of course, but they point out that the Servians have many natural defensive positions in the mountains, in which they can hold out for weeks; that, with the British, French and other members of the Quadruple powers carrying out their determination to help Servia by rushing reinforcements to Saloniki and other points, the Bulgars will have an extremely warm reception and that the Germans and Turks, being fully occupied elsewhere, will not be able to send them much help.

British correspondents in France have just disclosed the fact made known to them by the British staff that even after the Anglo-French offensive in September the Germans had the greatest difficulty in securing new reinforcements to meet that advance and had to call upon men just returned from Russia for rest to fill the gaps in the western army. From this it is argued that the Germans cannot spare a great many men for the Balkans, especially as the Russians are keeping them fairly busy from the Baltic to the Rumanian border.

The Italians, by their offensive, are compelling the Austrians to strengthen their lines and the French by the capture today of a strongly fortified salient north of Le Mesnil, in Champagne, have shown that they have not yet finished their effort to break through. The French success is considered important because the capture of this fortified area clears the ground for another general offensive in Champagne.

For the same reason the British are trying to force the Germans out of their redoubts and from the slag heaps to the south of La Bassee. These, however, are only preparatory operations, while the Italians are in the midst of a great offensive, which has already gained for them many valuable vantage points, and, according to Rome dispatches, may any day place them in possession of the fortress of Gorizia.

The Russians are fighting pitched battles in the Riga and Dvinsk regions in an effort to retake the ground won from them by Field Marshal Von Hindenburg last week. The Russian attacks southeast of Riga have been repulsed, according to the Germans, as were those undertaken northwest of Dvinsk. The German forces, however, which crossed the Illoukst, north of the town of that name, withdrew in the face of a superior Russian army.

It is also claimed by the Germans that Russian attacks in the lake district south of Dvinsk were repulsed and that the Austrians have broken through the Russian lines over a front of more than four kilometers (two and one-half miles) west of Komanow.

The German campaign in Courland is being interfered with by British and Russian submarines which have stopped mercantile traffic to the Baltic ports and one of which has sunk a cruiser of the Prinz Adalbert type.

AUSTRIANS ARE STORMED FROM MOUNT ALTISSIMO; ROAD OPENED TO MORO.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.] (30)

ROME, Oct. 25 (via Paris, Oct. 26, 2:45 a.m.)—The official statement issued by the general headquarters of the Italian Army under date of October 25 says:

"In the zone situated between Lake Garda and Adige our troops descending from Monte Altissimo de Nago under a crossfire from the enemy's artillery posted on the Biaena and Rivo fortifications stormed on the 24th, the positions of Dossecasina and Dosseremit. This with the heights conquered the 18th and 19th north of Brentonico Grossono gives them complete command of the road from Riva to Moro by Nago. In the enemy entrenchments we found arms, munitions, bombs, field kitchens, searchlights and other materials.

"The enemy made three attacks against our new positions in the upper Rienza Valley during the night of the 24-25th. All of them were repulsed. Our troops followed up the retreating enemy closely and were able to get up to his trenches and make large breaches in the barbed-wire entanglements.

"Further successful raids by our columns in the Fella Valley are reported. Lusnitz has been burned.

"In the Monte Nero zone the enemy twice attacked our positions above Mrzli, but was repulsed, leaving twenty-one prisoners. then directed a more violent attack from the summit on Vodil against our line extending from below Zatclim to Mrzli, which he succeeded in piercing and partly occupying. Later, however, our Alpine troops with irresistible dash reconquered the lost trenches, taking seventy prisoners, two of them were officers. We buried 302 enemy bodies on the scene of the action.

"On Santa Pucia Heights our troops reached a small entrance between Hill 588 and the hummock situated immediately to the south.

"In the Plava zone we stormed an entrenchment known as Casa Dirova yesterday. The enemy counter-attacked to retake it but was repulsed with heavy loss, leaving evelen prisoners.

"On the Carso front during the whole day there was an intense action on the part of the artiller yon both sides. Our batteries on the lower Lsonzo caused a serious outbreak of fire in the environs of Dvina."

Heavy Losses.

AUSTRIANS DRIVE ITALIANS BACK IN THE ISONZO.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.] (30)

VIENNA, Oct. 25 (via London, Oct. 26, 3:34 a.m.)—The following official statement was given out by the Austrian War Office tonight:

"Russian theater: The attacks west of Czartorysk are proceeding favorably. In spite of severe resistance the enemy has been pressed back toward the Styr. Yesterday's results include two officers and one thousand men made prisoners and four machine guns captured. In the northeast there is nothing else to report.

"Italian theater: The battle of the Isonzo is proceeding. Yesterday, the fourth day, was characterized by great enemy combats. We repulsed all Italian attacks with severe losses and everywhere maintained our positions. On the Tyronean front several battalions unsuccessfully attacked our lines of defense on the plateau of Vilgereuth. The enemy's attacks against Cima di Mezzodi and the village of Sief and in the uppermost Rienz Valley failed also.

"Attacks on the Krn front yesterday and last night were repulsed. Two attacks against Mrzlivrh failed with the heaviest losses suffered by the Italians. Southeast of this mountain the enemy penetrated one of our trenches for a short distance but were ejected by our counter-attacks. A new attack by new battalions of Alpine troops collapsed before our fire, the enemy's forces being almost annihilated. Before the bridgehead of Tolmina an attack was directed against our positions on the ridge west of Santa Lucia, and near Selz, which remained in our possession.

"The Plava district has been under heavy artillery fire. Concentrations of the enemy's troops near Plava were dispersed by our artillery. Near Zagora in the course of the day the Italians captured a projecting portion of our trenches but were ejected during the night. Before Monte Sabotino yesterday morning, another attack failed before our artillery fire. Later the enemy abandoned an attempt to approach our positions at the Gorizia bridgehead.

"The severest fighting occured in the northern section of the Doberdo plateau where the strongest Italian forces repeatedly attacked in masses. Received by a disastrous fire the enemy was obliged to retreat under cover. An attack against our position east of Monfalcone had a similar result, as did all other efforts of the Italians.

"Triest yesterday was visited by the enemy's airmen. Two inhabitants were killed and twelve wounded by bombs."

RUSSIA BATTLES WITH FOOD PROBLEM.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.] (30)

LONDON, Oct. 26 (3:48 a.m.)—An extraordinary meeting of the Russian Council of Ministers has empowered Alexei Khovstoff, Minister of the Interior, to take urgent measures to cope with the food problem, says a dispatch to the Times from Petrograd.

During his tour south Minister Khovstoff ascertained that as many as six thousand cars of foodstuffs were being detained in the freight shed at Moscow. To a representative of the Novo Vremya, M. Khovstoff explained that the main cause for the unprecedented rise of the price of supplies lies in the congestion of freight at Raizan, Tula, Orel and other places and the extortionate wage demands of teamsters, together with the failure of municipalities to adopt measures to facilitate the delivery of freight.

HUMAN FREIGHT CAR DEAD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] (30)

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Edward Dunkhorst, of Syracuse, N. Y., 38 years old, former sparring partner of Robert Fitzsimmons and known as the "human freight car," died here yesterday at a local hospital. Dunkhorst was six feet, seven inches tall and weighted 672 pounds at the time of his death. He had been a theatrical performer for the past nine years.

BARKING DOG SAVES LIVES OF FAMILY.

The barking of a pet dog, early this morning saved the lives of Robert W. Irsthing, his wife and two children, when their home at No. 700 West Forty-first street broke into flames, having their origin from defective wiring. The house burned to the ground. The loss, according to the fire department, is $1500.

Mr. Irsthing was awakened from a sound sleep by the frantic barking of his pet dog, to discover that the entire front of the house was in flames. Rushing into the room where his wife and two children were asleep, Mr. Irsthing carried them from the burning dwelling by the rear door.

The fire, which, according to the police, who investigated the blaze had its origin from defective wiring, broke out in the front rooms on the first floor of the residence. The dog was asleep, according to Mr. Irsthing, in one of the front rooms and as soon as it discovered the fire ran barking into the room occupied by Mr. Irsthing.

MOTOR RIDE WITH FIANCEE.

PRESIDENT AND MRS. GALT CALL UPON THEIR RELATIVES.

Much Speculation Indulged in as to Who will be the Social Secretary at the White House When Miss Isabella Hagner Leaves to be Married.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 25.—President Wilson and his fiancee, Mrs. Galt, went for a long motor ride again this afternoon. The President and Mrs. Galt are making visits upon each other's relatives, the trip to Emmitsburg made on Saturday being one of those. On Sunday afternoon they walked leisurely up Connecticut avenue to the Cordova apartment-house, where they called upon Mrs. Bolling, mother of Mrs. Galt, and took tea with her.

MISS HAGNER'S SUCCESSOR.

There has been much speculation over the successor to Miss Isabella Hagner as social secretary at the White House, who leaves the first of November to be married later in the month to Herman L. James of Baltimore. Miss Edith Benham, daughter of the late Admiral Benham, is doing some social secretary work for Mrs. Galt just now, which has given rise to the rumor that she will be attached to the White House after the wedding of the President and Mrs. Galt.

Miss Benham acted in this capacity for Mrs. James Bryce, when Mr. Bryce was British Ambassador here, and was secretary for Mrs. Marshall Field, Mrs. Theodore Shonts and the late Mrs. Duncan McKim.

Others mentioned as the possible successor are Miss Catherine Letterman, who was one of the most successful social secretaries and held the position throughout the Taft administration, and Miss Laura Harlan, daughter of the late Supreme Justice Harlan, who has had considerable experience and much success in all social circles.

WILSON ASKS FOR DIVORCE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RENO (Nev.) Oct. 25.—Huntington Wilson, Third Assistant Secretary of State under Elihu Root, and also holdover under the Taft administration, today filed action for divorce from Lucy James Wilson.

Owing to the practice of the County Clerk in keeping the papers from the public, no details of the suit are available. Counsel for Wilson refused to discuss the case.

Wilson, since his retirement from the administration, has resided in Washington. He is regarded as one of the best-informed authorities on international law in the United States. He has resided in Reno for the past six months.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Oct. 25 (via Tuckerton, N. J.)—The Overseas News Agency says:

"The Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung reports that the German government has transmitted through a neutral power its answer to the Russian government's threat to shoot German prisoners of war in districts where dum dum bullets have been used. The German government states that no dum dum bullets have been or will be used by German soldiers. If the Russian government shoots German soldiers under false accusations of using such bullets, Germany will take the most severe reprisals.

"The German government further states that reprisals will be the easier because Russians captured by the Germans have confessed they have used dum dum bullets."

SUPREME COURT CUT OFF.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Jurisdiction of the Supreme Court over bankruptcy cases involving questions of constitutional law was cut off by an act of the last Congress and so were cases involving general bankruptcy questions, according to a decision today by the supreme Court. It refused to take jurisdiction over a case involving a constitutional point.

SPECIALIST IN BOMBS.

German Lieutenant Confesses.

Admits He Came Here Only to Hamper Shipment of Arms to the Allies.

Declares the Imperial Secret Service Thought Well of His Scheme.

A Grave Offense if True, is the Official Washington Verdict.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Details of a plot to hamper the shipment of munitions of war to the allies, by placing clock-worked bombs on the rudders or propellers of ships, so timed that the ships would be disabled on their way across the Atlantic, were disclosed today in the confession of one of five men charged, in a complaint filed with a United States commissioner, with conspiracy to violate a Federal statute.

Following upon the confession of Robert Fay, a lieutenant of the Sixteen Saxony Infantry, who admitted that he came to this country last April through an agreement with the German secret service to blow up or delay steamers laden with war supplies for the allies, William J. Flynn, chief of the secret service, filed tonight before United States Commissioner Houghton, a complaint in which not only Fay, but four other men are charged with promoting the conspiracy. The hearing on the Federal charge was set for November 4.

Fay confessed that while on the battlefield he talked with his superior officers about a device to blow up ships, that later his idea of coming to America and carrying his scheme through was well received by the German secret service, that he came well enough supplied with money to act on his own responsibility and that he talked with Capt. Von Papen, military attache, and Capt. K. Boy-ed, naval attache of the German Embassy, about the plans, but that they refused to have anything to do with it.

The confession of Fay, who said he had been decorated with the Iron Cross for fighting in the Champagne district in France, covers his arrival in the United States on April 23, last, his making of clock-worked bombs since then, and his activities in experimenting with explosives along the Hudson River. Quantities of acid in the room occupied by Fay and Walter L. Scholz in Weehawken, N. J., and boxes each containing 120 pounds of chlorate of potash used in making so-called sugar bombs, in a boathouse on the Hudson, had been found after the arrest of these men on Sunday. Scholz, a brother-in-law of Fay, is a mechanic.

Two other men were arrested today and another, making the fifth, was named in the complaint but he had not been apprehended. The new arrests were Paule Daeche, Jersey City, N. J., who said he was a graduate of Cologne University and came to the United States in 1912.

Dr. Herbert Kienzle, 28 years old, manager of a clock company, charged in the complaint with having aided in procuring explosive materials, used by Fay, was committed to the Tombs for examination on November 4.

Max Breitung, about whose identity no details were disclosed, also was named in the complaint as one of the conspirators. It was stated that Breitung had not been apprehended.

Other information, which he said it would be against public policy to reveal at this time, Chief Flynn declared would be disclosed later. In his complaint to Commissioner Houghton, Chief Flynn stated that Paul Siebs, formerly of the German army, had become a government witness. It was set forth that Siebs had received money from Fay and Breitung for chlorate of potash—on August 15, $112 from Breitung and later $23 from Fay. The chlorate of potash was said to be part of the material found by detectives in the boathouse.

THE LAW.

The men are charged with conspiring to violate a section of the United States Criminal Code, which says:

"Whoever upon the high seas or in any other waters within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States, by surprise, or open force, maliciously attacks or sets upon any vessels belonging to another with an intent unlawfully to plunder the same or to despoil any owner thereof any moneys, goods or merchandise, laden on board thereof, be fined," etc.

Scholz late tonight gave out a statement explaining his actions since coming to this country and his returns with Fay. To Fay he gave all the credit for the idea of the exploding devices to be attached to ships, but said that only an empty mine was ever actually used. Scholz said he came here four years ago from Cologne, where he studied architecture and civil engineering. It was while working on a farm at Waterford last April that he received a request from Fay to come to this city, he said.

"Fay wanted me to do work for him and said he would give me $25 a week," Scholz said in the statement. "Fay told me of his secret to make mines. We made tests of explosives and experiments with the exploding devices. We never attached a loaded mine to any ship. We did attach an empty mine to an English vessel that was loading at this port. It took us ten minutes to do it. All the explosives we had would not explode in their condition. The three bags of public at a very modest price. We have apparently exposed in the Wilshire Gold Mine, with very little development work, over 36,000 tons of $7 to $8 ore in a hole pay shoot of a proven width of many feet.

of the Wilshire Boulevard, again rivaling his first offering of lots in the oulevard Tract

A MILE OF ORE.

For nearly a mile on the surface we can trace its course straight through some of our twelve patented mining claims, and the values as developed under present conditions throughout, as surface conditions strongly indicate, we have indeed a valuable mine.

The Wilshire Gold Mine is not up three and miles from nowhere. Take a Pacific car in the evening from Los Angeles and be on the mine. It is near the town of Bishop, Inyo county, California, on the main highway of the Bishop Creek, the principal tributary to the Los Angeles Aqueduct.

Maybe I make a mistake in feeling certain how near and convenient to Los Angeles. Only distant pastures look green to some Los Angeles men.

A PROVEN MINE.

This is my story, and it is up to you to say whether you wish a more certain profit than I ever offered on the Wilshire Boulevard.' More certain because the proven gold mine the house stands on is largely eliminated. Population, it is said, did favor to Los Angeles, and that favor counts for the rise in real estate values one could have foreseen with certainty when it was bound to flow. On the other hand, with proven gold mine in your hand, with proven ore reserves, there is no more sure of making your gold from the ground as soon as you get enough of the machinery.

GROUND FLOOR PRICE.

The Wilshire Mine is owned by the Pacific Point Consolidated Mines Co. Its present... There is a total issue of 1,000,000 full-paid and non-assessable shares, half treasury. I offer a limited number of my own shares at 45 cents each. This represents a total valuation for the entire property at $225,000—virtually $100,000 already expended on its development.

OVER $200,000 EXPENDED.

In other words, at 45 cents per share you have an absolutely ground-floor proposition in a operating gold mine which has the prospects of developing into one of the greatest, if not the greatest mine in the United States.

If you don't know anything about mining ask some mining man what thinks of a gold mine which has to shoot twenty feet wide of $7 to $8 ore in gold, with the lode showing on the face, of the claims for over a mile, and him that mining conditions as to power and water are ideal, that extraction is sure to 92 per cent., with gross profits of 50 per cent., by oil flotation.

WHY STOCK IS OFFERED.

The next natural question is: Why is Wilshire, if this gold mine is all that I represent, do you offer to sell stock at 45 cents? For the same reason I sold lots on the Boulevard Tract so cheap. I needed the money. I have already cost me thousands of dollars to develop the Wilshire Mine to its present condition. Our 50-ton mill is now working on $8 ore. With only a few more feet of development work we will be able to easily supply a 100-ton mill. With 100 tons of ore exposed now and developed, a 100-ton mill for one year, and enough ore in sight to build it at once. Such a mill would make a profit, on $7 ore, of over $100,000 per year, or 40 per cent. per annum on the capital stock.

You may figure out for yourself what dividends may be expected when we have increased our plant to 500 or 1000 tons per day. It is on the cards.

AVOID VAIN REGRETS.

If you don't wish to have a vain regret that you didn't buy some Wilshire Boulevard corner lots at Rocky Point and buy now, you will buy Wilshire Mine stock and expect to get in at the ground floor.

The stock will no doubt be quickly oversubscribed on the Los Angeles Mining Exchange and the opening price will probably be more than 45 cents. Those who subscribe at 45 cents should soon go to 50 cents, then to 60 cents.

I spend most of my time at the office in the Braly Building in Los Angeles, and for the next few weeks will be glad to meet, there or at the office here, prospective buyers or inquirers.

TAKE THE SECOND CHANCE.

Don't miss this opportunity to get in on the chance at profits like my friends have made on the Wilshire Boulevard Tract. Profit by past experience. The second chance offers is always good.

Yours faithfully,
GAYLORD WILSHIRE.

WHY ITALY ENTERED WAR.

Austria Discloses Secrets of Triple Alliance.

Red Book Shows Concessions Refused by Rome.

Charge of Blackmail is Made in the Communications.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The text of four articles of the secret Triple Alliance, which for thirty years was in force among Germany, Austria-Hungary and Italy, is disclosed in a Red Book issued today by the Austro-Hungarian Ministry of Foreign Affairs through the embassy here. The Red Book deals with the negotiations between Austria-Hungary and Italy which led up to Italy's denunciation of the Triple Alliance and her declaration of war on Austria-Hungary. It is made up for the most part of letters and telegrams exchanged between the Austro-Hungarian Foreign Office and the embassy in Rome, with a few communications from German diplomats. Some of these communications charge Italy with having attempted to blackmail Austria-Hungary.

The Red Book discloses the fact that before the outbreak of the war Italy told Austria her course was likely to precipitate a European conflagration, and also that Austria, before the decisive step against Servia, had received assurances from Germany of her support in case Russia entered the war.

The articles from the Triple Alliance are made public primarily with reference to Austria's contention that Italy was not entitled to the territorial compensation an which she insisted in return for Austria's invasion of Servia, and surely not to "a slice of our own flesh," as this portion of Austria demanded by Italy was characterized. The text of the article follows:

THE AGREEMENT.

"Austria-Hungary and Italy, being desirous solely that the territorial status quo in the Near East be maintained as much as possible, pledge themselves to exert their influence to prevent all territorial modification which may prove detrimental to one or the other of the powers signatory to this treaty. To that end they shall communicate to one another all such information as may be suitable for their mutual enlightenment concerning their own dispositions as well as those of other powers. Should, however, the status quo in the regions of the Balkans or of the Turkish coasts and islands in the Adriatic and Aegean seas in the course of events become impossible, and should Austria-Hungary or Italy be placed under the necessity, either by the action of a third power or otherwise, to modify that status quo by a temporary or permanent occupation on their part, such occupation shall take place only after a previous agreement has been made between the two powers, based on the principle of reciprocal compensation for all advantages, territorial or otherwise, which either of them may obtain beyond the present status quo, a compensation which shall satisfy the legitimate interests and aspirations of both parties."

In reference to Italy's declaration of neutrality early in the war, and her contention that, under the Triple Alliance, she was not obligated to assist Austria and Germany, the following extracts from the treaty are given out:

WAR CONTRACT.

"Article III. If one or two of the high contracting parties should be attacked without direct provocation on their part, and be engaged in war with two or several great powers not signatory to this treaty, the casus foederis shall apply simultaneously to all the high contracting parties.

"Article I. The high contracting parties mutually promise peace and friendship, and shall not enter into any alliance or engagement directed against any one of their respective states.

"They bind themselves to proceed to negotiations on such political and economic questions of a general nature as may arise, and, moreover, promise their mutual support within the scope of their own interests.

"Article IV. In the event that a great power not signatory to this treaty should menace the safety of the states of one of the high contracting parties, and that the menaced party should be forced to make war on that party, the two others bind themselves to observe toward their ally a benevolent neutrality. Each one of them in that case reserves to herself the right to participate in the war if she should consider it appropriate to make common cause with her ally."

ITALY WARNED.

On July 20, 1914, eight days before Austria declared war on Servia, Count Berchtold, then Austro-Hungarian Foreign Minister, telegraphed to Kajetan Merey von Kapos-Mere, then Austro-Hungarian Ambassador at Rome, that the evidence in relation to the assassination of the Austrian Crown Prince, Francis Ferdinand, "as well as the constant subversive Servian agitations carried on for many years past, are likely to compel us to assume a serious attitude in Belgrade." He said Italy should be informed that, should peaceful means fail, the Vienna Cabinet "would not think of inaugurating a war of conquest or of acquiring any Servian territory."

The Austrian Ambassador telegraphed to Count von Berchtold on July 29 that the Italian position concerning territorial compensation fully confirmed his impression that Italy "does not even shrink from attempts at blackmail."

Austria informed Italy on August 2 that the "unjustified Russian mobilization against us and Germany" constituted ample justification for applying the terms of the alliance. Italy in reply, pointed out the perils and sacrifices to which war might expose her and added: "This enormous difference between the perils and sacrifices on the one hand and the advantage on the other is, in fact, the very reason why Austria-Hungary desired a war, which she could easily have avoided, whereas we did all in our power to save Europe from this fearful misfortune."

On August 12, Count von Berchtold telegraphed that Austria had intended to localize the conflict with Servia, and that Germany had supported her in that effort, adding: "We had, it is true, received the assurance from Germany that she would stand by our side if Russia should intervene. Our action against Servia, however, was not aimed at provoking Russia."

ITALY INSISTENT.

Relations between Austria and Italy became steadily more strained. Austria at length agreed to accept the principle of cession of some of her own territory to Italy. A serious hitch occurred over Italy's insistence on immediate cession of such territory. Baron von Burian's final effort to prevent the impending rupture is recorded in this telegram to Baron von Macchio, dated, May 22: "In order to save our respective countries from a senseless war I authorize you to make a final effort with Baron Sonnino and to ask whether he would be prepared to sign the agreement in conformity with the entirety of our last proposal if we met Italy still further in the question of putting the cessions into effect, without, however, conceding immediate military occupation." Italy responded, according to Baron von Macchio, that it was "too late" and a few hours later declared war on Austria.

The main points of Austria's last offer were: Austria offered the parts of the Southern Tyrol, inhabited chiefly by Italians, and certain territories on the west bank of the Isonzo; designation of Triest as a free city; Austria to recognize Italy's unrestricted sovereignty over Avlona and the surrounding sphere; Austria to proclaim her political disinterestedness in the future fate of Albania within the boundaries drawn by the London conference; Italy to maintain absolute neutrality; Italy to indenmify Austria for claims arising fro mcession of territory by the ayment of a lump sum; Germany to guarantee execution of the agreement.

The provision concerning Avlona was inserted with reference to Italy's previous occupation of that Albanian port, a step which was taken notwithstanding Austria's opposition to indeendent action in that territory by Italy. The Austria diplomatic representative at Avlona, in his report to his government intimated that the disorders at Avlona, which were given as a reason for the Italian occupation had been brought on under peculiar circumstances. He said a few shots were fired in the street by "five individuals of no particular importance," without hitting anyone and that some of the disturbers of the peace, on being pursued by the police, fled to the Italian Consulate Several Italians, with their portmanteaux packed, repaired to the Consulate, "where, according to his neighbors, the Consul had been waiting events for some time, despite the early hour."

GRAVE OFFENSE, OFFICIAL VIEW.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—If the State Department determines that Robert Fay is telling the truth in his story to the New York police of how he, a lieutenant in the Germany army, was sent to this country by the German secret service for the purpose of disabling by explosives, steamships leaving American ports for Europe, the matter probably will be made the subject of vigorous representations to the German government.

State Department officials were much interested today in press accounts of the confession, said to have been made to Police Commissioner Woods, and it was said that a report on the case was expected tomorrow from agents of the secret service, who assisted in arresting Fay and his alleged accomplices.

The American government, the officials said, would regard such an action as Fay attributes to the German secret service as an offense against the United States of grave character.

AIR RAID ON VENICE; SCALZI CHURCH HIT.

Roman Newspapers Voice Indignation at Bombardment of the Famous Edifice — Incendiary Shells Used by the Germans—Bomb Falls in the Courtyard of an Almshouse.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ROME (via Paris) Oct. 25, 11:05 p.m.—The Rome newspapers express great indignation at the bombardment of the famous Scalzi Church in Venice and the destruction of the Tiepolo frescoes. The news of the bomb attack on Venice has stirred the people of Rome to an extraordinary degree.

The Giornale d'Italia, in announcing the partial destruction of the edifice, concludes with the hope that "the pious Emperor and his faithful archdukes may be happy that the weight of their wrath has fallen upon the church."

Another air raid on Venice occurred at 8:40 o'clock this morning. Three Austrian aeroplanes dropped several bombs on the city. Three persons were injured slightly. The damage was insignificant.

Teutonic aeroplanes last night made two separate attacks with incendiary bombs on Venice.

One of the bombs fell upon the roof of a church and crushed the ceiling, which was ornamented with sculpture. Another missile fell upon the Piazzetta of the Cathedral of St. Mark and in front of the Ducal Palace.

The text of the statement follows:

"Enemy aeroplanes made two attacks separated by a short interval upon Venice last night, throwing many bombs, some of which were incendiary. The first attack was at about 10 o'clock.

"One bomb fell on the roof of the Church Degli Scalzi. It crushed the ceiling, which was ornamented with beautiful sculptures of Tiepolo. An incendiary bomb fell upon the piazzetta of the Cathedral of St. Mark in front of the Ducal Palace without doing any damage. Five other bombs fell either in canals or upon places in the city where only slight damage was produced.

"The aeroplanes returned at about 11 p.m. One bomb fell in the court of an almshouse and set fire to piles of wood. Two other bombs exploded without doing any damage. No one was hurt."

STRIKERS FEEL A BIT NERVOUS.

Clifton Miners Now Willing to Accept Arbitration.

Owners, However, Stand by Their First Declaration.

Gov. Hunt Makes Light of the Recall Petition.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CLIFTON (Ariz.) Oct. 25.—Mass meetings have been called for tomorrow in Clifton, Morenci and Metcalf to consider a plan of arbitration for settlement of wage differences in the strike of the employees of the Arizona, the Shannon and the Detroit Copper companies.

The meetings are to be held under the auspices of the strikers. All citizens as well as strikers, without regard for union affiliations, have been invited to attend.

Sheriff J. G. Cash today gave out a summary of the strikers' proposition to arbitrate, identical with that announced previously by the committee representing the miners at El Paso. This is expected to be discussed at tomorrow's meeting.

Should the meeting approve the proposition it is planned to submit it by telegraph to the managers of the mines, now at El Paso.

Calling of the mass meetings followed a day of parades through the three camps by strikers.

A mass meeting announced for late today to hear the proposition given by the mine managers to the strikers' committee at the conclusion of their conference last Saturday was called off.

MANAGERS UNCHANGED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Oct. 25.—The proposition to arbitrate wage differences in the strike of the Clifton-Morenci-Metcalf copper mines, to be submitted tomorrow to mass meetings of the strikers and citizens of those camps, for final submission to mine managers, here, formed part of a synopsis prepared by the strikers' committee, but not submitted to the mine managers during the conference last week.

After the conference the strikers' committee explained that the proposition had not been submitted because the managers had, instead, handed them a letter asserting the strikers' committee was influenced by the Western Federation of Miners and containing the following summary and propositions:

"We restate the position taken by us at the previous conference and which position we intend to maintain.

"First, that under no conditions will we consent to be dominated by the Western Federation of Miners under whatever name or title it may assume.

"Second, when the employees have returned to work on the same conditions as existed prior to the strike, and normal conditions have been restored, the companies will be glad to discuss with their employees, as they have been willing to do, any grievances or other questions which the employees wish to take up with the managers."

Mine managers here tonight stated that their position was unchanged.

"I'M NO PIKER," SAYS HUNT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Oct. 25.—Gov. George W. P. Hunt, for whose recall from office petitions were placed in circulation Saturday by H. F. Johnson of Mesa, declared today that "big interests" were behind the movement because his actions did not suit them. The Governor returned to Phoenix today from Antelope Hills, forty miles from Yuma, where he dedicated a bridge.

"They have been trying to recall me ever since I have been in office," Gov. Hunt said. "Every time I have not acted to suit the big interests, they have threatened to recall me. I have no fear of a recall, for what I have done, I did for the best interests of the State."

"The mining officials are behind this recall, and they are the abject tools of a cruel despotism, who are trying to run Arizona," the Governor declared, when asked if he believed his activities in behalf of the striking copper miners at Clifton were responsible in any way for the circulation of the petitions.

"I would be false to the trust imposed in me by the people of the State," Gov. Hunt continued, "if I swerved from my path of duty. I have no fear of anything. I am no piker. I will stay on the firing line until I am called to another land."

Several hundred signatures have been obtained by Mr. Johnson, and it was said tonight that a State-wide circulation of the petitions would be started tomorrow by those interested in the recall movement.

HEAVY FIGHTING AROUND RIGA.

BERLIN, Oct. 25 (via Sayville, N. Y.)—Heavy fighting is still in progress for possession of the Baltic port of Riga. The official report given out here today mentions no further progress for the Germans and indicates that the Russians are now on the offensive on one part of the Riga front.

The statement says Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's troops repulsed Russian attacks southeast of Riga. Russian attacks against positions northwest of Dvinsk which were captured by the Germans on October 23, also were beaten back. The number of prisoners was increased to twenty-two officers and 3705 men. Twelve machine guns and one mine thrower were captured.

Austro-Hungarian troops under Gen. Von Linsingen entered Russian positions over a front of several kilometers to the west of Komarow.

Concerning the western front the statement says that after a heavy preparatory artillery bombardment the French attacked near Tahure and north of Le Mesnil, and were repulsed with heavy losses.

POSTAL MEN TO JOIN ARMY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The postoffice has taken the lead among departments of the government in releasing men for the army. At a specially-convened meeting of postal employees today Herbert Samuel, the Postmaster-General, announced he had decided that every eligible man should be free to enlist, and that their places would be kept open for them.

CORN-COBB NUPTIALS.

Groom Expects to Shell Out for Little Nubbins the Rest of His Life.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

EL PASO, Oct. 25.—Miss Jessie Margaret Corn and Stanley Duncan Cobb were married at high noon today at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Corn, on North Santa Fe street. When Cobb went to the clerk of records office to get the marriage license the clerk refused to issue it thinking it was a practical joke. It was not until the bride's mother insisted that the Corn-Cobb wedding was on the level that the license was issued. Cobb shelled out for the license and said he expected to be shelling out for Mrs. Cobb and the little nubbings the rest of his life.

MAKES PASSPORTS HARDER TO GET.

STATE DEPARTMENT ISSUES NEW REGULATIONS COVERING NEWSPAPER MEN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—A new policy was announced tonight by the State Department with reference to the issuance of American passports to writers who intend to visit the war zones of Europe. Every effort is to be made to prevent the misuse of the American passport for unneutral purposes. The text of the announcement follows:

"The number of newspaper writers who have applied for passports has caused the department to rule that hereafter it will issue passports to writers who contemplate visiting belligerent countries only when they are regularly accredited to the department by responsible journals or recognized press associations.

"The department will not issue passports to individuals who are paid or expect to be paid by the agents of foreign governments for matter which they may publish.

"Before issuing passports to writers the department must be assured that their purposes are of a neutral character.

NOTE TO BRITAIN IS UNFINISHED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—President Wilson still had under consideration today the long note to Great Britain concerning the interference with American trade. Officials were unable to predict when the communication would be discussed. It has been before the President two weeks and prior to that was in the process of preparation for several months.

BRITISHER GUILTY OF ESPIONAGE.

BRYCE SPEAKS OF MASSACRES.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Viscount Bryce, the former British Ambassador at Washington, speaking at Manchester today in condemnation of the Armenian massacres, said:

"The Turkish government made up its mind immediately after the war started to destroy the whole Armenian populace. It was avowed by some members of the Turkish government that their motive was to insure that there should not be any element throughout the country which was not Mohammedan. Fanaticism had nothing to do with it.

The Turkish government feared to begin its sanguinary work until April, when the course of the war convinced them that they could embark upon their bloody work secure from interference."

No other incident connected with the war, declared Mr. Bryce, could compare in magnitude with the horrors of the Armenian massacres. But protests now accomplish nothing. All the English people could do was to send all the help possible to the Armenian refugees.

Missionary Society Elects Officers for Next Year.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Oct. 25.—A resolution to place the National Council of Congregational Churches on record against a militaristic policy in the United States was referred to a special committee tonight before the council adjourned until Wednesday, when a report is expected.

This action followed an all-day discussion of the wording of the proposed resolution. When finally a draft prepared by the Rev. Dr. C. F. Carter of Hartford, Ct., seemed assured of adoption, the Rev. F. N. White of Walla Walla, Wash., proposed that it be sent to the Business Committee.

President S. B. L. Penrose of Whitman College, Washington, preferred a special committee and his point was carried, 153 to 50.

MISSIONARIES ELECT.

The proceedings of the day included the biennial meeting of the American Missionary Association. President H. C. King of Oberlin College was re-elected president; Rev. W. F. Blackman, Winter Park, Fla.; Rev. H. P. Dewey, Minneapolis; Samuel O. Prentice, Hartford, Ct.; Rev. F. J. Van Horn, Oakland, Cal., and Rev. S. H. Woodrow, St. Louis, vice-presidents; Rev. F. Q. Blanchard, Cleveland; W. S. Maddox, New York City, and Rev. P. S. Moxam, Springfield, Mass., Executive Committee; Rev. Asher Anderson, Fitchburg, Mass., recording secretary, and I. C. Gaylord, treasurer.

A list of sixty corporate members was adopted under changes in the constitution, twenty to serve each six, four and two years. An incident was the declination of Rev. G. G. Atkins of Providence, to serve, so that Rev. Dr. H. H. Proctor of Atlanta could be named, the first negro, it is thought, to be a corporate member of the body.

WHAT DEFENSE MEANS.

When the Jefferson anti-preparedness resolution came up for discussion late this afternoon, Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden of Columbus, O., the committee chairman, indorsed it.

Rev. C. E. Vincent of Washington, D. C., also spoke in favor of the resolution. He said he had been told upon good authority that it would take the European nations now at war sixty or seventy years to get on their feet after the conflict ends.

"In the meantime," he said, "our country will have become 200,000,000 in population. If we destroy the saloon, spend its money educating those who come here up to American ideals and build up moral character, no nation will have a quarrel with us."

Moderator Beardslee offered an amendment to the effect that the Executive Committee be directed to communicate with committees or heads of Protestant, Catholic and Jewish churches, to secure such attitude of our political parties and of the governments of the world, "as shall bring about peace and secure its maintenance."

Mr. Beardslee said that the underlying Christian sentiment in the country should have something to say about what goes into the platforms of the political parties at their conventions next year.

CHURCH UNITY.

Rev. Roy B. Guild made a report on church unity, and the recommendation of the commission that negotiations looking to organic union with other bodies be continued, was adopted.

Members of all the standing committees which have not been affected by consolidations were elected. The chairmen are:

On Evangelism, Rev. O. S. Davis, Chicago; on social service, Rev. C. R. Brown, New Haven; on religious and moral education, Prof. B. S. Winchester, New Haven; on comity, federation and union, Rev. Raymond Calkins, Cambridge, Mass.; on temperance, Rev. Dr. C. F. Vincent, Washington, D. C.

The Public Worship Committee was reappointed to complete its duties with the understanding that its functions will go to the Commission on Religious Education.

Delegates to the Federal Council were chosen, headed by Moderator H. M. Beardslee. These corporate members of the council were elected:

Epaphroditus Peck, Connecticut; E. M. Bassett, New York; F. G. Harwood, Wisconsin; E. K. Warner, Michigan; W. H. Catlin, Connecticut; G. L. Dunham, Vermont; J. C. Gray, Massachusetts.

MEXICO FINDS NEW DEFENDER.

REV. O. W. E. COOK INTIMATES WE ARE TO BLAME FOR THE WAR DOWN THERE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 25.—Charles G. Trumbull, editor of the Sunday-school Times, and Rev. George Innes, both of Philadelphia, were the principal speakers tonight at the convention of the Laymen's Missionary Movement.

At the afternoon session, addresses were made by Frank J. Cannon, former United States Senator from Utah, but now living in Denver, and the Rev. O. W. E. Cook, the latter speaking in defense of Mexico.

"If the United States had been developing peace as it has been developing industry, Mexico would be a peaceful country today," declared the Rev. Mr. Cook. "If you say that Carranza is arrogant and go and find fault with the Mexican, I want to stand here and plead his cause because we, as Americans, have been untrue to our trust; we have not presented an attitude of brotherliness and helpfulness."

THREAT MADE TO THE BELGIANS TO FORESTALL ALLIED AIR RAIDS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

AMSTERDAM (via London) Oct. 25, 5:21 p.m.—Gen. von Bissing, the German Governor-General of Belgium, has issued a proclamation, according to a Brussels dispatch to the Telegraph, accusing the inhabitants of that city of notifying the enemy forces of the location of buildings in which German troops are housed, thus causing many air raids. If the raids continue, says the proclamation, the troops will be quartered in the homes of the civilians, contrary to the agreement heretofore made.

Similar steps will be taken if hereafter arms and ammunition are found in the possession of the residents of Brussels.

NEW OPPOSITION TO CONSCRIPTION.

MANIFESTO BY MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT ISSUED AT LONDON.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 25, 7:20 p.m.—A manifesto opposing conscription has been issued by a comparatively small number of members of Parliament.

Among the reasons given for such opposition, is that the compulsory system would so deplete the ranks of the industrial workers that Great Britain would be unable to meet her obligations assumed in behalf of the allies to supply them with stores of munitions and give them substantial financial help.

It is further declared that compulsion would arouse bitter opposition among the workmen and irretrievably destroy national unity, which is essential to the successful prosecution of the war.

The manifesto is signed by the Right Hon. Charles E. H. Hobhouse, a former member of the British Cabinet, as chairman; Percy Alden, Liberal member for the Tottenham division of Middlesex, who has written much on the question of the unemployed, as vice-chairman, and John Howard Whitehouse, Liberal member for Mid-Lanarkshire, also identified with labor reforms, as secretary.

WILSON SURE OF VICTORY.

President Says Defense Bill will go Through.

Influential Leaders Favor Administration Plans.

Storm Looms up as the Only Disturber in Sight.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 25.—As a result of his conferences with leaders in the House and Senate President Wilson became convinced today that he will be able to put through the programme for national defense at the next session of Congress.

The President has conferred with various leaders, especially those who in the past have led the Democratic opposition to increases in the army and navy, and believes that he has at last won them to the cause of preparedness.

BRYAN A DISTURBER.

There are still three large factors of some doubt as to the realization of the President's hopes. One is the fight which William Jennings Bryan will establish in Washington immediately after the opening of Congress, and he will use all his personal influence to enlist his followers in the House and Senate under the banner of unpreparedness. The second doubtful factor is the belief of a number of those whom the President has won over that he will be able to get his side that a bond issue will not be necessary. Unless bonds are issued there can be no national defense because the government already is facing a deficit of $100,000,000. If the supposed supporters of the administration's programme are going to insist that bonds shall not be issued, the programme itself is likely to fail. A third doubtful factor is the proposed Democratic caucus, which those who are secretly opposed to military preparedness will be able to manipulate the programme without incurring President Wilson in the

HAY JOINS WILSON.

President Wilson, however, was much encouraged today by his interview with Chairman James Hay, of the House Committee on Military Affairs. He assured the President that he would give hearty support to the administration army bill.

The announcement was received with gratification because of the free-ly circulated report to the effect that Mr. Hay would not support it, and because Mr. Hay himself in a previous interview with the President, had appeared noncommittal. Following his talk with the latter, Congressman Hay said:

"After a careful study of the army plans I can say that it will receive my hearty support. I will make every effort to put it through, for I believe it is a reasonable and conservative programme.

"It is probable that the measure will be introduced in the House immediately after Congress convenes and will be considered in my committee for not a month or six weeks. I shall expedite its passage as much as possible.

"It is probable that I shall introduce a new bill of my own to provide a dual system of militia pay, which may say for me that the organized militia will be well taken care of. My pay scheme will provide that the pay to the State, forces during military encampments of from 10 to 15 per cent. of the regular army pay.

EVERYBODY OPTIMISTIC.

It was known that Chairman Hay, after conference with the President today, declared himself for the administration military programme, was received with keen satisfaction about the War Department. It had been feared in many quarters that Mr. Hay, who is influential, would fight the programme and thus make it the easier for the Bryan forces to make trouble. The rapidity with which Democratic leaders of both Houses are lining up for the administration programme leads to the impression at the War Department that comprehensive legislation will be obtained.

"It is well known that the administration programme comes far from meeting the wishes of many of the army officers. Still, it is recognized as a long step in advance, even by the most progressive of the army men. The War Department has heard little of opposition to the programme from the National Guard unless it be that it considered better treatment. Mutterings of trouble have come to army officers. The declaration of Mr. Hay that the militia pay bill will be presented and the National Guard taken care of is looked on by army men as meaning the National Guard will not oppose the programme.

It's Snowing in the North, Cooler in the Middle West and Warm in the Atlantic States.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 25.—Eastern States, the lakes region and the Ohio Valley were warmer today, but the Middle West and Northwest were colder than yesterday. Chicago had a maximum of 64 deg. and a twenty-mile west wind. Florida, Louisiana and North Dakota had appreciable rains, but the rest of the country was clear and dry except drizzles on the far northwest coast. Winnipeg had more than a half-inch of snow. AMERICANS CANNOT LAND.

British Announce They Will Allow no More Young Men to Enlist in the Army.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—So many adventurous young Americans have been working their way across the Atlantic on the horse and mule transports with the purpose of enlisting in the British army that the British embassy here gave notice today that hereafter such persons would not be allowed to land on British soil.

Many of these Americans have been under age, and in some instances their parents have secured their discharge from the British army and return to the United States through representations by the State Department.

In the future any Americans reaching British ports as hostlers will be required to continue in the same service or return home.

R. V. K. WELLINGTON KOO IS NEW CHINESE MINISTER.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE.]

PEKING, Oct. 25.—President Yuan Shi Kai today announced the appointment of Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, Minister to Mexico, Peru and Cuba, to be Chinese Minister to the United States in succession to Kai Fu Shah, who is recalled to Peking.

WASHINGTON PLEASED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The United States government has been officially advised of the intention of China to send Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo to Washington as Minister in succession to Kai Fu Shah, who is being recalled. Today's announcement from China followed receipt of word there by the American Minister Reinsch that the American government would be pleased to receive Dr. Koo.

The change in ministers is considered of much significance. Dr. Koo was a protege of President Yuan Shi Kai and for years was his private secretary and interpreter. Since the dismissal of Sun Pao Chi from the office of Foreign Affairs it has been generally understood that his friend, Kai Fu Shah, the present Minister also would resign. There have been intimations, too, that the latter would be recalled, because, it was alleged, he did not furnish comprehensive reports of the state of American public opinion or take an active part in the peace parleys here in connection with the recent Japanese-Chinese negotiations. So far as the Washington government is concerned, however, Kai Fu Shah's presence here has been contemptable.

Dr. Koo, who spent many years at Columbia University, where a master of arts degree and doctor of philosophy, is taken to indicate a desire on the part of President Yuan Shi Kai not only to have in the United States a personal representative conversant with American customs and diplomacy, but to be prepared in the event the European powers ultimately accept American mediation in the war to have the interests of China here in the hands of one thoroughly familiar with China's aims and aspirations. Dr. Koo is understood also to be sympathetic with the proposed change of China from a republic to a parliamentary monarchy. He took an active part in the recent Japanese-Chinese negotiations in Peking. As Undersecretary of the Chinese Foreign Office he was one of the commission that conducted the parleys with the Japanese Minister, and is credited with having written much of China's reply to the Japanese ultimatum.

The prospective Minister to the United States is under 30 years of age and speaks English perfectly. He made a brilliant record in Columbia University, being elected to the Phi Beta Kappa Society for scholarship.

GRADUATE OF COLUMBIA.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Dr. Wellington Koo came to Washington recently to get information on the Mexican situation, prior to departing for Mexico City, to which place he had been named as the Chinese Minister.

Dr. Koo was an undersecretary in the Chinese Foreign Office until recently, and as such was a member of a diplomatic commission which conducted the negotiations in Peking with the Japanese Minister. He speaks English perfectly and is a graduate of Columbia University, where he received his doctorate.

Dr. Koo is a close friend of President Yuan Shi Kai.

Railroad Record.

HOW A RIVAL WAS CRUSHED.

Mellen Reveals Methods Used by the New Haven.

New England Road Practically Knocked Out.

Forced Other Lines to Join in Traffic Agreements.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Letters to and from Charles S. Mellen, which he identified for the jury today in the trial o fthe eleven New York, New Haven and Hartford directors on the charge of monopolizing New England's transportation traffic, furnished written evidence of the steps taken by the New Haven road to crush its principal competitor, the New England Railroad Company.

The letters, dating back to 1893 and 1894, set forth the action taken by the New Haven to require the prepayment of freight charges by the New England on traffic interchanged between the two roads at connecting points, and the steps taken to induce the trunk line railroads outside of New England to route their traffic over the New Haven instead of over the New England road, which had connected with them by way of the Poughkeepsie bridge over the Hudson River.

"Your whole intention seem to be to drive us out of business, if you can," wrote H. C. Randolph, then general traffic manager of the New England, to Mr. Mellen in protesting against the requirement for the repayment of freight charges. This was at a time when the witness had previously testified, the New England's finances were on the "ragged edge."

"Was that prepayment rule applied to the other roads?" asked Frank L. Swacker, the examining attorney for the government.

"Well, that was so long ago that I don't remember," replied the witness. It is the government's contention that the rule was devised for the sole purpose of injuring the New England.

OPEN HOSTILITY.

The New Haven, subsequent letters revealed, had a traffic arrangement with the Pennsylvania Railroad for its through freight in and out of New England and began negotiations with the Lehigh Valley, the Jersey Central, the Reading and the Baltimore and Ohio to get their business also, but only on condition that they should cease sending it by the New England road's route. To this, it was apparent in one letter, the Pennsylvania protested, whereupon Mr. Mellen, as vice-president in charge of traffic, wrote to Charles P. Clark, at that time president of the New Haven, on January 25, 1894:

"This business is coming in by the lines of our bitterest antagonist. The Pennsylvania is our favored connection, first, last and all the time, but we should not be obliged to forego business that helps us, weakens our antagonist and does no harm to them (the Pennsylvania)."

IGNORANT OF BUSINESS.

"The business referred to," explained Mr. Mellen, in his testimony, "was the New England's business via the Poughkeepsie bridge. I was trying to get it transferred to our line. That was what I was paid for and in my ignorance of the way things ought to be done, that is what I did."

Subsequent letters showed that the roads mentioned agreed to give up their Poughkeepsie Bridge route and that arrangements were made for Long Island Sound steamboat connections with them as well. The Reading, it appeared, was the last to come into the arrangement. Mr. Mellen wrote that he was willing to let the Reading in "as soon as it is willing to become exclusively our line into New England."

MORE MILEAGE OF THE ESPEE.

ANNUAL REPORT OF ROAD IS SUBMITTED BY DIRECTORS.

Despite Unsettled Conditions Due to the War Early in the Year, Earnings Show but a Slight Falling Off—Mexican Damage is One and a Half Million Dollars.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 25.—The Southern Pacific Company today made public its annual report for the year ending June 30 last. It now has the unprecedented number of 32,985 stockholders.

The total miles of road operated are 10,587, which is an increase of 110 miles over last year. Additions in second track were forty-five miles and in sidings forty-nine miles.

The principal addition on the Coast was from Susanville, Nev., to Westwood, Cal., thirty and one-third miles, opened for traffic September 1, 1914.

The gross revenue of the company reflects business conditions in the territory served, showing a decrease of $8,654,000, compared with the preceding year, or 6 1-4 per cent. Total operating revenues were $129,865,000. Operating expenses were cut in even slightly greater percentage, being $87,754,000, against $93,662,000 last year, or a decrease of over $5,900,000. After taxes the total operating income showed a decrease of $2,006,000. There were considerable increases in the nonoperating income, with the final result that the net income for the year, after deducting all interest charges, was $20,570,000, against $21,258,000 the preceding year, a loss of $688,000.

After the sinking and other reserve funds were taken care of the company had $19,630,595 to carry to profit and loss, or $821,621 less than last year. It thus earned an outstanding capital stock 7 2-10 per cent., as against 7½ per cent. last year, out of which it had to pay its dividends and take care of any expenses for which funds were not otherwise raised.

It is stated that the interest on the $39,000,000 advanced to the Southern Pacific Railroad of Mexico for constructing lines in Mexico is not taken into the income of the Southern Pacific Company.

STEAMSHIP AND OIL STOCK.

The statement shows that the Southern Pacific Company owns 55 4-10 per cent. of the capital stock of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, about to be dissolved, and a little over one-half of the Associated Oil Company. The Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company and the Sunset Railway Company are owned equally by the Southern Pacific Company and the Santa Fe.

The funded debt of the Southern Pacific Company and proprietary companies was increased $3,832,000 during the year, representing part of the money invested in extensions, additions and betterments, equipment, new stations, etc.

The capital stock of the Southern Pacific Company is stated at $272,672,465, or $2000 more than last year. Its current accounts payable, including unmatured interest and unmatured dividends declared about equaled the cash on hand.

BETTERMENTS.

Principal additions and betterments during the year included the two new passenger stations at San Francisco and Los Angeles, and smaller stations at Sisson and Richmond. Machine shops at Watsonville were finished and new turntables installed at Los Angeles. A number of new steel girder span bridges were constructed. Among unusual improvements there are concrete sea walls, one 545 feet long, at Honda, Cal., and one 653 feet long at Conception, Cal.

On the revenue side, freight decreased $5,844,000 and passenger $3,550,000. The statement to the stockholders shows that the Panama Canal, opened a year ago, cut the gross revenues of the lines very considerably. It is further stated that the general unfavorable conditions have affected both business and pleasure travel, and that this reduction has been increased by serious inroads made by automobile competition. It is stated that increased earnings from the exposition travel was not sufficient before June 30 to affect materially the general results. It is, however, remarked that the net decrease in operating revenues of the company is less than the average percentage of reduction in the earnings of large railroad systems reporting to the Interstate Commerce Commission. Encouragement is held out to the stockholders that rates have been readjusted to check the diversion of traffic to the canal; normal conditions in mining industry have been restored; since July 1 the exposition travel has substantially added passenger revenues. It is further stated that there is prospect for improved earnings during the coming fiscal year.

EXTRA EXPENSES.

Fuel increased in price $765,000 during the year. Higher wage schedules caused an increase of $37,400, and $75,000 was charged to valuation expenses, and there was an increase of $1,240,000 in equipment depreciation and retirements to comply with Interstate Commerce Commission new classification. Otherwise if it had not been for these items, marked economies made in operations would have offset the loss in gross revenue.

Particular attention is shown to the results of the "safety-first" efforts. In six years and eleven months only one passenger has been killed, during which period 282,719,000 passengers were carried, and these on an average of only forty-two miles each. The number of employees killed dropped from twenty in 1908 to six in 1915, the minimum number.

The report states that in the Central Pacific case, which the government is attempting to separate from the Southern Pacific Company, testimony has been taken and the case fixed for argument on December 1, next.

The report expresses its confidence in the validity of the company's title to its oil lands, and points out that the government has re-established the title of the company to the land grants in Oregon, putting it up to Congress not only to provide by legislation for disposition of the land, but at the same time to secure to the Southern Pacific Company the value of the granting acts upon the railroad.

It is stated that the Pacific Mail Company, control of which was owned by the Southern Pacific Company, went out of business because it could not continue operations under terms of the La Follette act without incurring heavy losses. Increased expenses of its trans-Pacific fleet alone would be $641,000 per annum. The report states that the stockholders of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company realized that they could not obey this act and exist and therefore liquidated it.

MEXICAN LOSSES.

The company lost through depredations of their railway in Mexico during five years $1,562,000. Mexico owes it in addition about $2,500,000 more.

The deaths of Gen. Thomas H. Hubbard, a director, and Mr. H. A. Jones, assistant treasurer, are announced with an expression of sorrow.

Of the total freight traffic tonnage nearly 22 per cent. was for the products of agriculture, of which fruits and vegetables contributed an item of 8 per cent. Products of animals, including live stock, was only 3 per cent. of the total, while products of mines, a large item of tonnage, was nearly 28½ per cent. Products of forests were 15 8-10 per cent., while manufacturers of all kinds contributed a little more than 14 per cent.

Nearly 26 per cent. of the total mileage is laid with ninety-pound rail and 22 per cent. with eighty-pound rail. A chief item is seventy-five and seventy-six-pound rail of 27 per cent.

The company owns sixty-seven steamships, tugs, steam barges and eighty other barges, floats, etc. It had 2046 locomotives, a net increase of twenty-five during the year, having an average weight on the drivers of eighty-five tons. It owned 2487 passenger, mail and baggage cars, an increase of seventeen during the year. Of these cars 1039 are all steel. It owned 51,196 freight cars, a decrease of about 3000 compared with the previous year, due to certain cars being retired from the service.

PLEADS FOR ARMENIANS.

Persian Consul Asks United States to End the Slaughter Started by the Turks.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—H. H. Topakyan, Persian Consul-General to the United States, submitted to Secretary Lansing today an appeal urging that the United States government do everything in its power to bring an end to slaughter and persecution of Armenians by the Turks.

Mr. Topakyan said he had received news that among the slain Armenians were many of his own relatives. In the memorandum he gave to Secretary Lansing he declared that the uprisings against the Christian Armenians had resulted in 500,000 persons being driven from their homes, tortured or murdered. How many had been slain he said it was still impossible to estimate. Thousands, he declared, who had taken refuge in Egypt and Asia Minor, were facing starvation.

Secretary Lansing assured Mr. Topakyan that President Wilson had taken keen interest in the Armenian situation and that the government was doing all it possibly could under the circumstances.

THIRTEEN DIE IN FACTORY FIRE

Girl Employees Trapped in a Pittsburgh Building.

Many Charred Bodies Found Huddled in One Room.

All Escape Shut off When the Doors are Closed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Oct. 25.—Thirteen persons were killed and eight injured by a fire in a four-story building, the two upper floors of which were occupied by the Union Paper Box Company, on the North Side, here this afternoon. Of the dead all were young women employed by the company except one. Mayor Joseph G. Armstrong at once ordered that the police, City Council and the Coroner make thorough investigation of the fire.

The flames started in a pile of straw in the rear of the feed store of James Brown & Company, and the first floor of the building. William C. Kimbel, general manager of the box factory, at once went to the third and fourth floors and warned the girls employed there. The flames gained headway so rapidly, however, that escape by means of stairways and fire escapes was soon cut off. Some of the girls attempted to go to the dressing-room for their hats and there huddled on the floor firemen found a majority of the bodies.

Joseph L. Bash and A. J. Seagle, employed on the second floor of the building, were about to jump when they were attracted by screams of girls in the window above. The men told the girls to jump. One by one as the girl leaped, Bash and Seagle caught them, lowered them as far as they could and then let them drop to the sidewalk.

C. R. Carlisle, driver of a transfer wagon, drove his wagon into an alley in the rear of the building and threw up a rope to girls in a window above. Making one end fast, they slid down the rope to safety.

Margaret Steigerwald, aged 17, who was injured by jumping from a third floor window, said she and five other girls were trapped in the building when somebody closed a door at the head of the stairway on the second floor.

"We got our wraps and started down the stairway," said Miss Steigerwald. "As we reached the second floor some person closed the door at the head of the stairway and we were trapped. We tried to open the door without success and then we started back to the third floor. By that time the third floor was filled with smoke. We made for the windows. One girl pushed me away from a window and I was the last to jump."

An attempt of a man to make moving pictures of the removal of bodies from the building was stopped by the police.

A HERO.

One of the heroes of the fire was Peter Vallon, who is among the dead. When the fire was discovered he was working in the building. He groped his way to the street, where he heard the girls calling for help from the upper floors. Tying a handkerchief about his mouth, he rushed into the building. Six times Vallon staggered to the street with the unconscious form of a girl in his arms. When he failed to appear the seventh time, however, firemen began a search and found his body on the second floor. Near him lay the body of a young girl whom he evidently had tried to rescue when overcome by smoke.

Francis Feehan, supervising inspector of the State Department of Labor and Industry, made an examination of the building after the fire. He asserted that fire escapes were inadequate.

When Health is Wrong The Pay is Short

Getting ahead in this world calls for mental and physical forces kept upbuilt and in trim.

Often the food one eats "makes" or "breaks"—it depends upon the kind of food. In many cases the daily dietary lacks certain essential elements for keeping brain and body at their best.

Over 18 years ago a food was perfected to offset this lack—

Grape Nuts

—and it has stood the test of the years.

Made of whole wheat and malted barley, this famous pure food supplies all the nutriment of the grains, including their mineral salts—Phosphate of Potash, etc.—necessary for building brain, nerve and muscle.

Grape-Nuts has a delicious nut-like flavor; is always ready to eat—fresh, and crisp from the package; so thoroughly baked it is partially predigested.

Well Nourished Babies

Selection of Right Food First Essential for Healthy Children.

Well nourished babies show results in chubby bodies, strong limbs and rosy cheeks; they have absorbed the nutriment in their food.

No food is better for babies than a good Malted Milk. We say a good Malted Milk advisedly, because there are different qualities of this, as well as of most everything else.

Every one using or about to use Malted Milk will be interested to know that at the San Francisco Exposition The Grand Prize (highest possible award) was granted to that world-famous brand known as "Borden's Malted Milk in The Square Package."

Borden's is a simple combination of cereals and milk, in which the cheesy part of the milk is so treated that it will not form heavy curds—while the cereals are freed from starch, that element so dangerous to babies. It contains no sugar, but the natural milk sugar and that derived from the cereals. Try it today and watch your baby thrive.

Borden's Malted Milk is also good for grown-ups—for the sick and the well alike. You can obtain it at all good druggists. But be sure it's Borden's—in the Square Package.

TOM EDISON AS A BIG BOY.

Inventor Reviews a Parade of the School Children.

Greatest Thing Ever Happened Him is His Verdict.

Aviator Niles's Nose Broken While Making Landing.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—For two hours today Thomas A. Edison stood in the Court of the Universe at the Panama-Pacific Exposition reviewing a procession of school children from four counties who paraded in his honor. A glimpse of the inventor was their reward.

When the last child had passed the reviewing stand Mr. Edison turned to his wife. "It was the greatest thing that ever happened to me," he said. Mr. Edison was then escorted to the California Building, where several hundred children not physically able to take part in the parade awaited him.

During the parade 2000 children were assembled in the court and sang patriotic songs, while those in line filed by the inventor and a group of his friends and school and exposition officials. Luther Burbank, the naturalist, and Victor Herbert, the composer, also viewed the procession.

The children were from Marin, Alameda, San Mateo and San Francisco counties. The first ones in line were from the Edison public school of San Francisco.

Mr. Edison waved one hand at the children until it was tired and then he waved the other. Medals, essays and various other gifts from the children were handed to Mr. Edison. Mrs. Edison took charge of the gifts.

"I never saw Mr. Edison appear happier," said Mrs. Edison. "You know, he just seems like a great big boy himself."

Charles Niles, an aviator, had his nose broken when he made a bad landing in the presence of the school children. Niles's aeroplane rolled over and Niles fell out when he unstrapped himself.

LE MONN IS SENTENCED.

Los Angeles Man and Five Others Go to Prison for Using the Mails to Defraud.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 25.—Six officers and salesmen of the defunct United States Cashier Company, who recently were found guilty of using the mails to defraud, were sentenced today in the United States Court to terms varying from one year and ten days in the Federal penitentiary to four months in jail.

Frank Menefee of Portland, president, and F. M. Le Monn of Los Angeles, sales manager, each were sentenced to one year and ten days in the McNeil Island penitentiary. Four others were given jail terms of four months each. All but Le Monn announced that they would appeal. He said he would accept sentence.

The defendants were indicted nearly two years ago on the charge of violating the postal fraud statute in selling stock of the company. It was alleged that the stock did not have the value represented and that hundreds of persons throughout the United States were defrauded of nearly $1,000,000.

Lime Medication in Tuberculosis

In the N. Y. Medical Record of December 5, 1914, Dr. John North of Toledo says: "I have come to the conclusion that one of the most prominent causes (of tuberculosis) is 'lime starvation.' In all cases of incipient tuberculosis there is a deficiency of calcium. Many do not eat food containing enough lime. In such cases we must resort to lime medication."

Eckman's Alterative should be given a fair trial in such cases, because one of its chief ingredients is calcium (lime), in such combination with other remedial agents as to be easily assimilated by the average person.

Where its use is combined with proper diet, fresh air and hygienic conditions, we believe it will prove beneficial in any case of tuberculosis.

It contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, so is safe to try.

BANKER DE MARTINI ARRESTED.

San Ramon Valley Assistant Cashier is Accused of Felony Embezzlement of $5400.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OAKLAND, Oct. 25.—John H. de Martini, assistant cashier of the Danville branch of the San Ramon Valley Bank, was arrested tonight on a warrant sworn to by N. S. Boone, president of the bank, charging felony embezzlement.

According to President Boone, $5400 of the bank's funds disappeared from the vault some time between closing time Saturday, October 16, and Monday morning, October 18. The vault had not been tampered with and as DeMartini was said to have been the last person to leave the bank Saturday, he was held responsible.

DeMartini was released on $10,000 bail.

DECLARES ALIENS MAY COME IN.

SUPREME COURT TAKES POWER OF ADMISSION FROM IMMIGRATION OFFICERS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Immigration officials were today shorn by the Supreme Court of the power of excluding aliens because, in their opinion, commercial depression at the place of destination might cause the aliens to become public charges. Some Russian immigrants destined to Portland, Or., were ordered released from custody in which they were held for deportation. The decision reverses a policy of the immigration service.

"The immigration law deals with admission to the United States and not to Portland," said Justice Holmes. "It would be an amazing argument for immigration officials to refuse admission to the United States because the labor market in the United States was overburdened, and yet that would be more reasonable than refusal to admit because of depressed conditions in one city."

Pittsburgh Man Admits He Feloniously Assaulted T. F. Schneider, His Wealthy Father-in-Law.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 25.—Thomas G. Forney, indicted in connection with an attack upon his father-in-law, T. Franklin Schneider of Washington, D. C., a millionaire candy manufacturer, in a hotel here last June, today pleaded guilty of felonious assault and battery and conspiracy and made no defense to a charge of entering a building to commit a felony. He was remanded to jail and will be sentenced after H. C. Carlisle and William Bowers, also of Washington, have been tried on similar charges.

BRITISH STEAMER CARRIES POWDER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—The British steamer Llangorse sailed from here today under sealed orders given the captain by A. Carnegie Ross, British Consul, at the expiration of a forty-eight-hour stay allowed the vessel as a belligerent. The usual twenty-four-hour limit was extended because Sunday was not counted. She had powder on board.

Railway employees were bribed to give preference to the consignment of water."

BOY ADMITS MURDER.

Charles Wipham Tells Chicago Police He and Another Youth Killed Joseph Osborne, a Recluse.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Charles Mack Wipham, 16 years old, confessed today, the police say, that he helped Joseph Merrick, also 16 years old, to kill Joseph Osborne, an aged recluse, who was found murdered in his shack in a Chicago suburb last Wednesday night. Merrick denied implication in the murder. According to the story the police say Wipham told them, the murder was the culmination of an attempted robbery which precipitated a fight.

STRIKERS LOSE AGAIN.

Conditions in Eastern Railroad Sheds Where Freight Handlers Went out are Again Normal.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, Oct. 25.—Efforts of Mayor Curley to stop the strike of 1500 freight handlers failed today, officials of the New York, New Haven & Hartford, the Boston & Albany, and the Boston & Maine railroads refusing to enter a conference with their former employees. The strikers stated that they were willing to submit their demands for wage increase and reduced working hours to arbitration.

The roads announced tonight that the conditions in their freight sheds were again normal.

OIL OPERATORS SEEK RELIEF

Organization Formed to Combat Taft Withdrawal.

Campaign Fund of Hundred Thousand to be Raised.

Three Los Angeles Men Among Officers Elected.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—Representatives of oil and financial interests met today for organization of an oil industry association, with the announced purpose of conducting an educational campaign to obtain immediate relief from Congress for oil producers affected by the Taft withdrawal order of 1909 and the consequent Congressional action.

It was announced that 300 of the corporations had agreed to co-operate and that a fund of $100,000 would be raised to carry on the work.

The following officers were elected: President, Roy N. Bishop, San Francisco; secretary, L. E. Thacker, Oakland; treasurer, Herbert Fleishhacker, San Francisco; and for members of the Executive Committee Thomas O'Donnell, Daniel Murphy and W. Valentine of Los Angeles, A. Schultz and W. O. Maxwell of Taft, W. A. Barneburg of San Luis Obispo and five members from San Francisco and surrounding cities.

In order to secure the funds necessary for the promotion of the campaign, the fee for active membership in the association was set at $100 for individual operators and companies. Smaller fees were arranged for associate membership and it was stated that enough applications were on hand to assure the association sufficient funds to carry out its designs. Some of the larger operators expressed their willingness to accept special assessments should more funds prove necessary.

Most of the land concerned in the plans of the association is included in a 23,000-acre area in Kern and San Luis Obispo counties, comprising the Midway and Sunset Oil fields.

WRIGHT TO HEAR POWER CASE.

Action of Sacramento Concern Lowering Lighting Rates to be Before a Master.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—William C. van Fleet, of the United States District Court, assigned Judge Harry M. Wright, standing master in chancery, to hear the so-called Sacramento light and power case.

Wright has heard the petition filed between the capital city and the Pacific Gas and Electric Company and the Great Western Power Company and he will report his findings to Judge Van Fleet.

The judge is then expected to decide whether the Sacramento concern was warranted in lowering the rates the companies charge for light and power.

FIGHTING IN THE RIGA REGION

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PETROGRAD (via London) Oct. 26, 1:55 a.m.—The following official communication from the headquarters was issued today:

"In the Riga region the fighting continues. South of Lake Babit the Germans unsuccessfully assumed the offensive. In the region of Illoukst there was an artillery duel.

"On the left of the Dvina and on the Ikskue Railways, the Germans launched several attacks of great ferocity. Five attacks were repulsed. During the attack in the region of Illoukst the Germans succeeded in penetrating some of our works. Our troops with courage and determination threw up the great majority of the attacks and captured the remainder. The attack was finally repulsed by a counter-attack executed by the ultaneous action by the artillery and infantry.

"On the front in the region of Friedrichstadt there were only engagements on the Dvina River and on the left bank of the Dvina in the region of Jacobstadt and in the region to the west of Liwenhof there have been only actions by small detachments.

"Near Dvinsk in the region of Illoukst furious fighting was in progress. The advancing Germans continued to attack violently. After the occupation of Friedrichstadt the Germans attempted to develop their offensive but were repulsed. On the border of the forest west of Illoukst.

"Enemy attempts to make headway to the east of the village of Pogost and toward the south of Dvinsk were repulsed.

"South of Lake Mazeiki artillery fighting is very violent. There are also artillery duels on the front of Lakes Drewiaty and Miadziol, Narotels and Vishnieff. Infantry engagements have occurred at various points but without appreciable results for either side. Among the more important encounters was that in the village of Jdeghilo, west of Boginskole, where the enemy was lodged. Another encounter resulted in the capture by our troops of the village of Petreachs, west of Boginskole."

France and Britain Expected to Grant Recognition

Mexican Prisoner Confesses Infamies on Border.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Conditions throughout Mexico are showing marked improvement, according to announcement today by Secretary Lansing.

The Secretary was able to give this optimistic report of the situation after George Bakhmetieff, the Russian ambassador, who made inquiries in preparatory, it is believed, to advising his government concerning recognition.

The British and French ambassadors recently made similar inquiries and it is now believed recognition of the Carranza government by many of the European powers will follow in the near future.

Juan O. Amador, Subsecretary of the Interior, in Carranza's Cabinet has been placed in charge of the Carranza agency here during the absence of Eliseo Arredondo, who has gone to Mexico for a conference with the first chief. The agency today gave the following statement tonight:

"First Chief Carranza has issued a decree renewing the absolute prohibition upon the export of rice, beans, corn, wheat and flour, which has been in force for several months, and forbidding the exportation of peas, barley, lentils, bran, the various kinds of sugar, and of milch cows, except upon the specific authorization of the Constitutionalist government.

"The decree also provides for free importation of all the above-mentioned articles of prime necessity and of preserved meats and fish, lard, table oats, fruits, garden produce, vegetables, seeds, and feeding grains, manufactured products of flour and other cereals, including crackers and macaroni and also common soap.

"Export duties beginning October 20 are announced on vegetable oils, mineral oils, alcohol, cotton, rice, tobacco, textiles, sisal hemp products, beer, woods of various kinds, peas and bananas."

HOPEFUL OUTLOOK.

The State Department issued tonight what was generally regarded as the most hopeful summary of conditions yet received from consuls and special agents throughout Mexico. It said:

"Advices, dated October 23, from Monterey, state that through Pullman service had been established from Laredo to Mexico City for the first time in a year and a half. It is stated that there also is improved train service to Tampico and Matamoros and that telegraph lines are operating between most cities and towns. A more peaceful feeling is said to prevail and the friendly feeling toward Americans is more manifest than for a long time. The Consul-General at Monterey informs the department that he is receiving no complaints and that both natives and foreigners are commenting on the improved treatment of the people in general.

"Good rains and favorable weather are reported to make the outlook for pasturage and garden stuff brighter in the Monterey district. The purchasing power of money of the de facto government is reported to be increasing.

"The department is informed that the Foreign Office of the de facto government of Mexico, states that information has been requested concerning the mine of the Compania Carbonifera de Sabinas in the State of Coahuila, which has been reported confiscated in order that necessary measures may be taken to give all the guarantees desired by the owners.

"Conditions are reported to be peaceful throughout the state of Tabasco. Los Mochis and Topolobampo are reported quiet and there is no change in the situation at Guaymas.

"The department is informed that Prefect Antonio Legaspy of the Villa forces is now in charge at Cananea and is maintaining order.

"A telegraphic dispatch, dated October 24, with reference to conditions in the state of Chihuahua, states that a passenger train arrived at El Paso on the 23rd inst., from the Casas Grandes district, bringing about twelve refugees, mostly women and children. The refugees are reported to have stated that the rights of foreigners have been respected by the Villa forces in the section through which they have passed. Railway communication is said to be open from El Paso on the National railway as far south as the state line of Durango."

THE BORDER SITUATION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BROWNSVILLE (Tex.) Oct. 25.—Chano Flores, a Mexican prisoner, has made a confession, according to an announcement by the sheriff's department today, in which he admits participation in last Monday night's train wreck and murders near here. It is declared that the confession involves several other Mexicans in Texas border outrages of the past three months.

Flores is declared to have said that the object of recent raids was to "secure liberty and independence for Mexicans in Texas."

Flores is said to have confessed to taking part in a raid on a ranch at Sebastian, this county, several weeks ago in which a father, son and two step-sons were killed.

The so-called Texas revolutionary army was described by Flores as a force of about 500 men divided into several companies, the one which Flores said to have belonged to containing from fifty to sixty men. The companies which made the raids at Ojo de Agua, Progreso and other points up the river from here were unknown to Flores, according to his statements, but all were said to be under the general leadership of Luis de Larosa, and Ancito Pisano.

Flores is said to have confessed that on the night of the wreck thirty or more Mexicans crossed the Rio Grande into Texas and were joined by fifteen to twenty on this side. They then laid plans for wrecking the train. The confession did not say why the bandits killed the soldiers and shot Dr. E. S. McCain and S. J. Wallis, but permitted other Americans on the train to escape unharmed.

The committee of citizens named at a mass meeting here Saturday to visit Austin and Washington to make an appeal to authority for early relief on the border, departed late today.

Private Herman E. Moore of the Fourth Infantry, who was wounded in an engagement with Mexican bandits last night, died today. His home is in French Lick, Ind.

Moore was the eleventh soldier killed in fights with bandits since last July.

VILLA DESERTERS REACH CARRANZA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Oct. 25.—Carranza troops were withdrawn Saturday from Anavacachi Pass, twelve miles west of Agua Prieta, according to advices here today. The pass immediately was occupied by Villa troops under Gen. Urbalejo. Troops from Nogales are expected to reinforce Urbalejo.

Maj. Cervantes and approximately 200 soldiers of the advance guard of the Villa army invading Sonora arrived at Agua Prieta, opposite here, today and surrendered to Gen. Calles, the Carranza commander. Surrender and amnesty were arranged before hand by long-distance telephone. It was stated that Cervantes and his men escaped only after a sharp fight with pursuing Villa cavalry at Esqueda.

A detachment of Carranza troops aided the deserters. A number were killed and wounded on both sides.

According to a statement from Calles, Gen. Pablo Lopez, commanding a detachment of 600 of the Villa advanve guard, also desired to surrender, but telephone service was interrupted before arrangements could be completed. The entire strength of the Villa column at Esqueda, is said to be between 1200 and 1500 men.

R. Garduno, Carranza Consul here, received today $10,000 as the first installment of $60,000 from the Carranza government to care for refugees driven into Agua Prieta by the advance of the Villa invaders. The problem of caring for these noncombatants in case Villa attacks Agua Prieta engaged attention here today. O. K. Goll, president of the Chamber of Commerce, telegraphed the State Department, requesting that permission be given for the establishment of a camp on the American side of the boundary. Many of the refugees have been refused admission to the United States for various reasons, principally poverty and disease.

MEXICANS CHEER UNCLE SAM.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

VERA CRUZ, Oct. 25.—Thousands of working men paraded the streets in honor of Mrs. Francisco I. Madero, Jr., widow of the late President of Mexico. Many cries of "Long life to the United States" were heard.

LAST DOLLAR TO CHARITY.

Frank Marrin, Sentenced to Prison for Fraud, Gives all He has to Children's Society.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—Frank C. Marrin, alias Judge C. Franklin Stone, whose alleged swindling operations are said to have netted him millions of dollars, contributed today the last dollar in his possession to a children's charity before entering the eastern penitentiary to serve a sentence of four years, imposed several years ago for his connection with the $2,000,000 Stoey cotton fraud.

The dollar was what was left of the $10 he received from the Auburn prison in New York when he was released on parole after serving eight years of a thirteen years' sentence for swindling an old woman out of $71,000.

TEACH WAR AT NIGHT.

Evening Course for Bankers and Professional Men is to be Started in Boston.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, Oct. 25.—Details of a night course of military instruction for bankers and professional men were announced at a meeting of the Boston chapter of the American Institute of Banking today. The school will meet one night a week from the middle of November to the middle of June. The course will cover the manual of arms, with squad company and battalion maneuvers. Officers in the regular army will deliver lectures.

THE GOLF STICK AS A PERISCOPE.

CHICAGO MAN GOT NEAR A WOMAN WITH IT AND NOW REGRETS IT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 25.—"I am a married man and I should have known better. I admit I'm guilty; I'm sorry now." This was the admission made in court today by William H. Ball, 40 years old, who was arrested yesterday afternoon for annoying women golfers on the Jackson Park golf links.

A policeman was summoned to the links by a woman, who explained that Ball was using a golf stick made on the order of a periscope.

"He's got a club with a mirror on it," said the woman. "He placed the club between my feet and made out as if he was examining the handle. He wasn't. He was looking into the mirror."

TO TAKE ALIENS OUT OF MARKET.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Members of the New York Cotton Exchange today, at a meeting called to consider proposed amendments to the bylaws curtailing the privileges of aliens elected to membership after November 1, 1915, decided to vote on the proposal on October 27.

The purpose of the proposed change, it was stated by the officials, was to make the exchange a distinctly American institution. The change would prevent activities in the cotton market during present international complications which are said to be contemplated by foreign agents.

COTTON GINNINGS REPORT ISSUED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Cotton ginned prior to October 18 amounted to 5,713,247 bales, the Census Bureau announced today. Round bales included 54,422; sea island, 40,257.

Ginnings by States.

Alabama, 556,272; Arkansas, 281,190; Florida, 22,162; Georgia, 1,178,390; Louisiana, 223,894; Mississippi, 421,658; North Carolina, 264,665; Oklahoma, 65,985; South Carolina, 581,978; Tennessee, 79,247; Texas, 2,007,711; all other States, 30,657.

Restores Quiet.

AMERICAN TROOPS CHASE RAIDING MAYO INDIANS.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

LA PAZ (Lower California, via San Diego, Cal.,) Oct. 25.—United States troops sent in pursuit of a band of Mayo Indians thought to have contemplated raids upon the plant of the United Sugar Company at Los Mochis, Sonora, returned to that town today and reported that the Indians retired across the Fuerte River and were proceeding northward. Whether fighting took place between the band and the soldiers was not reported.

The situation at La Paz remains quiet, but export duties from La Paz on leather have been doubled and the local government demands that the duty shall be paid either in American or Mexican gold. One consignment of fifty tons now is awaiting shipment to the United States.

All Mexican troops which have been patrolling the Guatemala border have been withdrawn and quiet prevails in that vicinity, according to dispatches received here today.

It is reported that 1500 Carranza troops left Guaymas yesterday to operate against Villa forces north of that city. Several detachments of Villa soldiers have arrived at Guaymas, having surrendered to Carranza officials and Carranza reinforcements are continuing to arive by steamers from the south.

The flagship San Diego arrived at La Paz today.

ONE FEBRUARY FOR CHARLTON.

MAXIMUM SENTENCE FOR THE AMERICAN 29 DAYS.

Young Man Convicted of Murdering His Wife is Found Only Partially Responsible, with Extenuating Circumstances by Italian Jury—Term Reduced by Amnesty.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

COMO (Italy) via Paris, Oct. 25.—7:25 p.m.—Porter Charlton, the American who has been on trial here charged with murdering his wife in 1910, was today condemned to six years and eight months' imprisonment.

Baron Schiacca, the presiding judge, before the case went to the jury, asked Charlton whether he had anything to add to the defense. With tears in his eyes, Charlton exclaimed: "I trust entirely to Italian justice. I can only say that I am a most unfortunate man."

Both the prosecutor and the counsel for the defense made stirring pleas, the former for the imposition of a heavy sentence, and the latter, composed of Signors Gatanceo and Michaelli Picardi, for acquittal on the ground that the prisoner was totally irresponsible when the crime was committed. Signor Picardi declared that no man in Charlton's condition could be responsible for his action under any law.

The jury found Charlton only partially responsible and that there were extenuating circumstances.

Owing to amnesty, Charlton will serve only twenty-nine days in prison.

Charlton, under the verdict, benefits by the time he has been under restraint and in addition a year is taken off the sentence under the amnesty for all offenses committed before Italy entered the war.

Even though he was greatly pleased over the verdict of the court and viewed with pleasure his approaching liberation from custody, Charlton maintained his usual restrained and almost passive attitude. He thanked all those about him for their congratulations.

Charlton said that after his release he would return to the United States and join his family. Before departing, however, he said he would visit and personally thank friends in Como, who had by their kindness lightened the hours of his captivity, and especially Ambassador Thomas Nelson Page, who, as the representative of the American government, has seen that his legal rights were observed.

Porter Charlton killed his wife in their villa on Lake Como on June 9, 1910. He was 20 years old and she many years his senior. At the time of their marriage, a short time prior to the tragedy, she was Mrs. Neville H. Castle, a daughter of Henry H. Scott of San Francisco. Charlton's father is Paul Charlton, former Federal judge of the District of Porto Rico.

Charlton and his bride were on their honeymoon at Lake Como when he killed her. Placing her body in a trunk, he threw it into Lake Como, where it was found by a boatman. Charlton fled from Italy and returned to the United States. He was arrested and confessed.

In his confession Charlton said his wife was subject to fits of violent temper, and that when enraged she showered abuse upon him. It was during one of these fits, he said, that he seized a mallet and struck her a blow on the head, killing her. He then put the body into the trunk and threw it into the lake.

For three years Charlton was held prisoner in Jersey City before he was returned to Italy for trial. Every legal means was used in an endeavor to keep him from being sent back, the case going even to the Supreme Court of the United States, which decided that he must be extradited. During his incarceration in New Jersey a board of alienists examined him and declared that he was of unsound mind and not responsible for the commission of the crime.

Since his return to Italy in 1913 Charlton has been in the jail at Como.

TAKE GIRLS' PLACES.

Wives of Officials of Rubber Company Go to Work when Other Women Strike.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TRENTON (N. J.) Oct. 25.—Wives of eleven officials of the Essex Rubber Company, including Mrs. Charles H. Oakley, wife of the president, took the places of striking girls in the plant today in order to keep the machinery going. Thirty-five girls employed as trimmers in the pressroom are on strike for better sanitary conditions. The company maintains that the demands are unreasonable.

T.N.T. (trinitrate toluol) had to be melted and dried and further prepared before it would go off.

"It was all Fay's idea. He was allowed to come here by the German government. I believe he got $4000 from the government. It cost between $45 and $70 to make one of these mines. We worked three months to perfect the exploding mechanism. We were almost ready when caught. We used the garage to do our mechanical work. Then we went to the boathouse. I am sorry we didn't get a chance to put these mines to work."

Entries in two memorandum books found in the room occupied by Fay and Scholz in Weehawken referred to the German steamship Magdeburg and were regarded by the police as significant. The Magdeburg, loaded with dynamite consigned to Germany, was prevented at the outbreak of the war from sailing and remained at anchor in the bay for several months. Several weeks ago the government ordered the cargo unloaded, as it was regarded as a menace to navigation. The cargo was sold to a munitions plant.

JAPANESE GOLD TO PAY DEBTS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Oct. 25.—The United States assay office today received from a local bank, representing Yokohama bankers, Japanese gold coins valued at $600,000, shipped to the United States on the steamship Ixion in payment of balances due on account of Japanese purchases in this country. The gold will be melted, cast into bars and shipped to the United States mint at Philadelphia.

Minister to Liberia.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—James L. Curtis of New York, a negro, was today appointed Minister and Consul to Liberia. He succeeds George W. Buckner of Evansville, Ind., who resigned.

Maj. Garcia Killed.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

LAREDO (Tex.) Oct. 25.—Maj. Garcia of the Carranza garrison at Nuevo Laredo, the Mexican town opposite here, was accidentally shot and killed by Col. Gonzales of the same garrison last night.

Each edition of the Butterick magazines weighs 850 tons. The cost of postage each month amounts to more than $13,000.

One month's edition of these magazines piled one copy on another would make a stack 14,410 feet high, equal to the altitude of Mt. Rainier.

The total amount of paper used in a year by the Butterick Company is equal to seven times the area of Manhattan Island. It is twice the size of the District of Columbia. It is equal to the combined areas of St. Louis, Boston and Baltimore.

Reel this paper out in a strip one foot wide and it would encircle the world thirty times—or three times the distance from the earth to the moon.

A single copy of a Butterick publication can not possibly indicate the size and scope of the Butterick business, because the human mind can not grasp such a multiplication of units. It is probable that even experienced advertisers do not realize the mighty force which is working for them.

Pimples and Skin Eruptions
Danger Sign of Bad Blood

It May Mean Eczema, Scrofula—The First Sign of Inherited Blood Disease

Pimples, scaly, itching skin, rashes, burning sensation and Scrofula denote with unfailing certainty a debilitated, weakened and impure state of the blood. The trouble may have been in your blood from birth, but no matter how you were infected, you must treat it through the blood. It is a blood disease. You must use S. S. S., the standard blood tonic for 50 years, if you expect certain relief. For purifying the system, nothing is equal to it. The action of S. S. S. is to cleanse the blood. It soaks through the system direct to the seat of the trouble—acting as an antidote to neutralize the blood poisons. It revitalizes the red blood corpuscles, increases the flow so that the blood can properly perform its physical work. The dull sluggish feeling leaves you—the complexion clears up. Even long standing cases respond promptly. But you must take S. S. S. Drugs and substitutes won't do. Get S. S. Discounts: A discount of 25 per cent. is made for the use of capital letters.

Display: Display space for classified advertisements only, for more than one insertion, 14 words.

White Space: White space will be charged for on the basis of seven words to a line.

Count: All words are counted strictly by the word. Every paragraphed or indented matter set in caps, counts five (5) average words to a line. Not set in caps, estimate five (5) average words to a line, and eight (8) average words to each line following. In this kind of advertising the actual number of words set solid is counted, and not the words estimated for each indented line.

The Times reserves the right to classify all advertisements under appropriate headings.

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in classified advertisements.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

It is not the fault of the advertiser, which position in the issue for an advertisement will be notified only by republication, without extra charge, on presentation of receipt within five days after the first issue. No allowance will be made where the error does not materially affect the value of the advertisement.

No adjustment will be made for advertising items not affected by an error or errors which may occur in other items in the same advertisement.

Advertisers should retain receipts given by The Times for money paid in advance, as no mistake can be rectified without them.

The Times will not accept phone or verbal orders for cancellations or change "till forbid" advertisements.

Discontinued orders to discontinue advertising in The Times are numbered in the order of their receipt, and in each instance the number of the order is given to the advertiser, who should make reference to this number in case of change or discontinuance. No advertising will be repeated unless the "stop order" number is presented to The Times by the advertiser.

Sunday total ostate advertisements, to be classified properly, must be in The Times office before 10 o'clock Saturday night. Other classified "Wants," to be classified properly, must be in by 11 a.m. Saturday. Ads received after phone until 11 p.m. Saturday. Ads received after above hours for each division will be inserted under the heading "Too Late to Classify." Rate 1¼ cents per word.

The Sunday circulation of The Times exceeds 70,000 copies and more "liners" are regularly printed in its columns than in the five other Los Angeles newspapers combined.

Telephone your want advertisements. Ring up The Times, Main 8200, Home 10291, any time of day or night, and secure prompt and careful attention.

In connection with the organization of a new camp, an interesting programme will be given at Patriotic Hall this evening by Rosecrans Camp, Sons of Veterans, under the auspices of the Admiral Robley D. Evans Uniform Post and Corps, G.A.R. Mayor Sebastian is expected to attend.

Edison and Ford Invited.

Thomas H. Ince, the motion picture magnate, has telegraphed invitations to Thomas A. Edison and Henry Ford in San Francisco to visit Inceville, the motion picture city by the sea. If the distinguished men accept, Mr. Ince will give special entertainment for them, including a barbecue and rodeo, and a view of a $75,000 motion picture set.

Fall Initiation.

The Southern California Chapter of the Delta Chi fraternity held an initiation night before last when the following were admitted: Don Cameron, William Anderson, Ralph Sindorf, John Ware, Ernest Becker, Walter Trask and Fred L. Mills. This was the last initiation until after Thanksgiving. Following the initiation the young men went on a sail to Santa Catalina Island, returning yesterday morning.

AFTER STREET FIGHT.

Clubman Found Guilty of Battery Upon Fellow Insurance Broker in Row Over Fee.

I. J. Muma, one-time candidate for the Board of Education, clubman and insurance broker, was found guilty yesterday of battery committed on the person of Charles L. Lewin, another insurance broker, in a street fight on the 18th inst. Lewin was convicted of disturbing the peace on the same occasion.

According to the testimony given to Police Judge Frederickson yesterday, the two insurance brokers were fighting over a $30 fee. Each had written insurance on a joint policy, and Muma claimed Lewin owed him $30 as his share.

Lewin testified that Muma grappled with him at the entrance of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, where they had lunched. He said Muma grabbed him by the throat and said he was going to drag him to Muma's office and either get the $30 or take it out of his hide.

Police Judge Frederickson characterized the mess as "child's play and decidedly undignified for responsible citizens." Sentence will be imposed today.

CHANGE PROCEDURE.

Witness with Personal Knowledge Now Necessary to Make Application for Land Contest.

The Interior Department has adopted an important change in the practice covering contests in the local Land Office, according to the information received yesterday by Register Roche and Receiver Mitchell.

Hereafter the statements in the application must be corroborated by the affidavit of at least one witness having personal knowledge of the facts in relation to the contested entry, as, if proven, would render it subject to cancellation, and these facts must be set forth in the affidavit.

Transferees and incumbrancers of land, the title to which is contested or is in process of acquisition under any public land law, shall, upon filing notice of the transfer or incumbrance in the District Land Office, become entitled to receive and be given the same notice of any contest or other proceeding thereafter had affecting such land which is required to be given the original entryman or claimant. Every such notice for a transfer or incumbrance must forthwith be noted upon the records of the District Land Office and reported to the General Land Office, where like notations will be made. Thereafter such transferees or incumbrancers as well as the entrymen must be made a party defendant to any proceeding against the entry.

Inquisitive.

SEEK TO TRACE SEIZED LIQUOR.

DETECTIVE RETURNED IT, IS THE INSINUATION.

But Chief Investigator of the District Attorney's Office is not Perturbed by Demand of the Law Enforcement League for an Investigation of His Work.

In a petition filed yesterday afternoon with the Board of Supervisors by the Law Enforcement League, of which H. E. Dean, former chief deputy district attorney, is counsel, charges of incompetency, inefficiency and unfitness are made against Capt. J. D. Hunter, chief detective of the District Attorney's office.

The league asks that power be given it to call witnesses under subpoena of the Board of Supervisors to substantiate charges and supplement them with additional facts alleged to be derogatory to the conduct of Capt. Hunter.

Capt. Hunter, on the advice of the District Attorney, delivered no comment on the matter. He appeared not at all perturbed.

The principal charges of the league have to do with the alleged non-enforcement of liquor laws. Purporting to have received numerous appeals from various communities in the county regarding delinquent and negligent work in rounding up violators of such laws, the league asks why this procedure should be allowed.

A suggestion that an immediate inventory of all liquor in possession of the District Attorney's office be made is followed by a further request that it be checked up with liquor confiscated under warrants of the same office.

It is alleged that Capt. Hunter, contrary to law, returned to Baron Long, proprietor of the Vernon Country Club, gambling and other paraphernalia seized in a raid there last January. The league also charged that Capt. Hunter advised the District Attorney's office not to prosecute the Mountain Club of Glendale, against which serious charges of immorality had been substantiated by him.

The allegation is made that on the intervention of Larry M. Sullivan, Capt. Hunter, who had been instructed to investigate and had determined to raid the Billows Hotel and Cafe at Playa del Rey, dropped the matter and the place is still running. That Capt. Hunter was intoxicated and unable to appear in court on July 13 last, and that he remained in Venice on that day, is one of the assertions.

Failure to prosecute blind pigs at Pomona, Duarte and Azusa after having obtained the location of these, visited their operators and obtained all facts, is alleged.

The Board of Supervisors was unable to take up the matter yesterday, but has placed it on the calendar for next Monday.

THROUGH WINDOW, A HERO.

To Avoid Crushing Child, Motorcycle Policeman Turns Machine, Plunges in Plate-glass Store Front.

Turning his motorcycle over the curb to avoid striking a child who ran out in front of him, Motorcycle Officer A. R. Dunham early last night rode his machine through a plate-glass window at No. 921 West Sixth street, smashed his motorcycle, and cut himself about the legs.

When the accident occurred Officer Dunham was answering a burglar call to the residence of C. M. Sells of No. 1010 Ingraham street. The child sprang from the curb in front of the machine, and to avoid the accident the officer was forced to turn his machine to the curb.

After crashing head on into the plate-glass window, the officer picked himself up and hailed a passing automobile and finished the call. He discovered that a burglar had entered the home of Mr. Sells and made his escape with about $200 worth of jewelry.

Mother's Friend.
The friend that the expectant mother needs, brings peace of mind, freedom from worry and added comfort. Experienced women advise the use of Mother's Friend because it is so perfectly safe to use and has helped a host of expectant mothers to a happy, normal existence during this very important period. Mother's Friend, to be had at any drug store, is an external treatment that relieves the tension upon the cords and ligaments that come from muscular expansion. It gently soothes the fine network of nerves and brings happy relief from abnormal pains, thus creating comfort and contentment.

THE WEATHER.
[Official Report.]

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, Oct. 25.—[Reported by Ford A. Carpenter, Local Forecaster.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 29.98; at 5 p.m., 29.94. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 50 deg. and 62 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 68 per cent.; 5 p.m., 70 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., northeast, velocity 1 mile; 5 p.m., southwest, velocity 6 miles. Highest temperature, 72 deg.; lowest, 47 deg. Rainfall for season, trace; last season, .20 of an inch. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—A well-marked area of low pressure covers the north-central portion of the country, and areas of high pressure prevail on the eastern and western coasts. Fresh southwesterly and westerly winds are reported from the Upper Mississippi valley. The area of high pressure over the Pacific Northwest moved in an easterly direction and is central over Wyoming. Freezing temperatures occurred in Nevada, Utah, and in the mountains of Arizona. This area of increased barometric pressure will give Los Angeles and vicinity a period of fair and dry weather Tuesday, with increased daylight temperatures.

AN EASY WAY TO END CATARRH FOREVER

Simple Home Treatment Destroys Germs of This Dangerous Disease.

The reason why so many people who suffer from Catarrh never seem able to get cured is that they are continually seeking the momentary relief of sprays, douching, greasy creams, ointment, etc. Such things do open up the swollen nostrils and clear the head temporarily besides stopping for awhile the disgusting blowing, hawking, spitting and choking, but they never cure. To drive out Catarrh for good you have got to get down to its real cause. Catarrh is a germ disease. The air is always full of catarrh germs thrown off by one person and absorbed by another and when the system does fail to throw off such germs they find permanent lodgement in the nose, throat and head and multiply rapidly.

The germs of Catarrh can best be destroyed by inhaling the pure medicated air of Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me). This splendid and powerful combination of oil of Eucalyptus with other healing agents has a wonderful germicidal action. You breathe its air into your nose, throat and lungs by means of a small hard-rubber inhaler which The Owl Drug Co. and other leading druggists in this vicinity supply with every complete treatment. This medicated air is certain death to the germs of Catarrh and drives them completely out of your system and when the germs are destroyed the Catarrh with all its disagreeable symptoms will stop. Even two or three minutes use will give refreshing relief, while if you will use it two or three times a day for a few weeks it will completely banish Catarrh and every symptom of Catarrh. As Hyomei is pleasant to breathe and is always sold by druggists everywhere with a positive guarantee of successful results or money back surely no Catarrhal sufferer should go long before trying this simple home remedy.

ANTI-KAMNIA TABLETS STOP
The Pains of Sciatica

Dr. E. C. Underwood says that there is no expression of neuralgia which is more distressing than that known as Sciatica. The cause of this condition is usually exposure to cold and dampness. One of the most common causes is rheumatism; indeed this is so often the cause that some writers include sciatica among the varieties of rheumatism.

The treatment includes remedies to counteract the cause of the disease, as well as measures looking to the relief of pain. Whatever treatment may be employed, two things must be borne in mind—the patient must be kept as free from pain as possible and be kept as quiet as possible. One or two Anti-Kamnia Tablets should be given every two or three hours, and the patient must be warned against going out in inclement weather.

Anti-Kamnia Tablets may be obtained at all druggists in any quantity, 10c worth or more. Ask for A-K Tablets.

In Headaches, Neuralgias, and all Pains they give prompt relief.

DOZEN QUESTIONS ON BALLOT FOR TODAY.

Each Vote to Cost the State a Dollar is Election Forecast.

Party Defense League Closes Campaign with Statement Urging People to Vote "No" on the First Two Propositions — Road-bond Fight Reaches Hot Climax in Board of Supervisors—Polls Open at Sunrise.

BY BURL ARMSTRONG.

WE ALL have to vote again this morning or neglect our duty as citizens. This time there are nine constitutional amendments, two laws held up by referendum, all of Statewide application, and one road bond proposition, which applies only to Los Angeles county.

The menu presents only four choice morsels of attack. The proposed destruction of political parties, provided for in the first two propositions on the ballot, the ninth proposition, known as the tax grab, and the last question on the ballot, are the ones in which chief interest centers.

This election will cost California $500,000, and it is expected that there will be about 500,000 votes cast, or a dollar a vote. There are 1,500,000 voters in California eligible to participate in the election. In Los Angeles county there are 330,000 voters.

Upon eleven of the twelve propositions on th ballot a majority vote is necessary to decide. Upon the twelfth, the county road bond issue of $2,850,000, it is necessary to have more than two-thirds of the vote in order for them to carry.

The polls will open at 6 o'clock this morning and will close at 7 o'clock this evening. This thirteen-hour stretch will be observed in 777 voting precincts in this county.

EARLY RETURNS EXPECTED.

It is believed that the election boards will not work long after the voting places are closed, for the ballot is not long and it is not believed that more than 40 per cent. of the vote will be cast generally throughout the State. It may run over that in Los Angeles county where the road bond issue has excited some attention.

The campaign closed last night with a number of meetings throughout Los Angeles county where speakers for and against various amendments on the ballot appeared. The election today will be devoid of the polling place activity that is seen during times when there are candidates seeking office.

Isidore B. Dockweiler, chairman of the Party Defense League, which has conducted the campaign against the first two propositions on the ballot, issued a statement last night summarizing the arguments against the no-party bills.

JOYNER ADMITS ONLY FEW ROUTES SURVEYED.

Estimates on Which Proposed County Road Bonds of Nearly Three Million Dollars Would be Spent Chiefly Guesswork, According to Highway Commissioner's Letter to the Board of Supervisors.

A RECENT letter from County Road Commissioner Joyner to the Board of Supervisors proves the contention of the opponents of the proposed county road bond issue of $2,850,000, to be voted upon today, that the estimates of cost of construction were based upon no complete survey or investigation and that the estimates must necessarily be chiefly guesswork. "Guesswork" upon an outlay of nearly $3,000,000 should be rebuked at the polls today with a majority vote against the bonds. Here is a copy of the letter:

October 5, 1915.

Honorable Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles county.

Gentlemen: Replying to your request of October 4, for me to furnish to your honorable board a statement showing all data at present in the county road department, relating to the roads named and described in the call for

CAMPAIGN WELL BEGUN TO PERPETUATE FAIR.

Committee Organizes Strong Working Force to Raise Remainder of Money Needed to Make the Greater Southern California Exposition a Certainty — Headquarters will be Opened Today at Commerce Chamber.

LOS ANGELES asks your aid this morning in raising the remainder of the $75,000 necessary to assure the perpetuation of the San Diego fair through 1916 as the Greater Southern California Exposition. With the receipt of the check for $50 yesterday from Nathan Benz & Co. there is now $25,055 in the fund.

Organizing yesterday with Vernon Goodwin, vice-president and managing director of the Alexandria Hotel Company, as chairman; C. S. Hutson, assistant manager of the Union Lithograph Company, secretary, and J. E. Fishburn, president of the National Bank of California, as treasurer, the committee of 100 appointed by President Bulla of the Chamber of Commerce definitely and emphatically launched their campaign.

"We want the remainder of that $75,000 within a week," said Chairman Goodwin, after President G. Aubrey Davidson of the Panama-California Exposition had stated that the first $75,000 means the continuation of the big fair, augmented by a wealth of foreign exhibits from San Francisco.

Within two hours after the members of the committee of 100 had assembled at the Hollenbeck Hotel an organization had been perfected, committees representing many business and civic interests had been appointed, and arrangements made for headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce.

HEADQUARTERS OPENED.

These headquarters are those of the 1915 General Committee, which is now rapidly rounding up its year's work. Secretary C. S. Hutson will be in charge. His telephones at headquarters are Main 404 and A5885. He and all members of the Campaign Committee bespeak their use by contributors.

Both Chairman Goodwin and Secretary Hutson have pledged their unremitting efforts to make the existing $25,055 a full $75,000 within a week. They will be aided by committees of many interests, the chairmen of which are to act as an executive committee.

Aside from the unqualified statement of President Davidson of the exposition that not a cent of the money subscribed will be touched until the $75,000 is secured and officially turned over to the new com-

FLOWER SHOW TRANSFORMED.

Exhibits Enlarged and Many Reconstructed.

Attendance Tops Twenty-five Thousand Mark.

Special Prizes Attract in the Flower Classes.

New David Belasco effects were offered on the third floor of the old Boston Store Building yesterday. There had been a transformation, as if old Duke Prospero or some of the other approved wonder workers had taken a turn on the night shift, with dew-dipped brush in hand, and in his enthusiasm had redone the whole scene.

As a matter of fact, the transformation—for it was nothing else—was begotten of the enthusiasm that budded in the souls of exhibitors, Saturday, when the curtain arose on an embanked stage of loveliness. It was an enthusiasm that dictated the entire reconstruction of many exhibits during the wee, small hours of yesterday, and in every case the replacing of wilted flowers with fresh.

With the 25,000 mark in attendance passed last night, the big Broadway Automobile and Flower Show is an assured success. It is more than that—it is apt to create a precedent, for already the demand is insistent that the show be made an annual affair.

As for the flower end of the show, there is evidence that the gardeners in this flower-strewn end of the world will not be contented unless there is at least assurance that another year will see a similar show, either with or without automobiles—preferably with.

WIDOW HOLDS BRIDE; ROUTS GROOM'S FORCES.

WHEN Mrs. Susie Loer discovered yesterday morning that her 18-year-old daughter, Margaret, had become the bride of Solomon J. Botiller, youthful scion of an aristocratic Castilian family, and grandson of Dionisio de Botiller, who died two weeks ago, the Gaelic widow reached an immediate conclusion that she did not want him in her family. A policeman, a prize fighter, two deputy sheriffs, and an attorney, to say nothing of the youthful husband himself, tried separately and collectively at various times yesterday to change Mrs. Loer's decision, with the result that each participant, with the exception of the prize fighter, who ran, today has some little remembrance of the widow's activity.

Solomon Botiller had been a boarder in the Loer residence, No. 808 Santee street, for the past four years. During that time he watched the daughter of the house grow up, and as she grew, she became prettier and prettier. Margaret reciprocated the love that developed in the breast of young Botiller, so that last Wednesday, without the mother's knowledge, the young people obtained a marriage license and were married by Justice Summerfield.

Until yesterday they kept the marriage secret. Then it was deemed advisable that mother should be told. A few moments after the telling young Botiller arose painfully from the sidewalk in front of the house and started looking for a policeman. Margaret, the bride, gazed pensively from the window of the room wherein she was locked.

Patrolman Banks tried to pacify the mother. Armed with her late husband's shillelah, Mrs. Loer greeted Patrolman Banks with joy if not kindness.

Young Botiller, seeing that the police were not sufficient, called on the Sheriff's office. Two deputies answered, and received their due allowance from the shillalah.

Again the bridegroom looked for help. His next move was to retain Attorney Clyde Cate. Coincident with Mr. Botiller's appearance in the lawyer's office, George Brock, a local pugilist, entered in search of legal talent. Mr. Cate impressed the fighter into service and the three started for the Santee-street residence.

Fortunately for Mr. Brock, he waited at the gate as Mr. Cate and the bridegroom started to talk with the mother. What Mr. Brock saw caused him to disappear precipitately down the street. For Mr. Cate was banged on the head and arm, his thumb almost dislocated and his personality sadly disarranged. The bridegroom almost broke the fence as he collided with it.

Attorney Cate stated last night he would take steps to obtain a writ of habeas corpus this morning with which to rescue the bride.

MAYOR AGAINST ANTI-PARTY LAW

Mayor Sebastian made his first public utterance last night at a Republican banquet at Campi's, when he took a decided stand against the two anti-party bills which come first and second on today's ballot.

"I take this occasion of saying that I am opposed to the so-called nonpartisan laws on tomorrow's ballot," he said. "I am a Republican and I hope that Tuesday will see a triumph for the G.O.P. I have been importuned by the other side to take the stump for the anti-party laws, but I have refused. I have given them a great deal of thought and I have come to the conclusion that they are un-American in principle and should be defeated at the polls."

DEATH WHISPER STAYS THE NOOSE.

FORGIVENESS BY DYING WIFE SOFTENS JURY IN VERDICT AGAINST SLAYER.

"Pat shot me, but he's not responsible."

These dying words, a whisper from the past, uttered to Police Detective Cline, according to his testimony before Judge Craig, by Mrs. Pat Lamay as she was being hurried to the Receiving Hospital on the night of June 30, are all that saved the life of her husband, who late yesterday evening was found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury. Life sentence, rather than hanging, was the verdict.

Deputy District Attorney Helm in his final argument before the jury, after declaring that there could be no iota of doubt as to the man's guilt, said that he would be willing to accept life sentence for Lamay as adequate reparation for the slaying.

The presence of all the Lamay children from the 2-year-old son to Elizabeth, the eldest daughter, had considerable effect in ameliorating the judgment. Not one of the boys and girls, however, showed the slightest concern for their father through the trial. When the verdict was brought in they expressed their gldaness that he should not be hanged and gave their word that they would all visit him before final sentence is carried out and Lamay is taken to prison.

Lamay during the pleadings sat stolid and indifferent, and it was only while the jury was out that he gave signs of nervousness. When the verdict was announced tears came to his eyes and he dabbed them with his handkerchief. Sentence will be imposed on Thursday.

FINE ACREAGE IS RESTORED.

Sixth of the Yuma Irrigation District Reopened.

Twelve Square Miles Subject to Homestead Entry.

Squatters Denied Any Rights in Imperial Tract.

A matter of some twelve square miles—7805 acres, to be exact—of Imperial Valley land, was restored to homestead entry yesterday morning, just one minute after midnight. The area thus given back by order of the Secretary of the Interior to the public domain amounts to over one-sixth of the total acreage withdrawn from entry over six years ago for the Yuma irrigation project. The land is below the East Side high-line canal and considered worth close to $100 an acre unimproved.

Second only in importance to the restoring of the land to entry is the ruling of the Department of the Interior, through Mr. Tallman, commissioner of the General Land Office, that the squatters who have settled on the withdrawn land in defiance of the withdrawal have no preference rights whatever, no matter what improvements they may have made.

Register Roche and Receiver Mitchell of the local Land Office yesterday received a copy of the restoring order issued by the Commissioner of the General Land Office. It is dated the 19th inst., and fixes the time of becoming effective as yesterday. The land is part of the original withdrawal of 39,000 acres for the irrigation project, the difference in acreage representing lands that had already been patented or were in course of patent when the land was withdrawn, these settlers losing none of their rights.

The land included in the order will be open to settlement under the homestead law from yesterday up to and including January 18 next, when the acreage not settled on will be subject to entry selection for disposition under the public land laws. On and after December 29, this year, filings will be accepted up to and including January 18, and marked as being made simultaneously as of January 18, at 9 o'clock a.m. Under the official order twenty-one claimants, covering 2471 acres, will be exempted from its operations, these being persons who initiated proceedings prior to the withdrawal from all of public entry. The list follows:

PRIOR-RIGHT HOLDERS.

Ben D. Irvine, 99 acres; Fred H. Hanus, 160; Joseph W. Votaw, 40;

LAW'S GREATEST CHARGE IS MADE

Cahill and Shammo Arrested on Murder Complaints.

These may be Later Changed to Read Manslaughter.

Coroner's Jury Finds Killing of Nolen Unjustified.

Police Sergeant William Cahill and Patrolman Samuel Shammo were rearrested yesterday and held to answer a charge of murder on a warrant issued by the District Attorney's office. The complaint on which the warrant was based was sworn to by Mrs. Jessie Nolen, mother of Charles Chester Nolen, 17 years old, who was shot and killed Friday while fleeing from the policemen on a motorcycle with Frank Ward.

The Coroner's jury held the policemen responsible for the killing of Chester Nolen yesterday in a verdict rendered at the inquest. The wording of the verdict was: "We, the Coroner's jury, find that Charles Chester Nolen came to his death by a gunshot wound of the heart inflicted by either of the following officers, William M. Cahill and Samuel Shammo. From the evidence presented, we, the Coroner's jury, find the shooting to be unjustifiable."

Frank Ward, the second victim of the shooting, lies in the County Hospital with a racing pulse and a growing fever. His pulse was 145 last night, and his fever 102. The rapidity of the pulse and the increase of the fever indicates complications developing that must prove fatal.

The charge of murder, which has been lodged against the policemen, admits of no bail. They were transferred to the County Jail last night in custody of Constable Lyons. They occupied a cell adjoining the one holding Harry Duncan, the man who faces a murder charge for having killed Police Sergeant Toolen.

Immediately after the Coroner's verdict had been returned, Mrs. Jessie Nolen, mother of the slain boy, went at once to the District Attorney's office and held a long conference. The result was the issuance of the complaint charging the two policemen with murder. Chief Snively had already instructed Detectives King and Oakes to lay their evidence before the District Attorney and ask for a warrant for the men.

MAY REDUCE CHARGE.

Deputy District Attorney Doran handled the case. In commenting on the seriousness of the charge named in the warrant, he said: "The men will probably be arraigned Tuesday. We have sought a warrant on the most serious charge we could make. If it is found that any malice attended this shooting, that is if either of the officers knew the boys previously and had any bitter feelings towards them, the charge of murder, I feel sure, will be prosecuted. If no malice attended the shooting, then we probably shall reduce the charge to manslaughter."

The inquest room at Overholtzer & Co.'s morgue was crowded yesterday when the two prisoners, in company with their attorneys, Frank Domingues and W. J. Ford, arrived. Other officials present were Deputy District Attorney Doran, Police Commissioners Owen and Johnson and Assistant Chief of Police George Home.

Close to them sat the family of the dead boy, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Nolen; his brother, Lair Nolen, 18 years old, and his cousin, D. Nolen.

While Albert L. Miller, a surveyor, who witnessed the shooting was reciting his description of the tragedy, Mr. Nolen interrupted him.

"Do you know which of the officers fired the shot that killed my boy?" he asked.

"I do not," answered Miller. "Both officers were shooting, each standing on a running board of the automobile."

As Miller continued his vivid description of the cry of the struck boys, how Chester Nolen put his hand to his back, and then began to sway, Earl Cooper, an automobile race driver, stood up and begged Coroner Hartwell to dismiss him from juror duty. In his racing experience, Cooper has faced many perilous situations and is considered a bold and dauntless driver.

"Mr. Coroner," he said, "I have a horror of hearing death described. It is a result of my work. I can not even read the details of a violent death without getting very sick. I feel ill at present and fear I shall faint if I am compelled to sit here and listen to the story of this boy's death."

Coroner Hartwell excused Cooper.

STORY OF KILLING.

In his description Miller said: "The boys first passed me going west. They stopped and came back and asked me the road to Eagle Rock. I directed them. Two minutes later I heard two shots. I looked around and saw the boys back again. They turned around and were coming up the hill. Then I heard two more shots.

"The bullets whistled past me and I thought it was time to get out of the way. I started to run, and the motorcycle ridden only by Ward came past me. I heard three or more shots then. Ward lost control of his machine and stopped.

"I looked back and saw Nolen lying face down on the pavement. Ward held his machine and I went over to him. Then the two officers came up. Officer Shammo put handcuffs on Ward. The people standing around said it was not right to handcuff the boy, because he was badly hurt. Shammo took the handcuffs off.

"Officer Cahill had picked Nolen up and put him in an automobile. I saw Cahill lift the boy's head and ask him to talk. When the boy's head dropped, I knew he was dead. Then they drove away.

"I said to Shammo that they did not need to shoot the boy. Shammo said, 'I was shooting in the ground. It's a shame—but why didn't they stop? I told them for God's sake, stop!'"

Frank Ward's ante-mortem statement was read to the jury. They were in conference but a short time when they returned the verdict of unjustifiable homicide.

tractions—Van Nuys day in combination with organization day. With one of the most attractive exhibits of the flower end of the big affair, the residents of Van Nuys have issued an invitation broadcast through the San Fernando Valley for everyone to be their guests that day. In addition, the Pioneers' Club of Van Nuys has scheduled their yearly meeting for the cafe of the big Broadway show Thursday night.

Organization day is of sentimental interest. Though the show is but three days old, every man and woman interested realizes, ere now, that they have put over something out of the ordinary. The result is that the exhibitors and employees will have their pictures taken together at 11:30 o'clock Thursday morning as a memento each to the other.

HALLOWEEN PARTY.

So far no special event has been arranged for Friday, but Saturday night comes the big Halloween party. And it is going to be big. The fun begins at 7:30 p.m., and will continue until the lights are put out.

Unusual enthusiasm has been aroused by the offering of prizes in ten new classes to amateur growers of roses and chrysanthemums. There are three awards in each class, the first prize in each class to be a silver cup and second and third prizes to be ribbons. All entries in each class must be in place by 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

The classes follow:

Chrysanthemums: Class 1, best specimen, any variety; class 2, best three white, cut chrysanthemums; class 3, best three yellow, cut chrysanthemums; class 4, best three pink flowers; class 5, best three red flowers; class 6, best vari-colored, three flowers; class 7, best three sprays pompons; class 8, best specimen potted plant, any variety.

Roses: Class 1, best twenty-four blooms, not necessarily of one color or variety; class 2, best twelve blossoms, not necessarily of one color or variety.

UNDELIVERED TELEGRAMS.

There are telegrams at the Western Union office for A. E. Arrington, Miss Fannie Azarow, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clatcher, Mrs. Ramona Campillo, Miss Kate Coffey, Cy Davis, Miss Marion M. Deweerd, F. M. Duncan, Rex Flanders, Roy Griffin, Mrs. M. S. Hannah, Carlos Jauregui, Miss Babe Kahloff, J. W. King (two,) Joseph Kragen, E. L. Mann, W. J. Owings, C. F. Osterhout, C. C. Richardson, C. R. It is further provided in the order that isolated tracts of less than ten chains in width lying between entered or patented lands cannot be entered or applied for under the ruling of the Interior Department.

It is well known that scores of people have gone on these lands in opposition to orders, and in some instances valuable improvements have been made. Under the ruling they will lose every dollar of their investment, if the tenor of the order is understood by Register Roche and Receiver Mitchell.

That the situation will lead to innumerable lawsuits goes without saying, and the State court especially will be clogged with contests initiated by those who imagined they would be allowed to go on land that had been withdraw nand thought that somehow they would be allowed to hold on.

CAUSE OF MUCH TROUBLE.

The situation growing out of the Yuma project and the proposed restoration of the land lifted out of settlement by the orders of the President in 1909 has been the cause of much trouble to the land officers at Washington for some years. Numerous visits have been made to the section by prominent government officials in the hope that some friendly way might be determined that would clear up the situation.

Notwithstanding that the contemplated opening had not been publicly announced in the Imperial Valley papers because they had received word from the Interior Department too late, hundreds of autos and rigs from Holtville and Brawley put out late Sunday night for land to be restored to entry. Throughout the night bonfires blazed over a wide stretch of country, while immediately after midnight the location notices began to be posted. There were not enough to go around.

NEW COMMISSIONER.

Attorney Hammack, Appointed to Federal Position, Started His Life as Newspaper Reporter.

Judge Trippet yesterday announced the appointment of Daniel M. Hammack of the legal firm of Hammack & Hammack, as United States Commissioner, to succeed Charles N. Williams for the term of four years.

The selection was made by the joint action of Judges Trippet and Bledsoe. The position pays about $100 a month. There were a half dozen aspirants. The first selection, Rufus C. Porter, refused it.

The new commissioner started life as a newspaper reporter, and in the old Burlington days of the late Bob Burdette they served together on the local force of the Burlington Hawkeye, then owned by Frank Hatton, who afterward became Postmaster-General under the Harrison administration. Th new commissioner will have an office in the Federal Building.

Court Holds Session Where Fatal Auto Smash-up Occurred in Order to Gain Clear Details.

In order that details of the automobile accident resulting in the death of Esther Richmond might be made more clear, Justice Brown yesterday morning held a session of the court at the scene of the tragedy, Wilshire boulevard just beyond the city limits. It came up as a part of the reopened preliminary hearing of K. E. Ahlberg, charged with manslaughter, he having been driver of the car on the night of August 25, when the accident happened through alleged carelessness. Numerous pictures showing improvement work being done at that time along the road, to which Ahlberg's attorney objected as evidence in the case, which was overruled, were introduced as evidence in the case, which was continued to tomorrow.

UNION STATION RECOMMENDED.

Grade Crossings Committee Makes Report.

Would Centralize Lines at Point Near Plaza.

Says Clearance of Alameda Street Imperative.

Councilman Topham, chairman of the Special Committee on Viaducts and Grade Separation, and who is also chairman of the Public Works Committee of the City Council, filed with the City Clerk yesterday his report. This includes his observations in various eastern cities regarding the separation of grades and recommendations as to action that should be started in Los Angeles.

Clearing of Alameda street from the Southern Pacific trackage; separation of grades at Macy, Aliso, Seventh and Ninth streets; providing for some viaducts and for some subways underneath the Los Angeles River in other places, and the selection of a site and taking the initial steps towards securing a great union depot in the territory lying east of the old Plaza—these are among the striking features proposed.

The report will go directly to the City Council, and doubtless a special date will be set for its consideration, as so many phases are presented that considerable time will be required for discussion and investigation.

Mr. Topham was sent east by the City Council several weeks ago for the purpose of making a thorough study of conditions in some of the larger cities in regard to separation of grades and the general handling of the traffic problem. His report fully outlines what was accomplished in the line of investigation. He says:

"That Los Angeles must at once take steps to bring about separation of grades is well established, and that it is likely to meet with opposition from the railroads at first is almost certain; but in my study of conditions in the East I found that while in every case the railroads had opposed separation at first, in a short time they learned that such separation was so much to their own advantage that now the railroads are heartily co-operating with the cities to solve this problem, and would not go back to grade crossings if they could.

OPPOSITION DUE TO COST.

"In every case, says the report, it seems that the opposition to grade separation in eastern cities developed because of the cost. In Ohio the law has provided by legislation a way for financing this work. The cost is borne jointly by the railroad and the community on the basis of 65 per cent. by the railroad and 35 per cent. by the community.

"Conditions in Columbus, O.; Wheeling, W. Va.; Bridgeport, O.; Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago, Youngstown, O., and Kansas City are detailed and the work that has been accomplished is set forth.

"The conclusions drawn are that the time is now ripe for Los Angeles to prosecute a vigorous campaign for the separation of grades, and that as a preliminary measure the Board of Public Utilities should be asked to investigate the problem of a union station. On this point the report says:

"By the construction of such a station I believe that Los Angeles will gain as much as Kansas City did in the elimination of grade crossings. The board should be asked to select a location, which, in my judgment, is feasible, and which I believe the City Council has the right to order."

The next recommendation is that the Council should, by ordinance, compel the railroads entering Los Angeles to present plans providing for the separation of grades over their various lines, these plans to be subject to approval by the Board of Public Utilities and the Council.

"The clearing of railroad tracks from Alameda street is considered of immediate importance, either by means of forcing the building of a union station or forcing the railroad to acquire certain rights of way nearer the river and compelling the elevation of tracks.

UNION STATION.

"The building of a union station will also solve the problem as far as the Santa Fe and Salt Lake railroads are concerned," says the report. "We should also compel the elevation of their tracks at Aliso, Macy, Seventh and Ninth and other streets along the line of their tracks, so that these streets will be accessible to the eastern portion of the city without crossing those death traps at grade."

In connection with the report, Chairman Topham filed a map showing the approaches that will be necessary if the union station plan is carried at the site east of the Plaza. The map shows tentative locations and lines of approach for the Southern Pacific, Santa Fe and Salt Lake roads, with terminal yards covering much of the old Chinatown. The yards would occupy about four blocks in width, and is generally confined to the district bounded by Alameda and Date streets on the north and Aliso and Lyon streets on the south and east.

In place of the general viaduct system, which has been previously planned, Chairman Topham suggests that the trunk line tracks and sidings along the river bank be elevated about nine or ten feet and that bridges be constructed under the tracks and the Los Angeles River at Macy, Seventh and Ninth streets, viaducts be constructed at Main, Broadway, First and Fourth streets.

TODAY'S ELECTION TIPS FOR CALIFORNIA VOTERS.

THE TIMES, following its custom of guiding its readers to the best of its ability, honestly and independently, through the confusing maze of the modern California ballot, presents a list of the amendments and propositions, with advice as to the best manner in which to proceed when in the voting booth today. The advice here given to voters is the result of careful study of each of the propositions as they appear on the ballot, and is offered with the aim of benefiting both the individual and the State.

No. 1. Referendum of direct primary law. It eliminates political party lines in election of State officers. Its purpose is plainly to destroy party lines for the purpose of adding to the confusion of the voters and giving the existing officeholders' machine a stranglehold upon the public pay roll. This proposition is neither safe nor sane. It is opposed by the best thought in political economy and is supported chiefly by those in office. Its adoption would bring political anarchy to California and would make this State the spawning ground for all manner of crookedness. Vote No.

No. 2. Form of ballot law, also held up by referendum. It is a part of the party-destroying measure which precedes it and should be killed with equal vigor and force. Vote No.

No. 3. Extending term of Superior judges from six to twelve years. This idea is contrary to the principles of a democracy, and is opposed for the same reason that it creates an officeholders' trust that becomes too far removed from the people. Some judges are on the bench too long under the six-year term. Vote No.

No. 4. Eliminates short term of judges. Our Constitution now contains a flaw in regard to the terms of judges. It leaves a freak short term of sixty days between election and the time of taking office. Last fall the ballot was burdened with the names of candidates for these freak terms. In the interest of shorter ballot and of simplifying the order of succession on the bench this amendment should be adopted. Vote Yes.

No. 5. Authorizes the Legislature to install a rural credits system and colonization plan in California. It is objected to on the ground that farmers may now have the same advantages offered by the proposed scheme. The need in California is not to extend production so much as it is to guarantee to the farmer a fair return for what he produces by eliminating the profits of those who handle his products on the way between the soil and the consumer. The time is not yet ripe to create another expensive department of the State government without definite returns being in sight. Vote No.

No. 6. Brings the initiative and referendum into play with regard to the deposit of public moneys. The change in the Constitution is unnecessary. What California needs is to curb and not to enlarge the scope of the initiative and referendum. Vote No.

No. 7. Authorizes the Legislature to protect the initiative from fraud and misrepresentation. This is the one big joke on the list. Such authorization would be beyond the power of any Legislature. Anyone familiar with the initiative and referendum must know that the only way to purge them of fraud and misrepresentation is to eliminate them altogether. This silly amendment should be defeated. Vote NO.

No. 8. Condemnation for public purposes, or rather excess condemnation. This is an old bird in new feathers. Last fall it was voted down, and there seems to be no adequate reason why there should be a reversal now. It provides that when an improvement contemplated would make too much of a burden upon benefited property the city may condemn and take other property, only to sell back after the improvement is made. It adds another twist to our tangle of public improvement acts. Vote No.

No. 9. This amendment would pave the way to the plundering of property under the guise of taxation, and would give to the Legislature almost unlimited power. To carry out the scheme an army of employees would be engaged at the expense of the State. The tendency, under the provisions, would be upward in its flight. Our taxes have had that tendency for too long a time. Vote No.

No. 10. This provides for the exemption of church property from taxation and extends that exemption to so much of that property as is necessary to carry on social purposes. It segregates the profit-making side of the property and should be adopted. Vote Yes.

No. 11. This proposes to extend the power of county charters by centralizing in an executive committee of Supervisors a more dangerous power than should be tolerated. It is unnecessary and ambiguous. Vote No.

County road bond issue (at foot of ballot:) It requires no financial genius to see that this proposed $2,850,000 to be spent on roads in Los Angeles county is inopportune. The origin of the deal and the manner in which the different items were included raise a reasonable suspicion against the sincerity of the whole thing. Vote No.

Few Routes Surveyed.

election to be held on October 26, 1915, for issuance of county bonds for road improvement purposes; a detailed statement of the condition of these proposed roads in regard to surveys, plans and specifications, or any other information which may be in my possession which relates to the roads referred to, I beg to submit the following:

(1.) MINT CANYON ROAD: 3 stadia surveys from Newhall and Saugus to Palmdale, surveys, with estimates for construction, made by the County Surveyor, and also first 5 miles from Saugus north, now being definitely located by the road department, as per order of your honorable board of September 7, 1915.

(2.) ARROYO SECO ROAD: Stadia survey, with estimates for cost of construction, in vicinity of Pasadena to Palmdale, 2½ miles at mouth of Arroyo Seco, located by the road department by order of your honorable board of May 15, 1915.

(3.) SAN GABRIEL CANYON ROAD: Stadia survey and estimates for cost of construction, from Azusa to Palmdale, made by road department; 12 miles at the southerly end of the San Gabriel Canyon located by road department. Office work on same would be completed by November 15, 1915.

(4.) SKY LINE: No surveys or examination of this line have been made.

an exciting pitch yesterday when Supervisor Hamilton, a passionate champion of the bonds, grew angry at a meeting of the board. The effectiveness of the campaign against the pet bond steal stung him and he charged that a circular signed by the Chamber of Commerce, the Municipal League and the Automobile Club of Southern California was a forgery.

The document, which contains a map and telling arguments against the bonds, is indorsed by Frank Simpson, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, by C. E. McStay of the Auto Club and H. S. Ryerson, secretary of the Municipal League. The directors of these three organizations are bitterly opposed to the bonds.

After the meeting Supervisor Hamilton said he was going to refer the "forgeries" to the District Attorney.

"He makes me laugh," said Mr. Simpson, chairman of the Bond Opposition Committee. "There is no forgery. If there are any misstatements in the circular the county records are to blame, for it is there we found our authority when we arranged the circular and signed it. The directors of the organizations which signed it are in hearty sympathy with the sentiments expressed in the circular."

NUMBER NINE.

The collapse of the administration boom of the tax grab, Amendment No. 9, came at a time when it was seen that the people were opposed to it. The administration has ceased to ask support for this malicious amendment, and is willing to let the people kill it, since legal difficulties have arisen.

The Supervisors yesterday unanimously adopted a resolution against the amendment labeled No. 9, urging the people to vote "No."

The Tax Commission's excuse for withdrawing its support, after a hot fight had been made against the steal, was that the Attorney-General had ruled the referendum could not be invoked against tax measures passed under it. This has been one of the charges made by The Times and other papers through the long campaign in support of the contention that the corporations of California have been behind the proposed tax amendment and were preparing to throw an army of voters into the field today to put it across.

The corporation attorneys who lobbied the amendment through the Legislature are said to have been aware all the time that the referendum could not be invoked against it, as was Gov. Johnson and members of the Tax Commission.

Registrar of Voters McAleer has long since directed the mailing to each voter of a sample ballot, a copy of the amendments with arguments pro and con, and a printed slip showing the voting place of each voter. This literature has gone to every voter in the county.

The Registrar of Voters announces that it is the duty of election officials to bring the returns at once to his office in the Courthouse. It is a violation of the law for any election official to hold the returns until morning.

As it is not believed it will take long to complete the work of counting the ballots, Registrar McAleer is prepared to give fast service when the returns begin coming in tonight.

RESPITE FOR DUNCAN.

Illness of His Mother Causes Postponement of Hearing of Accused Slayer of Police Sergeant.

The preliminary examination of Harry Duncan, alleged slayer of Sergt. J. F. Toolen, was continued in Justice Hinshaw's court yesterday morning. Attorneys Coberly and Marchetti, appearing for the accused, insisted that they could not prepare their case in the short time given them.

They also based their request for a continuance on the affidavit of Dr. Wendell White, which sets forth that Mrs. Mary Duncan, mother of the defendant, is unable to appear. In the affidavit it is stated that Mrs. Duncan is in a serious nervous condition and suffering from bruises inflicted by police officers who broke into her home. "The receiving of these induced and caused the killing of Toolen," sets forth the affidavit.

Deputy District Attorney Shelley, who is handling the prosecution, made no objection to the continuance, but insisted that George Duncan, Jr., one of the important witnesses, be placed under bond.

Hearing on this motion came up in the afternoon and Justice Hinshaw permitted Duncan to retain his liberty on his own recognizance. Attorneys Coberly and Marchetti as a result withdrew as his counsel.

W.C.T.U. LEADERS FETED.

Eastern Delegates Returning from Seattle Convention are Entertained by Local Members.

Eastern delegates of the W.C.T.U. returning from the national convention of the organization at Seattle last week were guests of the local W.C.T.U. members yesterday at an informal reception at Temperance Temple, No. 315 North Broadway. From 9 o'clock in the morning until late in the afternoon hundreds of white ribbon bearers thronged the rooms and paid their respects to the visitors.

In the afternoon, through the courtesy of the County Supervisors, the national officers and prominent women of the organization were taken on an auto tour of Pasadena, Eagle Rock, Hollywood and other local points of interest. Last night an elaborate banquet was tendered in behalf of the visitors and prominent officials of the Southern California Temperance Campaign Federation at Christopher's.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) So great has been our foreign exports that the colossal credits established here by the warring powers have become just about exhausted, and the exchange markets indicate by their weakness that a renewal of these commercial loans will be necessary in order to again strengthen financial relations with the Old World. Speculation in war stocks is again buoyant, railroads, too, sharing in the advance because of recent heavy increases in earnings. Japan is sending gold here in payment for goods bought on a much greater scale than ever before. A movement to eliminate all aliens from speculation in cotton markets here is on foot.

(For details see financial pages.)

FOREARMED.

If you live in the suburbs, be thankful for the fresh air and the quietude, but be sure to lock your house when away from home and leave your bulldog untied at the front steps.

CRUELTY TO ICE CREAM.

We are grieved beyond measure to learn that the national head of the W.C.T.U. advocates turning the wineries and breweries into ice cream factories. What kind of moral turpitude is it that would thrust innocent ice cream into an environment of this influence?

AN INDIVIDUAL AFFAIR.

It is possible that the reason more people cannot have peace with honor is that their idea of honor is strained and sick. When men begin to realize that the mistrust of others is a doubt of themselves both as to motives and capacity, they may give others more credit for honorable intentions.

PROPHECY'S WIDE RANGE.

Once the Almighty gave humanity up for a bad job and turned the mortals out of Eden. Another time He let them all drown except a few who were preserved for seed. The Bible is full of predictions of a third occasion when Providence will abandon men to their own wickedness. It looks as if that sad era were now upon us.

AN INVENTIVE BRAIN.

Yuan Shi Kai is now willing to abandon the idea of a monarchy to avoid any trouble as to recognition by foreign countries, providing the republic of China will make the office of President hereditary. That man is wasted on the heathen. He ought to be the president of an American corporation and be over here to fight the Sherman law.

FOLLY OF BOASTING.

A young man went to Vernon Sunday and displayed a large roll of bills when buying a drink. He was followed by four thieves who beat him into insensibility and then robbed him. There are reasons why men should always keep their business to themselves. One is that you can never tell when another man's motives may interfere with your purposes. Another is that the world's envy may assume proportions of violence at any moment. Even a confession of knowledge is dangerous. Half the people think the smart man is crazy and a big percentage of the others would almost go so far as to kill him in order to discover his secret.

TAXING OPTIMISM.

In the Oregon case of Whitney vs. Bissell (146 Pac, 141) the court held that a property owner cannot accept the benefits of a contract for sale negotiated by a broker to whom he paid a commission, even though such broker originally acted for the purchaser, without ratifying the statements as to the income of the property made by the broker to effect the sale. It seems unjust that an owner of real estate should be held financially responsible for the imaginative discoveries of the real estate agent in whose hands he places his property for sale. If a lie about income has to be paid for, how will it be with lies about climate, scenery and social advantages? Must optimism be excluded from real estate advertisements?

INCORPORATE AT HOME.

Let Los Angelenos who think they can evade responsibility or expense by incorporating in Yuma or Phoenix take notice that the law which authorizes an attachment against a defendant not residing in the State has been held in Idaho (146 Pac. 101) to be applicable to a foreign corporation which maintained an office, held property and transacted business in Idaho and which by the Idaho statute was invested with all the rights and privileges and subject to all the obligations of domestic corporations.

A California corporation, for instance, purchased and worked a gold mine in Idaho. It became involved in debt. If it had been an Idaho corporation its property could not be attached except for cause shown, and between the time that suit was commenced against it and the time when judgment could be obtained it would have an opportunity to compromise with its creditors or dispose of its property. But being a California corporation, it had no such chance. Its property was subject to attachment simply because it was a California corporation, and the fact that its property, its business, its offices and its creditors were all in Idaho made it no less a foreign corporation, and its property was subject to attachment merely because it was a foreign corporation and therefore in law it ranked as a nonresident.

TODAY'S ELECTION.

Nine amendments to the State Constitution, together with two obnoxious State measures whose operation has been suspended by the referendum, are submitted to the electorate in today's special election. Beneath the sugar coating applied to make them appear harmless on the ballot seven of these contain some form of that restraining edict, "thou shalt not." Each takes from the electorate some power it now possesses and bestows it on the Legislature instead. That is the motive carefully worked out through the whole list; the encroachment of the legislative and executive branches of the State government upon rights now enjoyed by private citizens.

"Direct Primary Law" and "Form of the Ballot Law" are proposals one and two at the head of the list. These are the referendum bills that seek to withdraw from the electorate the right to unite legally in parties for the purpose of indorsing under some recognized designation candidates for State offices. Such designation has heretofore been regarded as essential for the convenience and information of the voter as the ballot itself. It is issued in every State and country where either limited or universal suffrage prevails, and its simple but direct purpose is to furnish voters some clew to the opinions and standing of candidates personally unknown to him. In political circles these two propositions are known as the "office-holder's delights" by reason of the enormous advantage they give to an office-holder against an opponent who is neither a millionaire nor the agent or tool of some interest or machine.

No. 3 proposes to extend the terms of superior judges from six to twelve years. This is an attempt to fasten the present judicial regime on the State for at least twelve years. It is opposed to the trend of modern democracy and would benefit chiefly those already in office. Not one able judge in a hundred is refused re-election; short terms enable the electorate to get rid of the undesirables more quickly.

No. 5 is the misnamed "rural credits" amendment. This does not propose a plan for loaning State money and credit to aid private improvement of California lands, as is popularly supposed, but confers on the Legislature the power to establish such a system. The gist of it is that the Legislature would be empowered to traffic in the State's credit without first securing permission of the electorate, as the present Constitution requires. The money could be voted in special appropriation bills which are exempted from the provisions of the referendum, and the people would have no recourse against any extravagance in which reckless or venal Legislatures might indulge. Friends of subsidized rural credits prefer a fixed plan which shall become a part of the Constitution itself.

No. 6 relates to the deposit of public money in banks. This amendment is subject to the same objection that holds against nearly all the others; it removes present constitutional restrictions and leaves the deposit of State money as a matter to be regulated by the Legislature. Under the present restrictions California has lost no deposits, and there seems to be a lively competition among banks to secure State and county funds on deposit. A case of giving up the substance to grasp at the shadow.

No. 7, relating to the initiative and referendum, is curiously and wonderfully made. It is a Siamese twin that provides, first, that an initiative law creating a bonded debt must receive a two-thirds vote to secure its passage and, second, that the Legislature shall have power to pass any laws it likes to "protect petitions provided herein from fraud and misrepresentation." The two-thirds provision was the product of a bad scare that was thrown into the northern legislators by a rumor that Southern California was going to insist that the State buildings should follow the trend of State population. They feared an initiative measure to move the State Capitol and other buildings farther south. The palpable object of the direct-legislation clause is to make it more difficult for any but an organized force, like the present State machine with its 6000 cogs, to circulate such petitions.

No. 8, provides for putting the State, together with counties and municipalities inside the State, into the real estate business. It would permit them to purchase lands in the vicinity of parks and other public places and hold them for a raise. This would create a new species of grafter—the political real estate agent. A similar proposal was presented last year and beaten.

No. 9 is the now notorious tax amendment which would remove all constitutional restrictions as to what property shall be withdrawn by the State from county pay rolls, the amount of State taxes to be levied, and the manner in which State taxes should be assessed. It simply means the citizens should turn over their purses and their property to the Legislature. This measure was one of the most beloved of all by the administration, but the opposition to it became so violent that the State Tax Commission, appointed by the Governor, gave forth a statement last Saturday withdrawing its support from the measure. The reason advanced was that the Attorney-General had announced that the referendum could not be invoked against a tax law passed by the Legislature. It is a flimsy excuse, as The Times exposed this feature of the amendment two months ago and it was then generally discussed.

No 11 exposes part of the plan to unite the office-holders of the State and the counties into one gigantic machine. It relates to county charters and would give the Supervisors practically the same rights in regard to the counties that the other amendments would confer on the Legislature towards the State. It is simply a political amendment.

When one considers closely these amendments in their relation to each other the question naturally rises: "Why have a Constitution? If nothing less than an autocracy will suffice, why keep up this farce longer about letting the people rule?" Gov. Johnson and Speaker Young say the purpose is to make the Constitution more elastic. It will be more elastic from the point of view of the governing class; but how about the governed?

The San Francisco Seals have won the pennant of the Pacific Coast League—another case of the Ohio man, for Harry Wolverton, the manager, was born and raised in Mt. Vernon and used to play on the Columbus team.

A Queer Sort of Party.

THE BONDS.

The Times has made very clear its position on the proposed county bond issue for good roads. As is well known The Times was the pioneer in the movement for good roads and has always helped it along; but it is opposed to this scheme to load an enormous and underestimated debt on the county, for reasons often stated. The taxpayers are crying for relief—their burdens are too great now. These roads are not necessities; they can wait; and the State is going to build some of them, anyway. The roads talked of would cost nearer five millions than three millions; and the proposed bond issue would be only the beginning of trouble; just what the roads would cost, nobody knows. To vote the bond issue would be a wanton, reckless plunge on the part of the county, merely to gratify land speculators.

AN EXORBITANT DEMAND.

Edwin Samuel Montagu, financial secretary to the British treasury, recently made a speech in the House of Commons in which he dwelt upon the magnitude of the burden borne by Great Britain in consequence of the war.

The cost of the navy was great, and Great Britain has paid, and continues to pay, for an army which from a few thousand men has been increased to millions. A part of the expenditures of Australia and Canada for the contingent which they furnished to the British army has been financed by the home government, and the whole cost of the Indian contingent had been similarly borne. In addition to other disbursements England has advanced to France and Russia the cost of equipping and maintaining 3,000,000 soldiers.

Mr. Montagu contended that it was the duty of every British subject to put no less than half his current income at the disposal of the state, either by tax or loan. To do this the people must stint themselves and rearrange their lives with regard to the consumption of luxuries and foreign-purchased goods. There would even then be money left in the pockets of the people that would have to be got later by loan taxation. The knowledge of this had caused the government a feeling of relief and given an assurance that the country could continue to finance the war. Mr. Montagu said in conclusion that the Chancellor of the Exchequer intended to develop with all possible rapidity a compulsory taxation system for the country, but that in itself would not be equal to the case, and voluntary savings were essential to an ultimate victory.

The labor members of Parliament did not agree with Mr. Montagu. They opposed the increased taxes on tea and sugar, and asserted that the government, while preaching economy, was not practicing it, and declared that tremendous waste was going on in the camps of the country. John Annan Bryce, a laborite member, said that since the war there had been colossal extravagance.

It will astonish the world if the English people shall accept the suggestions and act upon the demands of Mr. Montagu. For an Englishman to march under banners to the strains of martial music and to face the guns and bayonets and stink pots of the foe is one proposition; to give half of his income to his country and go without tobacco and beer and eat meat but once a week is another and a different proposition. Will King George give up half his income? Not—as the gifted big Bull Moose might say—"not on your saccharine vitality."

BREAKING PAROLE.

A nice question of honor is involved in the breaking of their parole by German officers from the cruisers interned in American ports. Time was when to any man of reputation a parole was a surer guard against attempt to escape than a fortress, steel bars or the sentinel's rifle.

These German officers were not prisoners of war held by a hostile power and so morally free to attempt escape by any means pluck or ingenuity could devise. They were fugitives who surrendered voluntarily to a neutral and friendly nation and so were held here only by the bonds of honor. We treated them as gentlemen and they abused our trust. Their only excuse is the precedent set by the great Emperor when he broke his parole and escaped from Elba.

No precedent can make an unmoral act anything but unmoral, no matter how world-renowned the man who committed it. And an abuse of confidence and hospitality, to which the action of the escaped German officers amounts, is an unpardonable sin. To the honor of the German navy, be it said, no enlisted man has followed their example.

RUN BY ELECTRICITY.

Peace or war, it makes no difference to the onward march of that mysterious force we call electricity, the greatest power yet harnessed to the service of man. The time is not far distant when all the wheels of the world will be turned by electricity, when distance will be almost annihilated for the feet, the ears and possibly the eyes of man. Soon, perhaps, even conducting wires will be no longer necessary for distributing this universal force in its numerous manifestations.

Yet in the memory of some living men there were no telephones nor telegraphs, no arc lamps nor incandescent bulbs, no electric street cars, no X-rays, no wireless, and electricity was only known as the wild force behind the lightning, to be demonstrated in the laboratory by the friction of glass against silk sparked from the knobs of a Leyden jar. The galvanic battery in its crudest form dates back no farther than the year 1800, while the universal modern dynamo was born commercially only forty-four years ago.

Today the greatest battleship of the world's greatest republic will be run entirely by electricity; already wireless telephony is succeeding wireless telegraphy, and the electrifying of all the railroads in the United States is being discussed as a practical issue. What the next advance will be no prophet can say.

Surely this child force of nature has had a miraculous growth. We cannot imagine now how civilization could exist without this useful servant, not half a century old, developed from a scientific toy to a world necessity in a shorter time than it takes an acorn to produce a full-grown oak tree.

CARRANZA, OF THE IRON BACKBONE.

[CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES]
BY CHARLES M. PEPPER,
Former Trade Adviser, United States Department of State.

WHAT may be expected of Carranza? It is too soon to speak of him as the head of the Mexican republic, for there is none. But he is the head of the de facto Mexican government, recognized by the United States and other countries.

Consistency may be expected of him in this capacity. His whole career shows that he is not an opportunist. He is the same Carranza that he was when, as the head of a wandering Cabinet in the Sierra Madres, he claimed to be the Constitutional government of Mexico by virtue of his position as Governor of the State of Coahuila. He asserted the same right of recognition by foreign powers then that is now accorded him. His fugitive government he maintained was the constitutional regime of Mexico and as such charged with maintaining proper respect for Mexican sovereignty.

Carranza was consistent in his attitude when he turned back the British and American officials, who thought they were going across the Rio Grande to investigate the murder of Benton on Mexican soil. Carranza held that Benton, having been killed on Mexican soil, the only proper investigating body was the authority of Mexico as personified in him as the First Chief.

Carranza also was consistent when he sent home the Spanish Minister and the Guatemalan Minister because they were charged with acts hostile to his government. He was equally consistent in his rejection of the ABC ultimatum that he must get out and allow a compromise chief, representing all the factions, to be chosen.

His unbending consistency would not permit him to let the Washington administration save its face by forcing him to efface himself in the interest of Senor Tagle, whose selection as the compromise head of the different factions would have been in accordance with the Washington policy.

This has been Carranza's attitude toward foreign powers. It may be that he will mellow a little in the sunlight of recognition by these powers, but there will be no change in his general policy in international affairs.

The United States and other countries which have submitted to his rebuffs already have indicated that they will be patient while he is seeking fully to establish his moral and material capacity to dominate Mexico's turbulent internal affairs. Most Americans whose admiration he has won by his grit in refusing to be eliminated will wish him well in his present task, but will not be able entirely to conceal their misgivings.

Carranza has shown that he has the courage of obstinacy, or conviction, according as his actions may be viewed. What he has achieved in the way of holding together the revolutionary forces, outside those of Villa and Zapata, has been without the possession of the slightest degree of personal magnetism. He has been as unbending to the military chiefs who acknowledge him as First Chief as to the foreign powers.

The significant development of the past six months has been the loyalty of these chiefs. When the Pan-American conferees, including the United States, formulated their coercive programme there was every confidence that Carranza would be deserted by his chiefs. It is only a few weeks since the official outgivings from Washington bluntly stated that, while Carranza himself might hold out to the last ditch, he would be alone and would become a negligible factor. Undoubtedly, some of Carranza's civilian subordinates and former associates were ready to desert him; but the fighting element stood firmly by him, and Washington was compelled to admit one more addition to its numerous failures to understand the Mexican situation.

Since the military chiefs are still loyal, it may be that the country will accept the de facto government and support Carranza's measures for a while.

Carranza will take his own time in putting into effect the imposing programme of social and economic reforms about which so much has been heard; yet there is no reason to question his good faith in this programme so long as making it effective is left entirely to him. He cannot delay indefinitely making some efforts to give the people the land which is their heritage. If this way of doing it fails to accomplish results, Carranza's reasoning will be that it is the fault of the people, and not of the administration of which he is the head. This is one of the mental processes of which he has given frequent evidences.

Respectability, at least superficial respectability, may be expected from the Carranza de facto government. Carranza has no endless chain of kinsmen who must be taken care of, and the carnival of grafting, which clouded the Madero administration, will not be so much in evidence. Madero, like Carranza, was respectable; but he was an idealist surrounded by materialists. Carranza is an austere old man who may be surrounded by grafters, but who cannot be so easily imposed upon.

These things may be expected of Carranza. What may be expected of the Mexican Indian population and of the tribal chiefs after a few months, or a year or so, is the unopened chapter of Mexico's bloody history.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

OCTOBER.

In sad October Dame Nature's sober, the skies are bleak o'erhead, and winds seem sighing, "All things are dying, if not already dead." The frost lies hoary where late the glory of flowers was seen at morn; the rustic bumpkin brings home the pumpkin and shucks the yellow corn. The sun is hiding, save when, dividing, the clouds give him a chance to make a showing and do some glowing, and then we sing and dance. Now helter-skelter the cows seek shelter, when cold night winds arise; the colts and fillies all have the willies, and run as for a prize. The flies are reeling along the ceiling, their labors nearly o'er; the wind is wailing, "The autumn's failing, and winter's at the door!" The autumn's dwindling—hast bought the kindling and other furnace food? Hast bought the maple and other staple and standard brands of wood? It's late October; the earth will robe her ere long in snow and storm, and if we're ready we'll all be ready, and have our wigwams warm. WALT MASON.

"Now, tell me," she said, at the close of the lesson, "who will get the biggest crown?"

There was silence for a minute or two, then a bright little chap piped out:

"Him wot's got t' biggest 'ead."

Guessing at the Roads.

DOWNEY, Oct. 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In The Times of Oct. 18, former Supervisor Sidney A. B[illegible] said the three Supervisors who [illegible] the bond issue have simply guessed at figures. If they have been guessing as to the roads that would be the most important especially to Los Ang[illegible] they have another guess coming.

Good Roads Bonds a Private Property-sharing Scheme.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—To the voters of Los Angeles County: There must be something radically wrong with this proposed bond issue of $2,350,000 for road purposes when we find the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, Municipal League, [illegible] Automobile Club of Southern California, Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association and other organizations passing resolutions and working against the proposed issue. Especially the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the Automobile Club of Southern California, up to this time have invariably supported and advocated the construction of improved highways, whether State or county. The following brief outline should convince any unbiased person that the opposition of these great civic organizations is well founded:

To properly understand the situation we must go back two or three years, when a determined effort was made to compel the State Highway Commission to change the route of the State highway between Los Angeles and Bakersfield. The State Highway Commission had adopted a route known as the "Ridge Route," being the shortest possible line between Los Angeles and Bakersfield. The Antelope Valley interests attempted at that time to force the State Highway through Antelope Valley over the Tehachepi Mountains to Bakersfield. Had they been successful, this routing would have added fifty miles to the length of the road and $500,000 to its cost. Their influence was sufficient to get the question opened up again after the commission had three times decided against them. Failing in their first attempt, these same interests began advocating a road to Antelope Valley via the Arroyo Seco. Not to be outdone, the people near the mouth of the San Gabriel River called the attention of the Board of Supervisors to the necessity of another parallel road to terminate in the Antelope Valley, joining the Arroyo Seco road at Palmdale. About the same time, the Supervisors discovered that it was absolutely necessary to build another harbor boulevard, though we have one now, specially constructed and able to care for all traffic to the harbor for many years to come. For fear that the Arroyo Seco and the San Gabriel roads would not take care of the traffic to the Antelope Valley, a third road must be improved, and the Mint Canyon road is to have $200,000 expended upon it. The following additional roads, all leading to Antelope Valley, are mainained at county expense: The Soledad Canyon road, the Bouquet road, the San Francisquito and the State highway, now nearing completion, traverses the western end of the same valley.

pany, the meeting developed little new in the informative line.

"If the project falls through, all money subscribed will be returned," he said. "Our acceptance of any money is contingent on one thing—the continuance of the exposition."

"In other words," said Henry J. Penfold, former secretary of the exposition, "the money belongs to the subscribers until it is called for by those who can officially say the exposition is to be continued as the Greater Southern California Exposition."

Though Los Angeles is called upon for two contributions of $75,000 each—one as a pledge of good faith and the other to guarantee the exposition company against loss—the work of the hour is to raise the first. This must be in cash, for if it is decided to continue the exposition, with Los Angeles and San Diego joining hands in the enterprise, there is a need for ready money to secure additional exhibits and refurnish the buildings and grounds at San Diego. The second, or guarantee fund, is important, but there is not instant need for its raising.

"The first $75,000 is the imperative thing," said Chairman Goodwin. "It is the signature to the document. It will mean that the Greater Southern California Exposition has been definitely launched."

President Bulla of the Chamber of Commerce called the meeting to order. After the permanent officers had been selected, all without opposition, President Davidson of the exposition made a short talk, restating the original proposition. Then a number of men who have been working on subscriptions were called on for reports. "I expect my company to make a donation within a few days," said General Passenger Agent McGinnis of the Southern Pacific.

"The question of a many contributions will have to be taken up with Mr. Clark," said General Agent Adams of the Salt Lake. "However, I have a wire here from the Rotary Club of Salt Lake stating that the question of a cash contribution is to be taken up at their Friday meeting. This shows that there is interest outside of Southern California."

George H. Hart also reported for the Southern California Hotel Owners' Association that the word to start the campaign is eagerly awaited, while the automobile men assured their co-operation.

A discussion of possible reductions in railroad rates brought out the fact that the transcontinental lines are opposed to any reductions lower than the summer tourist rate of $72.50. However, there will be two periods during the coming year when a special rate of $65 will be offered from the East, with tickets good ninety days.

Guessing at the Roads.

DOWNEY, Oct. 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In The Times of October 21, former Supervisor Sidney A. Butler said the three Supervisors who favor the bond issue have simply guessed at figures. If they have been guessing as to the roads that would be the most important especially to Los Angeles, they have another guess coming.

WILLIAM SEX.

Good Roads Bonds a Private Profit-sharing Scheme.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.

To the voters of Los Angeles County:

There must be something radically wrong with this proposed bond issue of $2,350,000 for road purposes when to find the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, Municipal League, the Automobile Club of Southern California, Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association and other organizations passing resolutions and working against the proposed issue. Especially the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the Automobile Club of Southern California, up to this time, have invariably supported and advocated the construction of improved highways, whether State or county. The following brief outline should convince any unbiased person that the opposition of these great civic organizations is well founded:

To properly understand the situation we must go back two or three years, when a determined effort was made to compel the State Highway Commission to change the route of the State highway between Los Angeles and Bakersfield. The State Highway Commission had adopted a route known as the "Ridge Route," being the shortest possible line between Los Angeles and Bakersfield. The Antelope Valley interests attempted at that time to force the State Highway through Antelope Valley over the Tehachepi Mountains to Bakersfield. Had they been successful, this routing would have added fifty miles to the length of the road and $500,000 to its cost. Their influence was sufficient to get the question opened up again after the commission had three times decided against them. Failing in their first effort, these same interests began promoting a road to Antelope Valley from the Arroyo Seco. Not to be outdone, the people near the mouth of the San Gabriel River called the attention of the Board of Supervisors to the necessity of another parallel road to terminate in the Antelope Valley, joining the Arroyo Seco road at Glendale. About the same time, the Supervisors discovered that it was entirely necessary to build another State boulevard, though we have at present, specially constructed and splendid to care for all traffic to the harbor for many years to come. For fear that the Arroyo Seco and the San Gabriel roads would not take care of the traffic to the Antelope Valley, a third road must be improved, and the Mint Canyon road is to have $200,000 expended upon it. The following additional roads, all leading to Antelope Valley, are maintained at county expense: The Soledad Canyon road, the Bouquet road, the San Francisquito and the State Highway, now nearing completion, between the western end of the same and Saugus.

About this time opposition began to develop, requiring a change of programme, so the majority of the Supervisors decided we were really in need of scenic roads, and, temporarily at least, Antelope Valley lost two of its many roads. The Arroyo Seco and San Gabriel roads were cut off at the summit of the Sierra Madre Mountains, and it was estimated that at a cost of $150,000 a road could be built on the crest of these mountains connecting the Arroyo Seco and San Gabriel roads, now transformed, for the time being at least, from commercial roads intended to quicken the development of the "great empire of the Antelope Valley" (see letter of July 13, 1915, from Mr. Hinshaw to Board of Supervisors) to just ordinary scenic roads. It might be well to point out at this time that no surveys of these so-called scenic roads have ever been made—nobody knows what they will cost, or can know in the absence of surveys. The crest portion, thirty miles, estimated to cost $5000 a mile, nobody has walked over, and it is not known whether a road can be built there or not; portions of the State highway, in softer material and in less formidable mountains, cost $50,000 a mile.

It must not be assumed, however, that the Antelope Valley interests are going to permit these scenic roads to stop at the crest, for the reverse is true. It was admitted by one of their representatives in a public meeting in the Chamber of Commerce that they were advocating these routes because, later on, they expected one or both of them to be extended to their valley.

The interests of the Antelope Valley have been well taken care of in Sacramento, too, for we find that the State is obligated, in the event the forthcoming issue of State bonds is voted, to build an improved State highway starting at Bridgeport, Mono county, through the entire length of Antelope Valley, from north to south, to Los Angeles city. An appropriation has also been made by the State, amounting to $7500, and is now available, to defray the cost of a survey of the Arroyo Seco road, and the proponents assure us that the act making the appropriation is so worded as to make it mandatory upon the State Highway Commission to adopt the Arroyo Seco route. This being true, and the facts are known to our Supervisors, why do they propose to put the taxpayers to this unnecessary expense?

In short, this whole bond issue is nothing more or less than a scheme on the part of some wideawake and enterprising owners of real estate in the Antelope Valley to have a great number of roads built to their holdings at the expense of the general public. The harbor boulevard, in particular, is the leaven cleverly inserted to float the entire issue. Nobody thought we were in pressing need of another harbor boulevard until another set of interests acquired industrial property along the line of the proposed harbor boulevard. Every section of the county has received its sop, and all the odds and ends of road have been put in one issue to be voted upon as a whole, and the Supervisors have refused to segregate the items to insure success. Even the Socialistic colony in the Antelope Valley, with a population of fifty-three persons, gets nine miles of detached road, which does not connect with any other existing road. Lordsburg and San Dimas were the only sections of the county momentarily overlooked, but the Supervisor of that district corrected the mistake as soon as his attention was called to the oversight.

If this road bond issue was the only one in sight it would not be so serious, but if all of the proposed city and county bond issues now contemplated carry, including storm protection, viaducts, civic centers, etc., etc., there will be added $25,000,000 to the debt of the city and county, and Los Angeles will bear 65 per cent., or $16,000,000, in addition to an indebtedness now of over $40,000,000. When you go to the polls on Tuesday vote "no" on this bond issue—and by so doing prevent public funds being expended to promote private interests.

PLUCKY WOMAN.

She Chases Purse-snatchers, Regains Her Handbag, and Crooks Escape Only After She Sprains Ankle.

Miss Florence Sheldon of No. 1029 South Hope street early last night gave chase to two men who snatched her purse as she stood near her home, and she came so near to capturing the men that they were forced to drop the purse, containing about $25, and flee.

According to Miss Sheldon, she was returning to her home from a downtown office where she is employed, when two men approached her and snatched her purse from her arm. Turning, Miss Sheldon gave chase to the thieves and almost captured the one carrying her purse. He dropped the purse, which was recovered by Miss Sheldon, who even then did not give up the chase.

Running behind a billboard about two blocks from Miss Sheldon's home the two thieves made their escape, but only after Miss Sheldon had stumbled over a pile of boards and wrenched her right ankle and was unable to continue the chase.

Coulter's for the Best Dry Goods Since 1878

No lack of fine and fashionable and beautiful things here. We have plenty of linens for months to come; fresh shipments of famous Swiss ribbed underwear; plenty of French kid gloves; and wherever there is a shortage of imported merchandise, we have adequately filled in all gaps with American goods.

We have special attractions and extra values frequently—in fact, no day goes by that does not bring something unusual.

But always remember there is a guiding rule in all we do—an obligation to our customers, to be prompt and courteous, to maintain our standards of quality and desirability in merchandise, to see to it that you get full value for every dollar, and to share with you every advantage which our prestige in the market gives us.

Fetching Hats, Caps and Scarfs for Miladi's Motoring Wear

You can judge how popular these graceful scarfs are from the fact that practically every woman who wears a sports suit buys one or more of these—and sports suits were never more popular!

There are fleeced wool scarfs, knitted silk scarfs and all-silk scarfs, many of them with gather tasseled ends, in stripes of all hues, in pretty two-tone combinations, in plain colors; such a delightfully wide variety that the question is more what to omit than what to purchase—75c to $6.50. The Hats are shown in satin, messaline, velvet, in Roman stripes, plaids, combinations of suede leather bands, stitched velvet brim and plaid satin tops. The Caps come with stiff or soft visors; all-corduroy, stripes, checks and plaids; Tam o'Shanters, too, in plain or two-tone combinations; $2.95 to $5.00; see the window display.

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

G. A. BADING, Mayor of Milwaukee, accompanied by Mrs. Bading, is enjoying a visit to Southern California and Los Angeles at present, at the country place of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Schumacher, ideally located in Earle Rock. The distinguished visitors will be here for at least a week longer.

To Receive Friends.

Mrs. Emily French of Tacoma, Wash., will be at home to her friends at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. A. M. Goldenson, No. 993 Wilton place, on the afternoon of Friday, between the hours of 3 and 5.

Interesting Announcement

Mr. and Mrs. John Marcinek announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Katherine, to William Joseph Walters on Saturday, the 23rd inst. The happy young couple will be at home after November 10 at No. 1109 Ingraham street, this city.

The groom is an active young business man. Their honeymoon is being spent in San Francisco.

A Birthday Dinner.

Mrs. T. N. Newell gave a birthday of perfect appointments on Saturday night, in honor of Mr. Newell, covers being placed for twelve. The decorative motif was artistically executed in pink roses, a mound of Cecile Brunner buds and maidenhair fronds forming a center. The birthday cake was also decorated in pink rosebuds, and bore burning candles in soft pink shades. The enjoyable event was given at the Newell home, No. 268 South Mariposa avenue.

At the Jewel City.

Mrs. Emeline Bancroft Harmon of No. 1920 West Twenty-second street, and her daughter, Mrs. Leonard Gustin Swales of Newport Heights, are at the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, for an indefinite stay.

Card Club Entertained.

At her home on No. 1528 West Fifty-second street, Mrs. Clifford E. Schroer entertained at luncheon, followed by an afternoon at cards on Wednesday, those present being members of the Hostess' Card Club. The luncheon board was bright with gaily colored Halloween favors and suggestions, and covers were laid for Mmes. John L. Williams, C. Roble Bean of Venice, Robert W. Thompson, Thomas Jones, C. S. Fallernstrom, Alice Riviere, Henry A. Knight, George H. Cornell, C. V. Boquist, George David.

Golf Champion Here.

Prefering a rest from the war zone, Mr. and Mrs. C. Nicholas Broglie, daughter and infant, of Masterton, New Zealand, are enjoying their first trip to California, and are located at the Beverly Hills Hotel for the winter months. Both Mr. and Mrs. Broglie enjoy outdoor sports, Mrs. Broglie having held the championship at golf in New Zealand for a number of years.

Frolic at Midwick.

Fashionable Midwick Country Club is planning merriment galore for Halloween, at the dinner dance. Guests are requested to appear in Wild West costumes, though many will prefer full dress. The committee in charge is embodying many novel features for the evening's enjoyment.

Their Return Greeted.

Mrs. H. C. Gooding and Miss Gertrude Gooding have just returned from a three months' stay in San Francisco and environs. Several pleasant days were spent at beautiful Del Monte en route home. The ladies are at Hotel Darby for the winter.

An Event of Last Night.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Lippincott, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. A. Misemer, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Norvell, Mrs. Rollin B. Lane, Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Schloesser, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin George, Otto S. Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Burdick, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Stern, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Washington Kohler, Mr. and Mrs. Ingle Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde J. Eastman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robert Paul, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. LeRoy, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. John Gilman Blythstone formed the personnel at an atelier tea given by Mr. Hoover at the Alexandria Hotel last night. Miss Mabelle Lewis assisted in dispensing hospitality.

To Winter Here.

Another delightful winter for the Hobart Moores of Chicago and New York is being enjoyed by these prominent easterners, who arrived last Sunday from their summer home at Lake Geneva, Wis. Mr. and Mrs. Moore are well known in Southern California, as they own a beautiful home in Santa Barbara, which is one of the show places in that vicinity. Mr. and Mrs. Moore have taken one of the attractive bungalows at the Beverly Hills Hotel.

Enthusiastic Motorists.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith of Denver, the former a wealthy Colorado mining man, are sojourning at Ocean Park, where they are occupying a suite at the Merritt Jones Hotel. Mrs. Smith expects to remain at Ocean Park for the entire winter. Mr. Smith is leaving this week for Denver and will motor overland, following the old Santa Fe trail. The Smiths motored west early in the summer, traveling over the Lincoln highway, and have spent the past few months leisurely touring California.

Exchange Vows.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Beeching, No. 1578 West Forty-sixth street, at 6 o'clock Saturday evening, when their daughter, Beatrice, plighted her troth with Hugh Clark of Pasadena. Rev. Ross officiated at the ceremony.

The bride wore a very becoming gray traveling suit. The house was tastefully decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and asparagus plumosus.

It was strictly a home affair and only immediate members of the family were present.

The happy couple left immediately after the ceremony for the San Francisco exposition, and on their return will reside at Los Robles court, Pasadena.

A Double Wedding.

Of great interest to their innumerable friends was the double wedding of Charles A. Briener and Miss F. Hazel Shire and Boyd Young and Miss Ada Shire, solemnized in the Pico Heights Congregational Church on Saturday. Rev. J. M. Schaefle read the lines, while Frederick Davis presided at the organ. Following the ceremony the bridal couples departed for an extended wedding trip, and upon their return will reside at No. 241 West Sixty-third street, this city.

Yellow Roses and Maidenhair.

Following a box party at the Orpheum Mrs. L. D. Hicks of South Pasadena was hostess yesterday afternoon at tea at the Alexandria Hotel. The guests included Mrs. C. C. Clarke, Mrs. Hayner Porter, Miss Olive Drake, Mrs. Thomas Nash and Mrs. Roy Blodgett. The table was decorated with yellow roses and maidenhair ferns.

Washingtonians Conclude Visit.

Mrs. George E. Boyer and daughter, and Miss May Devereaux, of Washington, D. C., who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Walker at their home on Benton way, will return home this week, going by way of the Grand Canyon.

In Exposition Colorings.

Mrs. T. S. Southwick of Central avenue was the guest of honor at a dinner party given last Wednesday by Mrs. Edna T. Stickering of West Adams street. There were thirteen ladies present. Besides Mrs. Southwick, who was recently the guest of the hostess to the San Francisco fair, there were present Mrs. R. T. Brun, Mrs. J. Scoppy, Miss Julia Greene, Miss Hattie Stone, Mrs. J. B. Gibson, Mrs. and Miss Tweedy, Miss Cunningham, Dr. Alice Stone, Mrs. and Miss Sinclair and Mrs. Stickering. The table was decorated with exposition favors and colors.

Betrothed.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gysin announce the engagement of their daughter, Laura Mae, to Shelley Emmert Keiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Keiser of Van Buren place.

Dancing Party.

Mrs. Mike Levee, pretty young matron and bride of about a year, had an attractive dancing party at the Bryson Thursday evening, with buffet supper later in her apartment. Violets and roses were blended into an attractive table adornment, beautified with pink tulle bows and candelabra holding pink-toned tapers. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Pelton, Mr. and Mrs. N. James Cordary, Mr. and Mrs. A. Witzel, Mr. and Mrs. Turner Elmer Weatherholt, Mr. and Mrs. Don Keeler, Miss Rector, Max Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Cosh and Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Ranger.

To Tour Australia.

The following Los Angeles people will leave San Francisco today on the Oceanic liner Ventura for Australia via Honolulu and Samoa: Mr. and Mrs. George E. Lenert, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wilsher, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Seely, W. W. Parris, Mrs. H. H. Brown, Mrs. M. D. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Lewis, A. H. Gabel, W. J. Manion, C. J. Carle, R. F. Engle, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Katherine Hicks, Miss Margie Wentzel, C. W. Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Blake and Mrs. W. R. Brown.

Several of the party will continue their journey to principal cities of Australia.

WORK REVEALS FINE ADVANCE.

Little Theater Players Sound Bigger Note.

Double Bill Proves Interesting Study.

Screen Features are Alluring this Week.

BY HENRY CHRISTEEN WARNACK

From "Snow White" to "Margot" and "The Necessary Evil" is a long run, but the Little Theater players catch the pace with nice distinction, which proves that art may wear seven league boots and be better for it.

Certainly the offering of the present week at the tiny playhouse is vastly superior to that of two weeks ago, and while the curtain raiser is a hectic blossom from the Sudermann hothouse and the longer piece preaches first and considers entertainment afterwards, the programme contrives to be interesting and throws a decent light upon subjects of reputed indecency.

Of course Margot is rather more abnormal than disreputable. It is the exceptional woman's story and therefore has no very wide appeal. There is no particular harm in giving it, although most people would not understand it and would not care about it if they did.

Modern society has produced some strange types of women. This Margot is probably not fictitious. The chances are that Sudermann knew such a creature and was enough struck by her to undertake her incarnation in a one-act play. Margot considered passion in the abstract, very much as do some men, and disassociated it from love, as men often do. When she met a man who loved her and who wanted to marry her, she was some time in understanding his proposal of marriage and then rejected him temporarily, until she could go out and prove her own ability to stand in the world against temptation.

Having presented an abnormal person Sudermann did not dare let her settle with herself in normal fashion. The story is unfamiliar and unsatisfactory, but is presented with nice finish by Arthur Shirley, Edward Cecil, Mrs. Dupont-Joyce, Blanche Hall and Earle Robinson. Its setting is sumptuous.

LECTURE SEASON?

It would seem that Los Angeles is due for a season of curtain lectures on social morality. We may or may not escape "Damaged Goods;" but we cannot escape "The Necessary Evil," as it is presented with entire politeness and with unusual ability by Frank Egan, Blanche Hall, Michael Hallward and Mrs. Dupont-Joyce. Barring the fact that Mrs. Dupont-Joyce adopts too much of the hollow sepulchral tone and is inclined to chant her lines like a sad litany, the performance is most acceptable. Mr. Egan, in particular, has many moments of vigor and brilliance which bring to the offering a tone haughtiness that helps to save it from the deadliness of too much duologue.

This play is nothing but talk of the preaching variety. It places its message before art or construction, which is a great mistake if a play is intended for the stage. It is the second best thing that Charles Rann Kennedy ever wrote, the very best being his "Idol Breakers," which seems entirely unactable.

"The Necessary Evil," having no action in it, cannot be acted, but may be talked and if people go to hear it, knowing what it is, they can have no complaint, providing it is well read. Mrs. Dupont-Joyce is not entirely to blame if she sounds like a voice from the tombs, because the manner in which the author has this woman step into the play is entirely outside of natural probability. She is merely the voice of what is called the "underworld" and reminds one of the introduction to "The Traffic." She appears with sudden mystery like a fog in the night, and the situation is at once pitched upon a key so unnatural that one is prepared to hear her discuss anything without surprise.

After the startling lack of invention which introduces her, nothing else could seem strange. It is rather too improbable to be impressive. In life women do not come into people's houses unexpectedly at the moment of a birthday party in order to deliver a sermon in a rather tiresome manner on the subject of masculine depravity and feminine delinquency, and in plays it is bad taste to have them do so, unless it leads to something dramatic.

This is not a play, but it is a very interesting discussion of sin from the standpoint of old-fashioned goodness. The Little Theater company does very well with it, and while one may quarrel with Mrs. Dupont-Joyce for her reading, she must be credited with having exactly caught the atmosphere of mystery with which the part is imbued.

Republic.

Even more sensational than last week are the new East Indian dances featured by Sarina de Storey on the programme which opened yesterday at the Republic Theater. From the first slow sensuous steps of her latest oriental creation to the spectacular "dance of death," Miss De Storey casts an atmosphere of the Far East over the theater.

Excellent contrast is furnished by Lester and Dolly in their laughable dancing sketch, "Tango Troubles." The couple are really experts, as they show in several new steps, but they get a lot of fun out of their take-off of the dance craze.

The Baltus brothers bring new and startling acrobatic feats direct from the Empress Theater, San Francisco.

The musical favors are divided between the Three Clares, with their "Dream Doll," and charming Ruth Florence, who sings several selections in a most pleasing manner. The harmony of the Penn City Trio is liberally sprinkled with comedy.

One of the hits of the bill is the photoplay version of "Salvation Nell," with Beatriz Michelena in the title role.

Miller's.

"The Family Stain," six reels of thrills and mystery, is the attraction at Miller's this week. This splendid Fox production of Gaboriau's famous novel, "The Widow Le Rouge," is full of dramatic moments, suspense and unusual situations, and is played by a brilliant company of screen favorites, headed by the well-known character actor, Frederick Perry.

The added attraction is another one of those complete two-reel J. Rufus Wallingford fun films, entitled "A Rheumatic Joint."

Palace of Pictures.

"The Blindness of Virtue," the gripping modern morality photoplay, which features Edna Mayo and Bryant Washburn, started its second successful week yesterday at the Palace of Pictures.

The play makes a powerful plea to parents to tell their sons and daughters important facts that are too often kept from them through a false sense of modesty.

The acting of the dual stars is sincere at every turn, and the rest of the cast enters thoroughly into the spirit of the play.

Woodley.

"The Secret Sin," a thrilling and dramatic photoplay, with Blanche Sweet in the dual role of twin sisters, is the screen magnet at the Woodley Theater this week. This screen feature incidentally signalizes the inauguration of the Paramount all-star service at the Woodley.

The story of "The Secret Sin" is replete with tense situations, which give Miss Sweet splendid opportunity and she reveals her versatility in the portrayal of the two different roles. One sister is a strong, high-minded girl, the other an unfortunate victim of the drug habit. Realistic scenes in Chinatown opium dens add to the interest of the photoplay. A delightful romance runs through the film.

Miss Sweet has the assistance of a strong cast, including Thomas Meighan, Hal Clements, Alice Knowland, Sessue Hayakawa and Margery Daw, the clever 14-year-old protege of Geraldine Farrar.

Quinn's Superba.

With "Damaged Goods" tucked in camphor until the board of censors comes to a final decision as to what shall be done with the film, Quinn's Superba is showing a picture this week which has the stamp of Thomas Ince all over it.

Featuring Clara Williams in the role of the adventuress, "The Man from Oregon" is not only one of the best pictures ever shown at the Superba, but one of the most finished pieces of work ever turned out by the great Triangle director.

"The Man from Oregon" tells a story filled with political intrigue and chicanery, and has a cumulative interest that holds throughout the five reels. The big scene is laid in the United States Senate, showing that body in session, with Vice-President Marshall presiding and Howard Hickman, "the man from Oregon," holding the floor.

Tally's Broadway.

Geraldine Farrar, if she had never done anything except to appear in the Lasky film production of "Carmen," would be famous. This is a strong statement, to be sure; but one has only to view the photoplay at Tally's this week to realize the fact. Miss Farrar invests "Carmen" with all the fascinating allurement ever dreamed of in connection with the cigarette-maker who bedevilled all the unfortunate gentlemen who came within eyeshot of her charms.

Miss Farrar's "Carmen" is a dramatic triumph. And her delineation is a subtle one. She is ever active; there is not a moment of immobility, yet every action suggests perfect mental poise and reserve power.

At the end, in the death scene, Miss Farrar showed her absolute artistic sense by allowing the natural pathos of the situation to make its own appeal. In other words, there were almost no gestures and no undue mouthings or facial contortions, thus carrying out the idea of courage, one of Carmen's strongest characteristics.

Pedro de Cordoba, while he had not much to do as the Toreador, was entirely adequate.

To Wallace Reid goes a goodly share of the honors. Mr. Reid's Don Jose, the wholesome youth whom Carmen ruins, is one of the finest bits of screen acting ever accomplished. And it was all accomplished quietly.

The scenic settings were of the usual thoroughly artistic Lasky kind.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

The Ebell Club will this afternoon celebrate its twenty-first birthday at the clubhouse at 3 o'clock, the charter day anniversary being in charge of the president, Mrs. W. S. Bartlett, and Mrs. J. C. McCoy. A reception will follow the programme.

The auditorium was crowded yesterday, for J. L. Harbour's "Blessed be Humor" entertainment. This disciple of the gospel of cheerfulness gave amusing bits from his experiences as editor of a country newspaper, a country school teacher, a Rocky Mountain prospector, as a fond father and frequent attendant at afternoon teas, and proved, incidentally, that there was need of all the merriment put in the world.

Mr. Harbour, who hails from Boston, has delivered this lecture fourteen times before home audiences, disproving that a man is without honor in his own country. He has also had over 300 stories appear in the Youth's Companion.

While in Southern California Mr. Harbour is the house guest of his cousin, Mrs. J. O. McCament, in Pasadena, and other relatives. His sister, Mrs. I. D. Woodbury, and a brother, B. A. Barbour, also reside in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Percy Teal, at the head of the Needlework Guild of America, told the ladies briefly of the excellent work her organization is doing in time of distress, growing in thirty years to over 400 societies, and collecting over 649,000 garments a year for charity. She asked the co-operation of the Los Angeles ladies, who, in order to be a member, were asked only for two new garments each year. Mrs. Boyle Workman is president of the Los Angeles branch.

The proposed amendment limiting the membership to 1600 was again read yesterday, and will be voted upon at next week's meeting. This question was strongly discussed two years ago, and seems likely to pass this time, inasmuch as the membership July 1 last was 1513—much too large to accommodate upon special days.

Those who are making the month of October a decidedly pleasant social one are Mrs. Charles S. Anderson, chairman of ushers, assisted by Mrs. Harry Andrews, Mrs. Almon B. Ross, Miss Ethel Frances Coleman and Miss Anne H. Smith. Mrs. Henry Van Bergen, chairman of the House Committee, assisted by Mrs. W. W. Homan, have as hostess for October Mrs. Wiley J. Rouse, who in turn is assisted by the following ladies: Mmes. Joseph Black, Frederick W. Beau de Zart, J. E. Carr, Bruce H. Cass, Charles W. Chase, Jasper E. Crandall, Secondo Guasti, Sidney M. Haskell, C. Colcock Jones, Emil Kirchner, Jay B. Millard, Oscar W. Roberts, George F. Ross and L. Otis Shaw. The Courtesy Committee numbers Mrs. John C. McCoy, chairman; Mrs. S. M. Browne, Mrs. Charles S. Kent, Mrs. George H. Kress, Miss Ellen Augusta Lamb, Mrs. Daniel E. Luther, Mrs. Shirley C. Ward, Mrs. Charles Wier and Past President Mrs. William L. Jones.

Highland Park Ebell.

Dr. Hector Alliot, curator of the Southwest Museum, gave a most interesting talk before the Highland Park Ebell Club last Tuesday morning. His topic was "The Civic Endeavor of the Southwest Museum," and he explained that it was the purpose of the museum to make each specimen earn its own living; to make it add to the knowledge of the world; to make it an instrument for constructive work, not merely a thing to be shown as a curiosity. The ordinary idea of the ordinary visitor to a museum, Dr. Alliot says, is that it is a good place to spend an afternoon. The Southwest Museum has definite plans for making itself a place where things may be learned, where the eternal "why" of the archaeologist may be answered in so interesting and so convincing a manner that the museum will be a genuine factor in educating and promoting appreciation of beauty in the lives of all who visit it.

In introducing the speaker Mrs. James R. Riggins, chairman of the civics section, mentioned the City Beautiful Planning Association, before beginning his lecture Dr. Alliot spoke briefly of the methods which are being adopted in the city planning work and the many ways in which individuals might help.

J. L. Harbour of Boston, Mass., will give his celebrated lecture, "Blessed be Humor," this morning, and on the morning of the first Tuesday in November Dr. James A. Francis will lecture on "A New Order of Saints and Sinners."

The Cosmos Club.

The Building Association of the Cosmos Club will give a Five Hundred and bridge tea at the Arcadia apartments, No. 333 Westlake avenue, this afternoon, when Mrs. Grove Kellogg is hostess. The members of the Reception Committee are Mmes. Cate, Mrs. C. W. Murray, Mrs. F. Anderson, Mrs. L. N. McMrs. L. C. Tyler, Mrs. J. F. Mc Mrs. Henry Baer, Mrs. Wm. Reeve, Mrs. Leo Sutor, Mrs. I. Raphael, Mrs. George Cate, Mrs. F. Anderson and Mrs. A. C. Rubaugh.

Tomorrow will be devoted to musicale, in which Marjory (piano,) Miss Helen Northmore ing of "Peg 'o My Heart,") Miss La Fagge (violinists) and Miss Logan, (vocal,) will take part. will be held at the Ebell Club

Delphian Club Today.

The Bryson Delphian Club will in the ball-room of the Bryson o'clock this morning. Mrs. Archie India, who gave such an interesting talk before the Professional Women's Club, is to talk on "Esoteric Buddhism and Hindoo womanhood."

Daughters of 1812.

The California Society, Daughters of 1812, will hold its regular business meeting on Friday afternoon, 3 o'clock, in The Times Assembly Rooms, 1st and Broadway.

Caledonian Club.

The women's auxiliary of the Caledonian Club will be the hostess at a Halloween party Friday at the headquarters. The program will open with a spirited number by bagpipes by Alexander Ross and James Mansell, after which the president will make a speech. The club will render a glee, a song entitled "How the Story Goes," readings and costume dances to follow for good measure. A dance will conclude the evening.

teresting talk before the Highland Park Ebell Club last Tuesday morning. His topic was "The Civic Endeavor of the Southwest Museum," and he explained that it was the purpose of the museum to make each specimen earn its own living; to make it add to the knowledge of the world; to make it an instrument for constructive work, not merely a thing to be shown as a curiosity. The ordinary idea of the ordinary visitor to a museum, Dr. Alliot says, is that it is a good place to spend an afternoon, but the Southwest Museum has definite plans for making itself a place where things may be learned, where the eternal "why" of the archaeologist may be answered in so interesting and so convincing a manner that the museum will be a genuine factor in creating and promoting efficiency and beauty in the lives of all who visit it.

In introducing the speaker Mrs. James R. Riggins, chairman of the civics section, mentioned the City Beautiful Planning Association. Before beginning his lecture Dr. Alliot spoke briefly of the methods which are being adopted in the city planting work and the many ways in which individuals might help.

J. L. Harbour of Boston, Mass., will give his celebrated lecture, "Blessed be Humor," this morning, and the morning of the first Tuesday in November Dr. James A. Francis will lecture on "A New Order of Saints and Sinners."

The Cosmos Club.

The Building Association of the Cosmos Club will give a Five Hundred and bridge tea at the Aragon apartments, No. 233 Westlake avenue, this afternoon, when Mrs. Grove Ketchum is hostess. The members of the Reception Committee are Miss Celia Cata, Mrs. C. W. Murray, Mrs. Alice F. Anderson, Mrs. L. N. McClure, Mrs. L. C. Tyler, Mrs. J. F. Mullin, Mrs. Henry Baer, Mrs. William Reeve, Mrs. Leo Sutor, Mrs. R. E. Raphael, Mrs. George Cote, Mrs. W. F. Anderson and Mrs. A. C. Hambaugh.

Tomorrow will be devoted to musicals, in which Marjory Blake (piano,) Miss Helen Northmore (reading of "Peg 'o My Heart.") Miss Lalla Pagge (violiniste) and Miss Anne Logan (vocal,) will take part. The will be held at the Ebell Clubhouse.

Delphian Club Today.

The Bryson Delphian Club will meet in the ball-room of the Brysch at 10 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Anthea of India, who gave such an interesting talk before the Professional Woman's Club, is to talk on "Esoteric India" and Hindoo womanhood.

Daughters of 1812.

The California Society, Daughters of 1812, will hold its regular monthly meeting on Friday afternoon, 3 o'clock in The Times Assembly Rooms, Fourth and Broadway.

Caledonian Club.

The women's auxiliary of the Caledonian Club will be the hostess at a Halloween party Friday at the club headquarters. The programme will open with a spirited number on the bagpipes by Alexander Black and James Mansell, after which the president will make a speech, the Glee club will render a glee, a tableau entitled "How the Story Goes," some readings and costume dances will follow for good measure. A supper dance will conclude the evening's fun.

More Expressions From Men You Know Regarding the Eight Cylinder Cadillac

ISAAC MILBANK.

I take great pleasure in telling you briefly of my experiences with the Cadillac Eight. As you know I took delivery of the car at Detroit. I spent about two and one-half months between there and touring the New England States, then brought the car back home by railroad, and now at the end of a little over 3½ months, over two weeks of which the car was in transit, we had 7000 miles to the credit of the machine, without the detention of a day, which it occurs to me is a good record for any piece of mechanism which has to stand such a strain as an automobile does.

While touring the New England States, we took special pains to ascertain from the drivers of the Cadillac Eight, whether or not they experienced any trouble, and particularly in the oiling system, a criticism of which I had heard before I purchased the machine, while the numbers of Cadillacs were very great, we did not find a single driver who was not eminently pleased with the machine, and when we particularly asked about the oiling system, they answered that it had given them perfect satisfaction, and that there was nothing whatever to the rumor which I myself had heard, and I am so confident that this is the real truth of the matter, that as you know, I have ordered another machine.

L. E. BEHYMER.

We have now enjoyed our Cadillac Eight for some three months. We have traveled over 5000 miles and have found the machine a delightful adjunct to our pleasure. We have found nothing so easy riding, so comfortable or so reliable in our experience with machines, and we certainly appreciate the courtesy shown at your place of business.

We can heartily recommend an eight-cylinder Cadillac to anyone desiring to purchase a machine for family use.

W. B. McCULLOUGH.

In answer to your inquiry, I am pleased to say that I am very much pleased with my eight-cylinder Cadillac. Have driven it several thousand miles and as yet have had no trouble. I want to say that I have driven several makes of cars, but have never driven one to equal this one.

ALBERT BOWMAN.

It gives me pleasure to say that, in my own opinion, the EIGHT-CYLINDER CADILLAC has no equal.

To date I have driven a total of 12,000 miles without the expenditure of a cent for repairs of any kind.

I want to express my appreciation of the courteous treatment accorded me at all times by all of the employees of the company.

There are over five hundred owners of eight-cylinder Cadillac cars in Southern California. We will gladly refer any prospective buyer to any or all of our owners, with the perfect confidence that they will all express the sentiment contained in the above. We will furnish names and addresses of any number of owners at any time.

BUNNY BRIEF THE LEADER.

Official Figures Put Him at the Top of the List.

Schaller the Leading Home-run Hitter.

Jimmy Johnston Steals the Most Bases.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—Official tabulations gave "Bunny" Brief of Salt Lake, with a percentage of .366, the premier batter of the 1915 season of the Pacific Coast League, during which twenty-three players clouted the ball to the tune of .300 or better.

Harry Heilman of San Francisco, who was forced through illness to remain idle during the last half of the season, was in second place, with .365. Brief played in but eighty-four games, while Heilman participated in ninety-seven.

Harry Wolter of Los Angeles finished third, having hit safely 187 times in 145 games—a percentage of .361. Jimmy Johnston of Oakland nosed out his team-mate, Jack Ness, for fourth honors, hitting .345 in 205 games.

Johnston also was the champion base stealer, his total of eighty-four purloined stations being far above his nearest competitor, "Biff" Schaller of San Francisco, who stole fifty-nine times.

Maggert of Los Angeles beat out Schaller for run-getting honors, 147 to 144. Shinn of Salt Lake and Fleet-footed Jimmy Johnston were next with 142 and 140, respectively.

Schaller led in home runs, securing twenty. "Ping" Bodie of San Francisco and Joe Gedeon of Salt Lake had nineteen each.

McMullen of Los Angeles led the sacrifice hitters with forty-nine.

"Biff" Schaller tied his own record made last year by again going through the season without being absent from the line-up in a single game.

BITTER RIVALS MEET THURSDAY.

MANUAL AND POLYTCHENIC WILL PLAY ON THE BALL FIELD.

Manual Arts and Polytechnic meet at Washington Park Thursday afternoon at 3:30. 'Nuf sed. Rivalry is so keen between the two institutions that a sharp, hard-fought afternoon may be looked forward to by all fans. Manual is expected to be the winner by quite a distance, since she has been showing up better against her opponents than has Polytechnic. Last Saturday the Mechanics were terrifically beaten by Santa Ana, the score being 25 to 3. They showed little knowledge of the American game, while Fritch's Toilers have well mastered the rudiments.

POLY'S TENNIS MATCHES BEGIN.

Polytechnic High's elimination tennis tournament starts this afternoon with twenty-five players entered. Among the promising racquet wielders are Baiano, Williams, Burdick, Antonis, Rambodis and Howard.

MRS. LINDSEY SENDS A "SUB."

Mrs. Lindsey, who entered her duties as a member of the City Council with the avowed intention of neither asking nor giving quarter because of her sex, capitulated yesterday when the line-up of the Council baseball team for the game with the Movie Stars was announced.

She was originally cast for third base, but by unanimous consent she was allowed to send her husband to the front as a substitute, so the third sack will be covered by a Lindsey just the same. The Council line-up was announced as follows:

Topham, first base; Roberts, second base; Dudley Lindsey, third base; Wright, short stop; Brain, catcher; Langdon, pitcher; Betkouski, right field; Conwell, left field, and Wheeler, center field. Clerk Carroll will play on the bench.

The Movie Stars who cross bats with the Council will line-up as follows:

Charles Murray, first base; Ford Sterling, second base; Mack Swain, third base; Roscoe Arbuckle, short stop; Slim Somervil e, pitcher; Hank Mann, catcher; Ed Kennedy, right field; Harry Gribbon, left field; Chester Conklin, center field. Fred Mace will umpire.

STAGG PREPARES FOR WISCONSIN.

NO SCRIMMAGE AT CHICAGO, BUT VARSITY WORKS ON TRICK PLAYS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Brodie, Gordon and Flood represented the hospital squad at the University of Chicago today as Coach Stagg prepared to send his men through their first practice for the important Wisconsin game at Stagg Field on Saturday.

Stagg started his men on the week of hardest work they have had. The Wisconsin game is the most important the Maroons will have this year, and a victory will probably carry them into the finals in the fight for the conference championship.

Stagg did not scrimmage his men today, but sent them through fast signal work and spent much time in developing the complicated plays which were practiced before the Purdue game, but not used.

COACHES ADMIT YALE LOOKS BUM.

DESPERATE EFFORT IS BEING MADE TO DEVELOP A REAL KICKER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 25.—Yale football coaches today admitted that they regard the situation as critical. "We have no good punter, drop-kicker nor forward-passer behind the line," said one. "Our defense is weak and our plan until the Colgate game on Saturday will be to specialize the practice in developing a satisfactory kicker and in strengthening the defense."

Dr. Billy Bull, who has pulled Yale out of several deep holes by developing punters, today formed a squad composed of Ames, Way, Savage, Smith, Neville and Walte, who worked an hour in booting the oval.

KILTIES SEE AUTO SHOW.

Famous Band is a Special Feature of Exhibit.

Scots Squeeze Weird Music from Bagpipes.

On Way to Panama-Pacific Exposition.

The famous Kilties Band, now appearing at the Mason Operahouse, was one of the special features at the Broadway Automobile and Flower Show yesterday. They wandered among the automobiles and flowers squeezing the weird music of Scotland out of their bagpipes.

The Scotchmen from Canada were dressed in their plaids and Kilties with their knees wholly unprotected from the cold or heat. This aroused no small amount of comment, and many a man and woman spent the good part of the afternoon watching their knees, especially the knees of those who kept time with their feet as they played.

To say the Kilties were a decided hit is putting it mildly. There being there was enough of a novelty in itself to cause a stir. But the music they played and the skill with which they played it, appealed to the patrons of the show.

The Kilties are just back from a tour around the world. In all they have visited twenty different countries and given more than 6000 concerts. They have been feted and honored by royalty.

They are now on their way to the Panama-Pacific Exposition, where they are to be a special feature. They have just come from the San Diego exposition.

In the troupe is Will F. Newlan, one of the ablest bandmasters and directors in the world; Wee Jamie Clark, the youthful bagpiper; J. Coates Lockhart, Canada's sweet singer, and the bagpipers and dancers from Dundee, Scotland.

The practice of fining tourists by mail in Maryland has been stopped by the motor vehicle commissioner, who found that tourists who had exceeded the speed limit set down by town officials in Galena and Church Hill had been notified by mail that they must pay a fine.

DIVIDEND FOR FORD HOLDERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WALKERSVILLE (Ont.) Oct. 25.—Distribution of a 600 per cent. stock dividend to shareholders of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, equivalent, at the present price of the stock, to $18,000,000, was recommended by the company's stockholders at their annual meeting today.

This action follows payment of a 50 per cent. cash dividend which was made by the company to its stockholders within the last two weeks.

The stock dividend is recommended as part of the plan approved by the stockholders for increasing the company's capital stock from $1,000,000 to $10,000,000.

The directors of the company are expected to approve the action of the stockholders within a few days.

There are only about 150 stockholders in the company.

YOST GOES BACK TO FUNDAMENTALS.

CAPT. COCHRAN MAY NOT BE PLAYED REGULARLY REST OF SEASON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ANN ARBOR (Mich.) Oct. 25.—Disgusted with the performance of his players against the Michigan Aggies of Saturday, Coach Yost went back to fundamentals in his Monday practice and for over an hour this afternoon drilled his men in blocking and tackling.

And then he prescribed a signal practice which lasted long after the electric lights strung over the practice gridiron had been turned on. Capt. Cochran was not in the line-up which Yost used for a large share of the practice tonight. As a result the rooters are predicting that Cochran may not be seen in all the line-ups Yost will use in the remaining games.

HE DIDN'T KNOW HE WON THE GAME.

FULL-BACK BADLY DAZED BY BLOW ON THE HEAD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—Full-back Williams of Pennsylvania College did not know until today that he had carried the ball over Pittsburgh's goal line in Saturday's game for the only score of his team. Williams was dazed by a blow in the head during the game and followed the play automatically He did not recover full possession of his wits until today.

WHITE AUTOS MAY PLAY GAME HERE.

It is possible that Los Angeles fans will see an exhibition game at Washington Park between the Pacific Electrics and the Cleveland White Autos in the near future. The White Autos are national amateur champions, and Manager Don Tobey of the Electrics is trying to get them to come here for a game.

CONQUERORS BACK HOME.

Returned Trojans Hold an Automobile Parade.

Visit Several of the High Schools.

Have Cheers Coming for Victory.

The conquering U.S.C. football warriors landed in town yesterday fresh from their northern triumph. Not finding the old burg sufficiently excited over them, they bundled into machines and visited the various high schools, conducting rallies and telling of the gruelling experiences of the game. The coming generation received them most enthusiastically.

Fred Kelly did not play in the northern game because he had a rather forceful interview with "Battle" Shipkey in a secret practice with Occidental last week and is nursing a badly-wrenched back. It is doubtful if he will get into next Saturday's game.

Nevertheless, Kelly accompanied the men on the tour of jollification and enjoyed the experience immensely. The high schools had not been expecting the Trojans, but upon seeing who the notable visitors were each principal immediately dismissed classes and called his whole school to the auditorium in honor of the pig-skin chasers.

Saturday's victory over the University of California by 28 to 10 was unrivalled in the history of football, and the fighting Trojans are deserving of praise.

Saturday's contest between U.S.C. and the Sherman Indians should be a thriller. While the Indians are not much on the offense, they can fight like their scalping ancestors on the defense, and have a demon back field, containing quarter-back Clark, who kicked the goal that won over Sid Neighbor's L.A.A.C. men last week.

U.S.C. will be materially handicapped by the loss of Fred Kelly, but the consistent work of the Livernash brothers, Elmore and Craig is bound to tell. It seems that the college has the edge of things, but "you can't never tell."

PRINCETON WORKS ON FORWARD PASS

RUSH IS PREPARING POWERFUL DRIVE FOR GAME WITH HARVARD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PRINCETON (N. J.) Oct. 25.—Princeton's preparations for a powerful drive into the Harvard eleven on November 6 began today with four of the regulars excused from practice, either because Trainer Keene Fitzpatrick thought they needed a rest or because scholastic duties interfered with their gridiron work.

Rush began today the perfection of tactics which will be depended upon to bring Princeton a victory over the Crimson. The varsity men took a good afternoon's exercise.

Starting with practice in secret behind the stands of old University field, attention was devoted mainly to kicking and forward passing from some new open formations. Here the varsity was lined up against the subs and for almost an hour they tried out their overhead game.

Big Doings.

AUTO AGENTS HAVE BANQUET.

Greer-Robbins Annual Convention is Held.

Chalmers and Hupmobile Men Gather.

Attend Broadway Auto and Flower Show.

BY AL G. WADDELL.

From Fresno, Cal., to the southern limits of Arizona, Chalmers and Hupmobile dealers came to attend the annual Greer-Robbins convention and the Broadway Automobile and Flower Show yesterday. There were eighty-two guests, including factory representatives, at the annual dealers' dinner tendered by the local distributors.

The visiting automobile men assembled at the Greer-Robbins headquarters and were loaded into a dozen or more cars and driven to the Los Angeles Athletic Club, where the dinner was served. The dinner was featured by talks from the factory officials, Frank P. Harris, agency manager for the local organization, and A. C. Robbins.

NOVELTIES.

There were several novelties introduced, which included musical numbers and an attractive burlesque, in which the Misses Mamie Jenkins and Maude Ryan scored heavily with the motor car men, while Mrs. Ryan, the chaperone, played a role all her own.

The eastern factory officials present were J. Hirsch, western district manager for the Chalmers Motor Company of Detroit, and A. B. Barkman, western sales manager for the Hup Motor Car Company of the same city. Mr. Barkman was accompanied on chaperon, played a role all her own, great show by his assistant, Mr. E. N. Brant, and his son, A. B. Barkman, Jr.

While the dinner was in progress the dealers were afforded an opportunity of becoming better acquainted. The whole spirit of the evening was that of getting together, organization and good fellowship. The factory officials spoke of Southern California as the greatest motoring field of the entire country, and praised the work of the dealers in this territory.

After the dinner the guests went direct from the Athletic Club to the automobile show, entering in a body. A close inspection was made of the Greer-Robbins exhibit, showing the entire Hupmobile and Chalmers lines; then the corps went over the entire four floors, taking in every exhibit from the ground floor to the accessory displays on the fourth floor.

Not only the dealers, but the factory men as well, pronounced the show the greatest ever staged on the Pacific Coast. Some declared it to be the greatest automobile show ever staged west of Boston.

Many of the out-of-town dealers will remain in the city until the close of the show in order to study their own lines and automobile conditions generally. Mr. Hirsch is compelled to go north for a conference in San Francisco on the Lark tonight, but Mr. Barkman and Mr. Brant intend to remain another day.

C. A. Pfeffer, vice-president of the Chalmers Motor Company, came west for the show and was to have been present at the annual dinner last night. He was called east the day after the local show opened. Before leaving the vice-president made a thorough inspection of the Broadway show and pronounced it one of the most attractive he had ever attended.

An incomplete list of the guests at the dinner and show last night follows:

RITCHIE IS FAVORITE OVER JOHNNY DUNDEE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 25.—Willie Ritchie and Johnny Dundee will meet in their ten-round bout at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. Ritchie, the American lightweight champion, has been made first choice in circles where boxing fans are inclined to speculate. The advantage of height, weight and reach, along with a heavier punch, give Ritchie the call, but he will be opposed by the fastest 130-pound boxer in the game.

Dundee holds a four-round popular decision over Ritchie and is confident that he can travel the ten-round distance and duplicate the trick. Ritchie will go into the ring weighing 138 pounds, while Dundee will not be under 131. Both finished training today, fit and ready to show their best efforts.

The match is the most important that could have been made in that class outside of a title bout for the world's crown, Ritchie being the American champion and the two principals standing alone as the real contenders for the coveted throne.

No decision will be rendered in the bout between Dundee and Ritchie. Scotty Monteith, manager of Dundee, today appeared at the weekly meeting of the State Athletic Commission and requested that the power to render a verdict be invested in Referee Bill Brown but the request was denied.

LITHOGRAPH TEAM BEATEN BY VILLE.

The Ville de Paris team soundly trounced the Western Lithograph Company at Exposition Park on Sunday, to the tune of 16 to 0.

The features of the game were the heavy slugging of the winners and the steady pitching of both McInerny and Murphy.

The score:

Lithographers, 0; hits, 4; errors, 4.
Ville de Paris, 16; hits, 12; errors, 0.
Batteries—Buschner and Green; McInerny, Murphy and Fischer.

BLACKBOARD TALK BY HARVARD COACH

ENWRIGHT AGAIN JOINS SQUAD AND ADDS STRENGTH TO BACK FIELD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Oct. 25.—Percy Haughton held his men in the blackboard-room for a long time today before sending them out for signal drill, there being nothing except some late kicking practice in the stadium owing to the progress of the track meets.

Enwright was out with the back field today, playing with Wiggin and Rollins. Enwright, as well as McKinlock are now ready to set into the thick of the play, and if they can stand this week's hammering they will help Harvard's general back-field strength against Princeton a lot. Robinson worked at quarter for a time.

HOT CONTEST FOR FRIDAY AFTERNOON

BAER FIELD WILL STAGE THE L. A. VS. PASADENA GAME.

The old Occidental field will see a hot football contest Friday afternoon when Los Angeles and Pasadena High schools met upon its sawdust surface. Coach Featherstone of the Hilltoppers and Coach Duffy Seay of the Crown City hopes have both been working faithfully with their men, and developing polished players.

"Movie" night, Wednesday, October 27th, at Broadway Automobile and Flower Show, will be the theatrical event of the season. Boston Store Building opposite City Hall.

PRIDE is the mirrored image of self-respect, self-compliment reflecting judgment, achievement, or possession.

Pride of possession is most experienced by those of culture who best appreciate the world's worthy achievements.

Pride-value is become a sound basis of judgment in any purchase, and an item of large consequence in the choice of a motor vehicle:

Scripps-Booth

Scripps-Booth luxurious light cars for the first time offer pride-value in minimum weight together with the most advanced construction and complete appointment of the motor car of today.

Art and psychology in these designs blend with engineering and factory processes to produce the world's highest achievement in motor cars of the maximum-luxury type, giving to Scripps-Booth cars as to no others, that supreme attribute of self-respect, which the man reflects in his.

Discriminating big car owners will take a special delight in viewing the new Scripps-Booth cars at the local showrooms.

Divergos GIVE BEST SERVICE

Divergos cut off the glare without cutting off the light.
Divergos deflect the rays 5 degrees below the horizontal.
Divergos are controlled from driver's seat and throw the light on the road from 5 to 300 feet ahead of the car, at will of driver.
Divergos comply with the law and at the same time give a better driving light.
Divergos are the cheapest deflector on the market when service is considered.
Divergos alone satisfy the discriminating buyer.
Any dimmer or deflector that cuts off glare satisfies the law, but Divergos do more, they satisfy all driving conditions.

A NEW GOLF TEAM ENTERS.

Altadena Country Club Now on the Lists.

Boasts Dangerous Players on Their Team.

Professional Tourney Down at Balboa.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

A new golf team enters the league this year. For the Altadena Country club entered the golf association last winter and is now ambitious to establish itself as a real golf club, worthy the links upon which so much skill, time and money have been expended.

At a meeting just held J. E. Story (popularly known as ("Bud") was elected captain and he is at present drawing his aspirants for team glory.

HERE THEY ARE.

Regular players out there include [illegible] Roberts, H. L. Story (who although 60 years of age is a left-handed golfer of experience and ability), A. F. Gartz, father of Craney; Craney himself, who, however, is probably regarded as an Annandale person; Leigh Guyer, who has won many small events at Midwick; J. Clark Smith, J. B. Coulston, A. T. Bowles, Edward McCament, W. H. Smith, E. L. Doheny, Jr., Warren Smith, C. C. Clark, Paul Wold, Floyd Turner, Rodney Benson, Matt Slavin, [illegible] M. Linnard, who is a terror for putting; Leroy Linnard, Allan Murphy, [illegible] Davis, and F. C. Nash, to mention but a few, so there should be no difficulty in putting a creditable team in the field.

THE LADIES.

Lady players have also been increasing out there and with Mrs. Wesley Roberts, Miss Cattern, Miss Grimes, Miss Marjorie Churchill, Miss Alice Story, Mrs. E. M. Murray, Mrs. Stanley Vance Martin and numerous others, a women's team and a woman's championship tournament are both to find places in the golf programme.

President J. B. Coulston is certainly to be congratulated for persevering with the Altadena Country Club and making what easily might have been a failure into a graceful success. After the storm wiped out the Altadena course in the first year of its existence, it took some courage to go through with the venture. As it is Altadena has been placed definitely on the golf map, as witness the highly successful tournament with which they wound up last season's programme.

AT ANNANDALE.

The Annandale Country Club had a field day on Saturday when fifty-five players entered for the handicap event. Rev. W. H. Cornett won the cup with a seventy-four medal score, 1 up on par. Dr. Warner was second with 1 up on an 80, medal score.

A professional tournament for visiting golf professionals opens at the Orange County Golf Club at Balboa this morning. The club has donated the purses.

Entries include Charles Adams of Santa Barbara, Robert Balck of Long Beach, William Hanley of Anaheim, Frank Peebles of Midwick, and Hutt Martin of Los Angeles. Jack Locke of Riverside, W. Mundell of Coronado, and Bob Watson of Balboa.

It will take the form of 72 holes of medal play today and tomorrow.

AMATEURS

The amateurs have also started a handicap tournament for the Parkinson cup, the qualifying round for which was played on Saturday, A. C. Bilicke and A. W. Rutan tieing for first place with 77. The finals take place October 16, one round of match play to be settled each week.

J. R. Browning will again be captain of the Orange county team this year, which finds itself surplanted as champion of the league by Altadena. G. Twist has been elected president of the club succeeding Brownell.

JUNIOR COLLEGE DISSATISFIED WITH OUTCOME OF GAME.

Because the Los Angeles Junior College won her game with the Normal school last Thursday, but was denied it on a long end of the score by the referee, it is possible that the two teams will not meet again this season. The contest was a lemon all around for the collegers. In it their star player, Carpenter, broke his leg, also. AMONG THOSE PRESENT AT THE BROADWAY AUTO SHOW.

INSTEAD of falling off, the attendance at the Broadway Automobile and Flower Show showed a great increase yesterday over the first and second day. At the time of closing last night it was reported that 20,067 persons had attended the show on Saturday, Sunday and Monday. These figures do not include the exhibitors, their salesmen and attendants, who go in and out at will on season passes.

Among the guests noticed at the show last night were: Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Van Loan, Emil Olcovich and party, Mike Shannon, A. T. Smith and party, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Harshbarger, E. B. Fuller, Frank Lillard, Harry Thaw, Roy Seeley, C. I. Whitesell, William D. Howard, George Cline, Harry Burt, Dr. Ralph Hagan, Dr. Spinks, F. M. Leake, Dr. R. E. Lee, R. R. SEEN AND HEARD AT THE BROADWAY AUTO SHOW.

MANY recruits are being enlisted in the Automobile Club of Southern California. The waiving of the initiation fee has aroused hundreds of motorists to action and they are taking advantage of the special rate at the Auto Club's exhibit.

W. P. Jeffries called for William E. Bush at the Pierce-Arrow exhibit and when told that Mr. Bush had gone out to supper, after selling two cars, he said that he thought he would hold his order until a dull day after the show.

* * *

O. K. Parker has been kept busy for the past three days crowding guests into the H. L. Arnold theater, where the gasified feature, the Death Valley Dodge, is being shown. Mr. Parker is quite some Buck Parvin of motordom in the picture, and Charles H. Warren Carryean Brannaman is sure of a job in the movies if any of the directors take a slant at the production, which extends from Death Valley to the High Sierras.

Cliff Durant declared open season on moths last night. He ordered all the Chevrolet salesmen to appear in open-face scenery during the rest of the show week.

O. R. Fuller and Jim Canavan showed up in moonlights last night and their B.B.'s showed clear out on Broadway, giving the White exhibit an edge on even Ed Baldrich at the door.

The Grant "6" is a revelation to most of the show visitors. Even the members of the automobile fraternity were surprised at the new Bekins-Speer protege, having been accustomed to seeing only the Grant "twin-two" piloted in compliance with the law by the well and favorably-known Mr. E. L. White.

Teddy Tetzlaff has been severely criticised for his make-up. The former world's speed champion is a second Berry Wall or Beau Brummel, or perhaps Bill Desmond. He has enough costumes to make the society brand prima donna model look like a piece of cheese cake in Petaluma. Teddy has had on a different suit of clothes every afternoon and evening. His three-base hit is a brown semi-Yorkshire norfolk with green and gray mundane skypiece to match, and heavy turtle hide nonskid cheaters.

The beautiful blonde on the fourth floor is really a part of the Hamburger accessory exhibit. Said accessory would add to the attractiveness of any car, but Bob Granger refuses all offers.

The Master carburetor show is a great attraction for the kids. Next time there is an orphans' joy-ride the Master carburetor incubator should be included.

William R. Ruess defies all hands. Wild Bill refuses to don the after-sundown robes and insists upon wearing a red neck piece of fire alarm color, which matches perfectly the red wheels on the Mitchell stripped chassis.

Ralph C. Hamlin has three cars in the Franklin-Scripps-Booth R. and L. exhibit which are owned by recent purchasers. These owners have season passes and come daily to admire their own cars.

The Paige page put on by Smith Bros. was in great demand yesterday. There were so many phone calls that the Paige was kept running through the building on high speed.

JACK KELLY IN CHARGE OF HORSES

WILD GO EAST TO TRAIN MARTIN'S STRING OF TRACK BEAUTIES.

Jack Kelly, old-timer in Los Angeles, expert rider and ex-steeplechase jockey, has been hired by W. R. Martin, prominent horse owner and polo-ist, to train the latter's stables at Meadowbrook, L. I. Among the best Martin horses are Lady Rotha, Filamaez, Lonesome and Cutcha, together with a fine bunch of two-year-olds.

Kelly will go East about November 1. He expects to do great things with the Martin stables, and this appointment comes to him as a much-deserved promotion.

CLUBMEN TO HAVE A TOURNAMENT.

REMEMBER THE CLUB OWNERS.

Magnates Usually Neglected in Discussions.

Have Eliminated Rough Stuff this Year.

Lannin and Baker Represent Better Element.

In discussions pro and con of the world series, the men to whom it is far more vital than to any player or manager are usually overlooked. They are the owners of the clubs—the men whose money is invested in baseball.

Baseball magnates have come in for an era of condemnation of late years. Much of it has been justified; much of it has not.

METHODS.

The methods of running the game employed by Ban Johnson, Garry Herrmann, Horace Fogel, Charles Webb Murphy, Connie Mack and at times, Charles Ebbetts, in past years have often invited censure. They have not been like Caesar's wife by any means, these "magnuts."

The advent of the Federal League and the realization that they were killing the goose that was laying the golden egg, however, brought them to their senses. It is doubtful if the national pastime has ever been conducted on a higher plane than it is today.

LANNIN AND BAKER.

The owners of the two teams that fought it out this year for the world's title, Joseph J. Lannin of Boston, and William F. Baker of Philadelphia, are men of the new regime in baseball.

If a distinction were to be made it would be said that Lannin's success is more deserved than Bakers in one sense. He has risked immeasurably more in entering baseball. Financially, he has been a much more dominating factor.

ATHLETE.

Up to the time that he purchased the Red Sox in 1913, Lannin had been interested in the game merely as a fan. In his younger days he was a lacrosse player, and managed several amateur ball clubs in New England.

The mix-up between James McAleer and Jake Stahl after the world's series of 1912, paved the way for Lannin's advent into the game as an owner. It is said to have cost him more than $600,000 to buy the club. This was merely his initial expense. In addition, Lannin was induced to buy the Providence club of the International League.

TO HELP.

The purchase of the Providence club was made by Lannin merely in the interest of organized baseball in its fight against the coming of the Federal League. He knew that financially it would be a drain. But the outlaws were about to wage their fight on the International organization, and it needed his help.

He had to restore order in Boston. Stahl's passing left things in none too smooth a shape. His appointment of Bill Carrigan was criticised in some quarters at the time. Bill's subsequent record speaks volumes for Lannin's judgment. He paid the highest salary in baseball last year to keep Tris Speaker from jumping to the Federal League. For the sake of organized baseball, he assumed the burden of a $16,500 yearly stipend for this player.

DIFFERENT.

William H. Baker's career in the game has been somewhat different. He came into the National League as a magnate when Horace Fogel was forced out of the Philadelphia club a few years ago. The Phillies were not a highly-prized baseball property at that time. It cost hardly what it cost Lannin to buy the Red Sox for Baker to acquire a controlling interest in the Phillies. The entire amount involved is said to have been only $200,000.

Baker had been police commissioner of New York City. He, like Lannin, was merely a fan and rooter for many years.

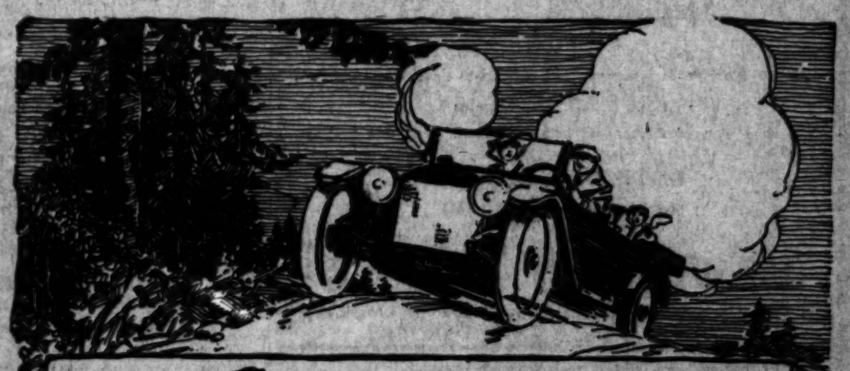
Driver Tommy Murphy's winnings on the Grand Circuit will probably total $100,000.

FOOTBALL CLAIMS ANOTHER VICTIM.

YOUTH IS FATALLY INJURED IN A GAME AT PITTSBURGH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 25.—The football season claimed its first victim here today, when John Groom, age 17, died from injuries received Saturday afternoon in a game at Braddock, a suburb. An investigation was ordered by Coroner Samuel C. Jamison.



Maxwell

$655 at Factory

The 1916 Maxwell weighs but 1960 pounds. This means a very light car although the new Maxwell is built even stronger than any previous model.

The new Maxwell is a beautiful car. The electric headlights are mounted on the fender supports with a brace rod between the lamps, making the lamps and fenders rattle proof. The radiator is gracefully rounded and suggests the speed and power in the motor behind it.

The body is of the very latest distinctive streamline design with seats plenty wide to give absolute comfort for five passengers. The three-quarter elliptic rear springs—crown fenders—non-skid tires—double ventilating windshield—demountable rims and one-man top, are but features you would insist on in buying any automobile and they are all included in the regular price of the Maxwell.

The "Wonder" Exhibit

Don't fail to see the Maxwell exhibit at the Automobile Show this week. The Maxwell stripped chassis, which was taken out of the San Francisco Fair just for exhibition here this week, has its every vital cut open so you can see and understand its every function. Touring cars, roadster and convertible also on exhibition.

Remember—the "Wonder Car"—the Maxwell—sells complete for but $655 at the factory. If you are going to buy an automobile you are certain to spend that much before you get any car so you can enjoy it. Buy it complete—the way it comes from the factory—Buy a Maxwell. Immediate deliveries.

ALEXANDER ABERG THROWS WLADEK ZBYSZKO AT LAST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Alexander Aberg of Russia, world's champion at Graeco-Roman wrestling, successfully defended his title, throwing Wladek Zbyszko, the Pole, after one hour and four minutes' wrestling at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The men met for periods of ten minutes, separated by a minute's rest.

Aberg had Zbyszko on the mat several times, the former excelling in offensive work.

In the seventh session the Pole, securing a body hold, held his opponent up, swung him around three times and threw him sidewise to the mat. As the men fell, Zbyszko was slightly underneath. Aberg grabbed his opponent's left wrist and with a side roll turned him over and obtained a chancery and body hold, enabling him to pin Zbyszko's shoulders to the mat. One fall decided the match.

Aberg, who is 31 years old, weighed 225 pounds; Zbyszko, aged 32, weighed 230. The men met last June in an international tournament and wrestled three hours and forty minutes, when the contest was called a draw, as both men were exhausted.

LOCKED GATES AT ILLINOIS FIELD.

ZUPPKE TO HAVE FRESHMEN USE GOPHER TRICKS AGAINST VARSITY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHAMPAIGN (Ill.) Oct. 25.—With the gates of Illinois Field closed to all spectators, Coach Zuppke commenced his final preparation for the Illinois-Minnesota battle next Saturday. He ran the squads through a strenuous signal practice and kept the backs busy receiving punts.

Harold Pogue, "Potsy" Clark and Macomber were on the field in uniform, but Pogue did not do any running.

Freshman Ralph Jones returned from Minneapolis this morning, where he saw the Gothers defeat Iowa on Saturday. He had his notebook filled with Minnesota plays and started the freshmen on them this afternoon. Tomorrow the yearlings will scrimmage with the varsity and try the Gopher tricks on the regulars.

AUTO AVERAGES NINETENE MILES TO GALLON ON TRIP.

COMING through all the way from Enid, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. William Hess arrived at the local branch of the Allen Motor Car Company in their new five-passenger, thirty-seven-horse-power car, without a mishap of any kind to car or driver.

In the trip of 2140 3-10 miles, 109½ gallons of gasoline were used, bringing the mileage to nineteen and one-half miles on a gallon of gasoline.

In describing the trip Mr. Hess stated that the trip was made in twelve days. The first day's drive over good roads from Enid to Wichita, Kan., was run in eight hours, leaving Wichita over the Hutchinson Liberty road, passing through Kingman, Pratt, Greenburg to Buchiln to Dodge City, Kan., striking the Santa Fe trail.

The trip from Dodge City to La Junta, Colo., a distance of 256 miles, was made on the third day, using eleven gallons of gasoline or a little better than twenty-three miles on a gallon.

After leaving Trinidad the party started over the Raton Pass, elevation 8608 feet, considered the steepest mountain road on the Santa Fe trail. Rough roads, washouts and steep grades were encountered from Las Vegas, N. M., to Santa Fe, N. M.

From Belen to Becker, a distance of about fifteen miles, they drove through sand without any trouble to Socorro on the high. From Socorro they passed over the Blue Canyon Pass, altitude 6770 feet, through Springerville, St. Johns, Holbrook on to Winslow, Ariz. At Winslow the side trip to Crater Mountain, altitude 9700 feet, was taken. The return was made to Flagstaff. From Flagstaff the party passed through the Grand Canyon, returning by way of Willows, Ash Fork, Seligman, Kingman, Patman to Needles, Cal., where they were forced to pay $3.50 to cross the Santa Fe bridge.

The desert road from Needles to Barstow was tame to some which already had been gone through. From Barstow roads were good through the Canyon Pass, to Los Angeles. This being the first car Mr. Hess has ever driven, knowing practically nothing about a car, it is considered a remarkable test for the new Allen Model.

CONCRETE TRACK AT ST. JOSEPH.

RECORD FOR TWO MILE BROKEN AT MOTORDOME BY DARRY FLECKENSTEIN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ST. JOSEPH (Mo.) Oct. 25.—St. Joseph is to have a new two-million-dollar two-mile automobile speedway of concrete. Jack Prince, promoter, received the assurance today of business men and commercial organizations here that the project would be backed satisfactorily. Land for the building of the speedway at Lake Contrary, at the southern limits of the city, was donated today by holders of concessions at that place.

Preliminary work will begin at once and the first races will be held early next spring. St. Joseph will be placed on the circuit with Indianapolis, Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Des Moines and Sioux City.

Larry Fleckenstein broke the world's record for two miles on St. Joseph motordrome today, going at a speed of 110 miles per hour for the entire distance.

SANTA MONICA IS AFTER BIG MATCH.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 25.—Efforts are being made by the Santa Monica Chamber of Commerce to bring the proposed Bundy-Bjurstedt tennis match to the Santa Monica grounds, as this is the home of Mrs. Bundy. The initial steps were taken today by H. M. Gorham, president of the chamber, in appointing a committee to invite the players to hold the big match here. While Mrs. Bundy might not insist that the match be held on the court of her home city, yet it is believed that she would gladly play here.

CALEXICO HIGH FOR AMERICAN.

Calexico Union High School has come into the fold of those playing American football, an ordered a snappy equipment from the B. H. Dyas Company. Practice will be started immediately.

The Nashville Automobile Club has been organized and articles of incorporation have been filed. Meetings will be held temporarily at the Nashville Commercial Club and permanent quarters will be opened in the near future. It is the intention of the club to log all the roads of the South.

LOCAL FACTORY DOUBLES OUTPUT.

DIVERGOS THROW LIGHT TO THREE HUNDRED FEET WITHOUT GLARE.

The Rotary Products Company, formerly the Rotary Air Brake Company, organized four years ago by a group of engineers, for the purpose of perfecting and commercializing a line of rotary machinery, has been compelled to greatly enlarge its factory equipment on South Los Angeles street. While their main lines are rotary compressors and gas engines they are now marketing a deflector in which diverging reflectors cut off the glare without cutting off the light.

This is a classy addition to a set of lamps and is so controlled by the driver of the car that he can throw the light on the road at any point to 300 feet ahead without producing glare, and at the same time throw as much light on the road as the lamps would without the deflectors on them.

These divergos, as they are called, are being exhibited at the Broadway Automobile and Flower Show this week, in Hamburger's auto exhibit, and are proving to be an attractive feature.

This company has some of the finest machinery and factory equipment on the Coast and is equipped to turn out several hundred sets per day of divergos and with the new equipment coming in will greatly extend their engine and compressor output to meet the growing demand for their products.

A steady growth has marked the company's progress and is proof of the advancement of Los Angeles as a great industrial

1916 OLDSMOBILE

The Quality Light Car

There is no change in the running of your Oldsmobile going up the steepest grades. Gasoline is supplied to the carburetor unfailingly at all times.

The Stewart Vacuum gasoline system in Oldsmobile 48 insures even running under all conditions. It draws gasoline from the rear tank to a small tank under the hood, where the gasoline falls in an even, positive flow to the carburetor. No gasoline is forced wastefully through the carburetor to cause an overrich mixture, sluggishness and carbonization.

Coach Fipal sent his Occidental

While both varsities enjoyed a stiff scrimmage yesterday, the purposes of the coaches were entirely different.
Coach Wilson of Whittier is almost face to face with the proposition of keeping his team on edge. The Quakers will be at top form or just off it Saturday. It is doubtful if the Quakers will have more than two, or at most not more than three, hard

Coach Fipal will work his team to the limit, for it is still coming and will bear the top of the grade in con-

TITANS DROP RUGBY AND TAKE UP AMERICAN GAME.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

OAKLAND, Oct. 23.—Another bomb was thrown into Rugby headquarters today when Table Mackie, manager of the old Titan Rugby club, announced that the Titans have organized an American football team and have already scheduled games with the Davis
Farm, Sacramento Athletic Club, University of Nevada and club teams for this year. The Titan Rugby Club was organized in the spring of 1913, when the members of the State championship Berkeley High School Rugby team of 1912 graduated.

The Titans had already drawn a Rugby schedule for this year and in their first game with the Stanford varsity team, the split, which resulted in the Titans withdrawing from the California Rugby union, occurred.

Rugby will lose some star players through the Titans' jump. The Forbes brothers, members of the 1912 State championship Berkeley High team, and well-known Rugby stars N. and C. Slater, the former an all-star
Rugby member last year; Eddie Skinner, Pape, McMahon, Hanley, Micky Morris, who made the university of Washington team as a sub end last year; "Zook" Lasar, Al Montayna and Tommy Graves, all well-known Rugby players, will form the nucleus for the Titan eleven.

Manager Mackie hopes to sign several members of the University of California eleven for next year. Right now not one Rugby club except the Berkeley High team is representing the city of Berkeley.
The returning of the "Bears" and Titans to the old game adds further fuel to the report thta Berkeley High will surely go back next year, and then the other prep institutions, Technical, Fremont, Oakland and Alameda, will jump.

The Titans play their first game of the year on November 13 with the Davis Farm eleven at Davis.

OREGON AGGIES PLAY IN MICHIGAN ON SATURDAY.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTLAND, Oct. 24.—The Oregon Aggie's football team, eighteen strong, is on its way to Lansing, Mich., to meet Michigan Agricultural College next Saturday, October 30. This trip is the longest ever made by a Pacific Coast team and will afford an excellent opportunity to compare the eastern and western ideas of the game.

The Michigan Aggies are no spunglass proposition. Last Saturday they walked over the famous Michigan University team by a score of 34 to 0, and this makes their third straight victory over the university.

"It's all right to beat Michigan," says Coach Macklin of the eastern Aggies, "but please do not forget that next season we meet the Oregon Aggies, which is just as much of a contest, if not more from one angle, than the game with Michigan. We are called upon to defend eastern football, or, rather, Middle West football, as we have never been before.

"Whatever we do we must not underestimate the boys from the Pacific Coast. I know something about the game they played last year and I have received a few tips on their work so far this fall. They are foemen worthy of our best endeavor. Remember Nebraska and fear Oregon."

The Michigan Aggies so far have been a puzzle to the dopesters. Graduation last June robbed it of two important players, a quarter-back and a full-back.

To fill the gap Macklin has his troubles. He has several fairly good punters and drop-kickers, but he has nobody who combines a fair kicking average with line plunging and running ability of the lost players. At present Jerry de Prato, from the upper peninsula of the State, seems to have the call, although in the games played so far De Prato and Blacklock, a big Grand Rapids man, have been alternated. Both are veterans and good men, but neither by any means seems capable of producing the results which Julian did.

Fick, a Chicago student, who played sensational baseball last summer, looks the best bet for quarter, although up to the present time the coach has used no less than five men in the pilot position.

In the line Macklin has several veterans who no doubt will be found in their old line-up positions, although the coach has tried out three or four of them at back-field stations in an apparent endeavor to balance up the team for all-around work. At present the line, beginning on the left, consists of Blake, Miller, end; Smith, tackle; Vandervort, guard; Freimodig, center; Straight, guard; Hutton, tackle, and Henning, end. These men are all veterans, and some figure that this combination will be the one used to start the Michigan game.

FORD AND EDISON TO BE ENTERTAINED AT INCEVILLE.

INCEVILLE, with its population of 600 film players and a host of automobiles, is to entertain Henry Ford, the wizard of motorcraft, and Thomas A. Edison, the wizard of electricity. Director-General Thomas H. Ince of the New York Motion Picture Corporation and Triangle Film Corporation, yesterday dispatched a telegram to the two national figures to be present some time this week at Inceville to inspect one of the largest motion-picture sets in the world and to witness one of those big western rodeos for which Ince is famous the country over.

Inceville, aside from its fame as one of the biggest motion picture burgs in existence, is also one of the only "Ford towns" on the Pacific Coast. Practically every car owned by the Ince company is a Ford. They include regular stock cars, auto trucks, especially-improvised conveyances for transporting players to "locations" and half a dozen other "specials." When one of the Ince Fords gets too enemic it is not relegated to the junk heap but is introduced into an auto scene in a film picture either by being toppled over a cliff or taking a steep dive into the Pacific.

Messrs. Edison and Ford will reach this city on Wednesday and it is the intention of Secretary Frank Wiggins of the Chamber of Commerce to augment the Inceville trip by inviting a number of members of that board and the Los Angeles Realty Board to take the trip.

Ince will meet the distinguished visitors at the entrance to his film city and, after showing them over the plant and initiating them into the mysteries of film features, will inaugurate the rodeo. Practically every Ford in Inceville will be lined up to tender Mr. Ford a screeching welcome. Immediately afterwards the guests will be taken to the Broadway Automobile and Flower Show.

Only an Appetizer.

THE GREATEST TOURING SEASON COMING LATER.

THAT 1915 has established Southern California as the motoring mecca of America for years to come, was the statement made yesterday by President Fred L. Baker of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

It is estimated that the number of eastern motorists who visited the southern part of the State during the winter and summer of 1915 will be doubled next year and probably tripled the year after that, for the reason that the fame of roads here will spread with the return home of those who have found them more than wonderful.

"Word of mouth" advertising will bring hordes of automobilists to the coast in the future according to President Baker. Even more than columns of advertising could do to advise people what Southern California has in store for them, will the personal word do from those who have actually visited the highway systems of the various counties and of the State.

ROUTES OPEN.

With the closing of the great passes to the north with snow during the winter, the transcontinental routes to the south will be open, and during the winter these will be heavily traveled, according to an auto club touring bureau prediction.

Over the National Old Trails Road and over the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway, hordes of motorists will find that they can easily reach California, no matter what the conditions on other routes may be.

The fact that the Automobile Club of Southern California has efficiently sign-posted the N.O.T. will be a great factor in drawing additional thousands. Sign posts have been placed over every part of the way from Kansas City to Los Angeles, and from Los Angeles, the club has, by its wonderful sign-posting system, prepared a medium for the distribution of these visitors over the whole of Southern California.

It is estimated by the club's touring bureau, which has been the official motoring host to automobile parties from outside of the State, that fully 15,000 motor cars, carrying approximately 64,000 visitors, have been received in the southern part of the State so far this year.

Many of these have toured in from points to the north—Oregon, Washington and the northern section of the State, but the majority registering have come from eastern and Middle Western States.

SCENIC WONDERS.

Practical highways, which enable the motorist to see the vital points of interest, the harbors, the various cities and the expositions, are the things that have gone to make Southern California a motor paradise. As a rule, it is pointed out, the great majority of visitors have only a limited time to spend in touring, and they want to cover the essential parts of the territory in that time.

Riverside county is rushing work on practical roads which will connect the valley with the desert. These roads will be used for great commercial enterprises, just as routes which furnish transportation facilities to agriculturists. Over all practical roads the visiting motorists are enabled to see the worthwhile features of Southern California.

It is the plan of the Automobile Club of Southern California to foster this travel from the East, and it will maintain its position as host to the thousands who are coming. According to Secretary S. L. Mitchell more than 100,000 maps have already been distributed which show the main routes of travel. This is a part of the club's service to automobilists.

After January 1, 1916, no American bred dog will be eligible to registration with the American Kennel Club unless its parents have been registered previously in the club's stud book.

Hold that Ball.

FUMBLING IS HUNS' FAULT.

Stanton's Men Somewhat the Worse for Wear.

Several Shake-ups Likely in the Backfield.

Pomona Going After Title in Conference.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CLAREMONT, Oct. 24.—Inability to hold onto the ball cost Pomona the Arizona football game. It was the same old story, a Hun back making a good gain, and then fumbling when tackled. Arizona won because she could handle the ball cleanly, going through the game without a single miscue.

The Huns came through the game considerably the worse for wear. McFadden received a severe cut on the head which will keep him out of the game for several days. Sugg pulled a muscle in his back which may prevent him from playing again this year. Jesson was laid out two or three times during the game, while Waltz and Dahlem received their share of punishment. Another game like the Arizona game, and the Huns won't be able to put a team on the field.

Coach Stanton intends to give his men a week of practice in the art of holding on to the ball. He may shake up his line-up somewhat, and put one or two new men in the backfield. He is going to drill his ends to catch forward passes, and then hold on to them, and he is going to build up an adequate defense for the forward pass. This is the programme for the Huns during the coming week.

THROOP NEXT.

Pomona meets Throop next week in the second conference game of the season. It will be a chance for the Huns to come back, and they will try to roll up a big score if possible. If the Sagehens are unable to defeat Throop decisively, they will be considered out of it as far as the Southern California championship is concerned. Consequently, there will be no loafing, and the Huns will be fighting all the way.

As a result of Saturday's game, several men on the team seem very likely to lose their places to new men. Nisbit fumbled frequently, and Dowling will be given another chance at right half. Rapson will be trained to take Jesson's place if the latter shows the least signs of giving way. Green and Young will continue to fight over the position of full-back, and the former will probably regain his lost berth. Wallace, Noonan and Bray will receive thorough tryouts at end, and will be given every chance possible to make good. Shellenberger may replace Cooper or Sturges at guard at any time.

MUST BE FIGHT.

The Huns are more determined than ever to win this year on account of their defeat at the hands of Arizona. They realize it will be a fight from now on until the end of the season if they expect to defeat Occidental and Whittier in the big games next month, when the latter are known to have the strongest combinations in years. Pomona is thankful that her defeat came in a game outside the conference, and will allow her to fight for the Southern California title without any handicap. Coach Stanton says that his Huns must win because of fight this year if they win at all, and consequently from now on the Huns will be a dangerous team for anybody to meet. Pomona feels that early season disaster may result in ultimate victory, and still feels confident of a fair chance to take the conference title.

SALES MANAGERS MEET FOR LUNCHEON AND BUSINESS AT CLARK HOTEL.

This is automobile week at the sales managers' luncheon at the Clark Hotel, 12:15 sharp Wednesday.

L. V. Starr, manager of the local agency of the Overland company, will speak on the subject, "The Merchandising of Automobiles."

Mr. Graves of the Ford Motor Car Company says that he will make a big effort to have Henry Ford as a guest at this luncheon. His success, of course, will depend upon Mr. Ford's advance arrangements.

There will be a debate on the subject, "Resolved, that it is the best business policy that salesmen should answer the correspondence from customers in their territory." Affirmative, W. R. Hoefflin and F. F. Brown; negative, C. S. Hutton and William Henry. Speakers will be limited to two minutes each, with no rebuttals.

SCORER CHANGES CLUBS' STANDING.

LOS ANGELES AND OAKLAND EACH GAIN A POINT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—Los Angeles and Oakland climbed one point each over night in the percentage column of the Pacific Coast League, it was announced today at league headquarters. A revision of figures issued last night by the official scorer showed that Los Angeles had a percentage of .529 and Oakland .452, a point more than they were given.

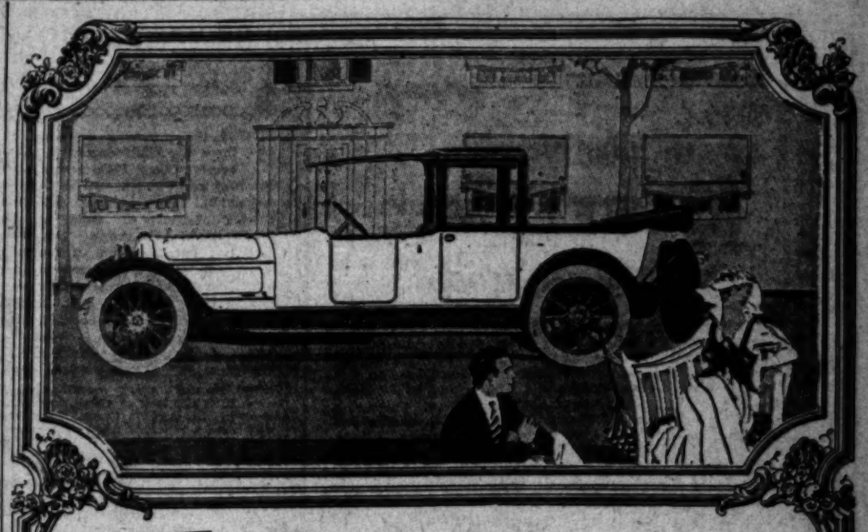
GIRL A MURDER SUSPECT.

St. Louis Police Make an Arrest in Connection with the Killing of Attorney Rowden.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 25.—A woman, 20 years old, was arrested tonight in connection with the police investigation of the murder of Robert L. Rowden, an attorney who was secretly married at Kansas City nine days ago and who was hacked to death in his bachelor apartment here early yesterday. She is being held "suspected of murder."

The girl said she had known Rowden several years. She denied any knowledge of the murder. Mrs. Rowden said her husband owned between $30,000 and $40,000 worth of real estate.



THE LOCOMOBILE is the car built in limited quantities and with such extreme carefulness. A production of only Four Cars a Day—for that exclusiveness class accustomed to the best and not content with any compromise.

The Locomobile is extraordinary in its ease of riding. It is smart, in good taste. It is expensive; it is a great satisfaction to the owner who can afford it.

MAYOR OF DOUGLAS WIRES TO WASHINGTON TO STOP ATTACK ON AGUA PRIETA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Oct. 25.—Declaring that an attack upon Agua Prieta, Sonora, just across the international boundary, by the troops of Gen. Villa, would endanger the lives of Americans here, C. O. Ellis, Mayor of Douglas, sent a telegram tonight to the State Department at Washington, asking that assurances be given that the attack will not be permitted.

The message was sent to Washington through George C. Carothers, representative of the State Department, who arrived here several days ago.

Residents of Douglas and vicinity are becoming alarmed and many are preparing to leave at the first signs of an attack.

Arrivals from Cananea, Sonora, stated that all of the copper companies there had closed their plants. Approximately 5000 workmen were employed at these plants and all have been thrown out of work with the exception of a few men retained as watchmen. A shortage of food, fuel and other supplies was given as the cause of the shutdown.

SAYS GEORGIAN BUNION CENTER.

CHIROPODIST DECLARES WOMEN DOWN THERE WEAR SHOES TOO SMALL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAVANNAH (Ga.) Oct. 25.—That Georgia women have dainty-looking feet only at the expense of wearing shoes that cramp and pinch, and that this State is one of the worst "bunion centers" in the United States, is the declaration of chiropodists following recent comparisons of Georgia girls' feet with those of New York beauties.

"The Georgia girls insist on wearing shoes to small for them," said an expert, "and I'm willing to wager there's no State in the country with more corns and bunions on the feet of its women than Georgia. And there's no use at all in such tight shoes being worn. As a matter of fact, women's feet here are naturally somewhat smaller than those of women in New York, but the southern girls seem to want them smaller still."

SECOND ANNUAL SURF BOAT RACE TO BE HELD SUNDAY.

THE the crowning event of the three-day "fall carnival" to be held at Ocean Park next Friday, Saturday and Sunday, will be the second annual surf boat race, to be held Sunday afternoon in front of the Ocean Park bath-house. The race held last year was one of the most interesting athletic events ever held at any of the Southern California beaches and the one next Sunday promises to be more exciting than the coast has ever seen.

The surf is running quite high now and there will be many upsets if the men are not great oarsmen, and even then the best of them get turned over in the surf at times. Each boat will have a separate flag to round this year and the trouble of all trying to get around one flag at the same time will be eliminated.

Six crews have entered already and two or three more are expected before the time of starting arrives. Twenty-five dollars will be given to the winners and $15 to the second crew landing on the beach.

The danger encountered by boat crews going through the surf at this time of the year, when the breakers are running high, is considerable, and there is no doubt that there will be more than one upset, as the oarsmen throw all caution to the winds and take a chance that they will get through right side up.

Invitations have been sent to the Redondo, Long Beach and Venice life crews, and it is hoped that at least some of them will compete, as George Watkins, captain of the Ocean Park life corps, and winner of last year's event, was the first man to enter, and he wishes to test his ability against that of the other crews of the south.

Information can be had and entries filed with Les Henry of the Ocean Park bath-house.

WOULD WILLIAMS HAVE WON TITLE?

FIELDER JONES EXPRESSES HIS VIEWS.

Figure St. Louis Federals Would Have Copped Bunting with Salt Lake Pitcher on the Mound—Believes Feds will Soon be Welcomed by All.

How close Clyde Williams, the clever southpaw of the Salt Lake club, came to jumping to the Federal League, was told yesterday by Fielder Jones, manager of the St. Louis Federals. Jones come within .0003 of winning the pennant, and he figures that if Williams had joined his team, St. Louis would have romped home with the bunting.

"I consider Williams the best pitcher the Coast League has had in a couple of seasons," said Fielder Jones. "When Bobby Groom began going badly for me about two months before the finish, I sent Marsans out to Salt Lake to get Williams's terms. He told us what he would jump for and I accepted. Then he backed down.

"Later I sent a man to San Francisco to see Williams, but again he refused."

The St. Louis manager believes that before another year is gone the Federal League will be welcome in organized baseball. He points out that nearly all the organized teams in the majors are dead broke.

"The Chicago Cubs didn't draw as big a crowd at home as Portland," said he. "And, at St. Louis, the National League crowds were pitiful in size. We used to play to 10,000 and 12,000 on a Sunday while the Cardinals were playing to 500 and 600."

Manager Jones says the chief difference he noted in the style of major league ball after his absence of several years was in the fielding. The fielding and throwing have become much more precise than it was ten years ago.

SIXTY MILLION DOLLARS.

Southern Senators and Congressmen Want Wilson to Support Measure to Improve Mississippi Levees.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) Oct. 25.—A resolution calling on President Wilson to support a bill in the next Congress asking for an appropriation of at least $60,000,000 for the Mississippi River levee system and making that a separate measure distinct from the rivers and harbors bill was adopted at the meeting here today of Senators and Representatives and members of the Mississippi Levee Association.

The proposed administration programme of military preparedness came in for discussion before the congress and it was indicated that any movement to reduce rivers and harbors appropriations to permit increased military appropriations would be vigorously opposed by at least several of the southern Congressmen.

IDENTIFIED AS BANK ROBBER.

Cashier Gilliam Says the Jordan Brothers are the Men that Held Him Up.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TACOMA (Wash.) Oct. 25.—R. W. Gilliam, cashier of the Citizens' Bank at Renton, tonight positively identified Cecil Jordan, an ex-convict, and his brother, Earl Jordan, as the two men who robbed the bank of $1400 on October 19. Harry Anderson, the chauffeur, who was forced to drive the bandits to Seattle at the point of a gun, denied that the Jordan brothers were the robbers.

The police, who believe their prisoners the men wanted, pointed out that the bandits told Anderson while he was driving them to Seattle that they would take his life if he aided the police.

The Jordan brothers were captured Sunday. Cecil served two years at Walla Walla and six years at Folsom, Cal., and is now on parole from the California State Penitentiary.

CABINET CRISIS IN SPAIN OVER.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

MADRID, (via Paris, Oct. 25, 11:50 p.m.)—The ministerial crisis has been settled by the appointment of Rafael Andrade as Minister of Public Instruction and Luis Espada as Minister of Public Works. The other ministers in the Cabinet will retain their portfolios.

A recent dispatch from Madrid said the ministerial crisis appeared to be confined to the replacing of the Minister of Finance, who was in conflict with the ministers of public instruction and public works over their expenditures, which he considered extravagant.

FRENCH PURSUE BULGAR TROOPS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 26, 1:46 a.m.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from Athens says:

"Reliable news concerning the last battle near Valandovo is to the effect that the French pursued the Bulgarians to the frontier. The Bulgarians have been defeated in the sector of Krupuli, to which three Servian regiments from Strumitsa proceeded and occupied the left bank of the Vardar. The Bulgarians for two days occupied a section of the railway, but owing to a lack of explosives failed to do serious damage.

"The French occupy the sector between Doiran and Gratzo."

FIVE DAYS MORE HELP WILL COME.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 26, 2:10 a.m.—The allies have asked the Servian headquarters to resist the Teutons and Bulgarians for only five days more, by which time effective aid from the allies will be forthcoming, says the Daily Telegraph's Nish correspondent under date of Sunday. The correspondent adds that, judging by the fine spirit the Servian troops are displaying, they can hold out double that time.

SERVIANS FLEE INTO RUMANIA.

Illinois Man is Arrested on His Honeymoon and Taken to Prison to Serve Life Sentence.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—George Oberton was arrested while on his honeymoon here today and returned to the State penitentiary to serve out a life sentence for murder. Oberton escaped three months ago after serving fourteen years of his sentence for killing a Chicago policeman in 1901. He was married here four days ago, but concealed his prison record from his wife. Oberton declares he is innocent of the crime for which he was sentenced.

Republicans Plan Easy Way to Stop "Anything" if it Happens at the Next Convention.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—From twelve to fifteen booms for "favorite sons" will be launched at the Republican national convention next year and "anything is likely to happen."

This is the way in which James B. Reynolds, secretary of the Republican National Committee, summed up the situation to Chairman Charles D. Hilles tonight after visiting twenty-two States.

Mr. Hilles said that Mr. Reynolds reported finding Progressives returning to the Republican party in Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Iowa and Montana. California Progressives, however, who alone elected a Governor last year, were reported standing steadfastly by the organization.

National Board to Examine Physicians is Favored by the Sixth Annual Congress.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, Oct. 25.—A national board to examine physicians, replacing the present system of examination by State boards, was favored by the sixth annual clinical congress of surgeons of North America at its opening session today. A resolution to this effect, introduced by Dr. Charles Gerber of Chicago, was adopted after a brief discussion.

More than 2000 prominent surgeons attended the various clinics and meetings which were held during the day and evening. A demonstration of the removal of birthmarks by the application of liquid air at a temperature of 300 deg. below zero was one of the interesting features of the clinics. It was stated that the operation was painless and that small birthmarks disappeared in twenty seconds after the treatment.

Dr. Charles H. Mayo of Rochester, Minn., was inaugurated president of the congress to succeed Dr. John B. Murphy of Chicago.

GUN EXPERT TELLS ALL ABOUT QUAIL—WHERE TO GO TO FIND COVEY, HOW TO STIR IT UP AND BRING DOWN BIRDS.

BY EDWARD C. CROSSMAN.

ONCE more the season of the festive bird is with us, and the liar is long in the land. Those be the days when the bright-faced youth with the rented pump gun, with another youth of the same facial and shooting equipment, fares forth in the morning, and returns in the evening "with the limit," from a region where the expert sportsman knows the limit cannot be had with a trap, a dog and a can of poison.

Much as I hate to play the traitor to my own clan, I am moved to rise in defense of the fisherman, lo, these many years saddled with Ananias as a direct ancestor. Never did a fisherman lie with the blithesome gladness of the bird shooter hanging over the counter of his favorite sporting goods store. I know, because have I not also hung over such counter?

OVERESTIMATED.

Not knowing the inside of the "limit" yarn as promulgated by returned huntsmen, and spread in pink-sheets for the unwary to read, the lover of game might be worried as to the future thereof, and appalled at the slaughter, but like the reports of casualties on European battlefields, the number of the slain is somewhat overestimated.

This is the season when the quail is to be fair game for two and a half months, instead of the erstwhile short thirty-day season of other years. In appreciation of the long time given by the statutes, every man and his wife, who owned a gun or could get near enough to the counters of the sporting goods stores to rent one, departed for the haunts of the quail the first day of the season—and infallibly returned with all the birds the law allows. If one stood on the San Fernando or Riverside road and counted the machines and their inmates the evening before the season opened, he would have been moved to the conclusion that the season was over "right now," if all of them got in their deadly work. Without doubt, more sportsmen went afield this season than any time in previous years, a natural condition with increase in population of Southern California, and the increase in the number of motor cars in the county.

MUST BE RIGHT.

Without doubt many expert sportsmen, knowing how to hunt quail and knowing where to find the birds, did get the limit and get it easily. Also many a disgusted hunter returned with from no bird to six birds to show for a long trip and much walking. To get fifteen birds from a big covey, well broken up, scattered in flat country, is no trick at all if one can shoot. It is no trick at all to extract a few $5 gold pieces from the open vault of a large bank. In both happy events, it is necessary to find things just right.

The quail have at last taken to cover from the very first gun of the season, and getting them is becoming more and more difficult. Successful quail shoots will speedily become a matter of preserved ranches for the few lucky or paying ones. The day of the huge coveys in the flat, low-brush country is nearly over. Distance from a city is no protection, lack of railroad, or trolley matters not the least. The gas car is a greater enemy to the blue bird than the pump gun ever was in the statements of a Hornaday or any other pump gun and automatic shotgun hater.

OLD LIMITS.

It is, of course, a fact that the present generation of motor car hunters with their modern guns are merely cleaning up the remaining crumbs of the quail feast, with dust pan and broom. The great shooting was done by the men who shot here in the eighties and the nineties and even later, the men who looked on 100 birds as a good day's bag, and who killed on a bet as high as 600 birds in one day. Be this as it may be, the dust pan and broom process is becoming a mighty thorough one.

The writer with two friends stopped in some little rocky hills south of the Elsinore-Perris road Sunday, October 17, on the way back from Warner Hot Springs. An old road winds down through these hills, leaving the main road at an old, abandoned mine hoist and stamp mill which lies just north of the main road. Where we stopped was out of sight of the main road and, seemingly, in the jumble of hot hills, well away from the main traffic of the sportsman.

Yet gunfire rolled all around us, khaki and canvas-clad huntsmen haunted every hillock, and noon saw two automobile loads of hunters rolling up to our tree as the only tree in sight, an assemblage of about fourteen men, including ourselves. Still the popping did not seem to diminish from those the sun had not yet driven to shelter.

BEFORE LAW ALLOWS.

The worst feature of the game is the fact that the "scooner" seems to ply his trade unmolested, and the man holding his quail-killing ambitions in check until the 15th of October is sure only of finding plenty of empty shells in the regions where empty shells mean quail, not dove or rabbit. I tramped over one likely flat in the Lakeview country south of Perris the opening morning. It was punctuated with handsome red and yellow shells, but blue quail did not enter into the color scheme. We found a few higher up in the rocky flats of the foothills, scared stiff, broken up and flushing so far that one could only give the view halo and swear. This is not the action of the undisturbed bird the opening day of the season.

The game wardens plead inability to stop this form of indoor sport, but one good man with one pair of field glasses on one likely spot in the quail country would doubtless see sights that would interest him muchly in his official capacity, were he out in the days before the season opened.

TACTICS.

A lot of ambitious pilgrims seek the quail country with not the faintest idea of where to find the birds, and what to do with them if they run into a covey. Killing a quail limit is a matter of tactics in these days of quail scarcity and quail education.

It may be taken as a primary principle that quail will not be found where there is not both feed and water. True, the birds are found quite often in districts where there apparently is no water, but this proves no more than the fact the hunter does not know the country as well as the birds. The birds will not be found where there is not cover handy; they will not be found in cultivated fields unless said fields contain vineyards with brush hard by, and it is useless to seek them in a district where one flight will put them into brush that is high and dense, because this is the precise spot their little bills will point for when disturbed. Once in they won't fly to avoid being stepped on. One of the most pathetic sights of a cruel world is two or three strong men hiking across a weed field without a patch of brush within a mile, hoping to find Bre'r topknot in said weeds. He is not there.

THE COVEY.

Low rolling hills with sparse brush, a little watercourse in a little valley and maybe a tree or two for a roost, and the quail hunter has at least found the geography pertaining to a covey of quail.

Then when the covey is found and it rises in a blue cloud, there is the critical moment when the expert settles the limit for the day right there and then, and the tenderfoot misses the golden opportunity and gets but two or three shots at maybe a hundred birds. One covey, properly handled, furnishes shooting for the rest of the day. And proper handling is merely gunfire in plenty, yells, assorted noise of any other sort and immediate and violent pursuit of the birds ere they light and go to running. This means running after them and shooting at every head along the enemy parapet and in general horrifying the birds so they'll hide, not run.

KICK 'EM.

After that each one has to be kicked out, which means nearly the literal term, because a hiding bird won't get out for the hunter passing by a dozen feet away if the cover of said bird is good. To walk once through the alighting place of a scared covey is to waste valuable opportunity because once is merely a sampler.

There is one spot near Perris which I fancy will continue to hold quail all season. Five miles out of town, south of the old Lucky Strike mine workings referred to, there is a road running off to the left, just short of a culvert, as one travels toward Elsinore. A half mile or so south there is a huge tree at the head of a little arroyo in the rocky hills, and in this arroyo are water holes, with running water two hundred yards or so downhill from said tree. Other waterholes like the pair near the tree lie farther on down the road and a bit south of it. There are a half dozen coveys of birds in these little hills, hanging around the water holes, but getting them is a task for a walker and a good shot. We flushed three or four coveys—only to have the birds immediately scatter and hide in the crannies in the rocks.

Then one can get up eight or ten birds by assiduously combing out the very tops of these little hills or mounds, where the birds lurk in the rocks. It is not a very brushy country, nor are the hills worthy of the name, but the rocks furnish cover for the birds that seems to afford them absolute courage. When they do flush they get out actually from below one's feet, and then it is a case of surprise—and often grief—on the part of the hunter.

WHERE TO HUNT.

Strange as it may seem, several bona-fide limits are reported out of the Roscoe country, which used to be the mecca for about fifty hunters a Sunday on the old S. P. 6.45 quail chaser's limited. We saw several bunches not far from the Big Tejunga road and just at the point of the hills, during our pilgrimages after dove.

The Calabasas country is not advisable unless one knows exactly where he is going. The good road is literally lined with posted fences until the sportsman might as well run along two rows of thirty-foot stone walls. Also the hills are very brushy, and unless one has his spot and his covey pretty well located, this is a poor direction in which to prospect.

The San Fernando Valley, pestered as it is with hunters, is a better bet, while the country out east is still more likely. Always, however, has the hunter to figure that he may lose a whole day prospecting, because the day is a bygone day when he can roll out in the bright and early morning and fall foul of a covey playing in the road or hard by the road, and then from said covey take out his desired limit. He may, but the bets lie ten to one against him in the most likely spots.

A SURE SPOT.

For the man able to spare the time, the kaffir corn country out around Coachella is about as sure a spot as any place in Southern California.

The shooting, however, is not the usual valley quail shooting, but desert or Gambel partridge shooting, which is a horse of another color. One can fire more shots out there and bag fewer birds than in any quail country in the south. The Gambel partridge looks much like the valley bird, save for a chocolate colored head, more brilliantly striped breast, and a most villainous love for mesquite, which same is a cross between a big bush and a cholla cactus. Every field of kaffir corn holds birds if there is a fringe of brush alongside, and these birds are the champion temper wreckers of California.

WARY.

They run until you give up all hope of their flying, they fly just when you're in the worst position to shoot or a bush intervenes, or both. After this they light in a mesquite, and sit in there in bland disregard of you and your language and rocks and gun fire. When they finally get out of the bush they do it on the farther side, unless a second party is in the game, in which case they choose a neutral quartering exit. I've never heard of a bush being completely surrounded, but suspect that if this were done, they'd develop a tunnel for escape.

So, as I say, in that country you can find oodles of birds, and shoot more and get fewer birds than in any other district. Also I cannot bring myself to believe that any warden with a shred of a heart left would hold a hunter to the fifteen-bird limit, because fifteen birds means soul-wrecking effort and luck extraordinary. Still, there is most certainly a lot of shooting to be had and I'd like to camp there for a week and try to figure out a combination to beat this game.

SHUN REPORTS.

Permit me to suggest one thing to you in seeking quail, that is, to pay no attention to the reports of those interested financially in resorts in the quail country or in the duck denizens. These parties spread more bunk and piffle and return more disappointed sportsmen than any other alleged game guides in this end of the State. The worst fake is Lake Elsinore, and the party advertising fine duck shooting out there. In stormy weather after the birds come from the north, there may be, although at that it is merely a huge alkaline puddle ten miles long and three miles wide, and guiltless of tules for the birds. It would take bad weather at that to give one anything like limit shooting.

NO LIMITS THERE.

We camped on the lake the first Sunday of the season, getting in there Saturday and being on deck on the farther side of the lake before daybreak. In the little open property just beyond us there were fifteen other sportsmen. Not one of us fired one shot, not one of us saw one duck. There was a little shooting at the lower end of the lake, but there were few duck other than what Hedderly calls "jeusy spoonies" and wiretails on the water, and they were mighty few and far between.

I'll bet that any man getting a limit on that lake before the bad weather comes is some chap living in Elsinore and also shooting mighty straight and having horseshoes strung around his neck at that. It is too bad to send sportsmen clear out to that hole in the ground to get the same sort of luck that he'd have hunting ducks on an alkali desert. Far better had the would-be shooter go to Sunset Beach and stand on the sands of an early morning and listen to the club-men pound spoonies, because the results are the same, and it is cheaper.

REAL NEED.

What we need is a real sportsman's information bureau, and a warty club for these promulgators of false alarm shooting reports. As a concrete example, two well-known gentlemen of this city, Dr. W. L. Cooper and W. H. Wilshire, went to the alleged duck club at Domingues the first morning of the season. They fired three shots all at the same bird, and said bird is going yet. Then—several hours later—they came home, bearing with them the memory of the three shots at the one duck—and nothing else. This is duck shooting—at so many bucks per shoot.

THREE-CUSHION PLAY AT L.A.A.C.

TOURNAMENT AT ATHLETIC CLUB HAS SIXTEEN ENTRIES.

The three-cushion tournament at the L.A.A.C. is going merrily along and arousing much interest despite the fact that one of the players left on his honeymoon without notice and rather disarranged the schedule.

Sixteen crack cue artists are entered, and while the matches are going on there is always a crowd of enthusiasts in the billiard-room.

Those after the title are J. S. Moore, W. Conditt, H. E. Dunlap, F. J. Pitner, L. A. Banks, J. Gyaim, C. B. Annock, R. D. Williams, Julius Beerman, E. W. Thatcher, W. S. Span, E. J. Edwards, A. S. Bulinger, J. D. Wiley, R. C. Hamlin and Leo Keller.

A canvass of Detroit to learn the number of motorcars owned by residents of that city reveals the fact that the total is over 85,000. It is estimated that by the end of 1916, Detroit citizens will own nearly 50,000 cars.

"It's a Long, Long Way to Constantinople"

In the path of the Crusaders, but bearing aid, not defiance, to the Crescent, some four hundred thousand descendants of the followers of Barbarossa cross the Danube under the leadership of Field Marshal Von Mackensen, and the great war takes on a new lease of life.

Is this new thrust of Germany a "forlorn hope," or it is "the beginning of the final triumph of German armies over the world?"

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for October 23d the leading feature covers in great detail this latest development in the war. This article is illustrated with a fine new map showing the scenes of the new Balkan campaign, and also cartoons.

Among additional articles which will make this number of the "Digest" of vast interest to its readers, are mentioned:

FUNK & WAGNALLS COMPANY (Publishers of the Famous NEW Standard Dictionary), NEW YORK.

Elizabeth Burbridge,
Fascinating film beauty, who is appearing with the Morosco Photoplay Company in "Tons of Men."

AT THE STAGE DOOR

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Motion picture folk, whose ghosts, as it were, we have been used to viewing, will be visible in reality Wednesday night at the Automobile and Flower Show, and will mingle with the populace in the dance and as queens of the various cars. Several lovely film favorites will preside over the various flower exhibits also. Several hundred motion picture artists will be present.

"Moonlights" Redivivus.

There is a great shaking up of old clothes presses, and the festive moth ball's fragrance is pervading the land. Automobile owners who haven't been out of their everyday clothes in years, are getting out their "moonlights" and brushing them up.

What for?

All in preparation for the Auto and Flower Show to impress the lovely film ladies.

And there'll be many a squeeze into tight waist-bands and many a chaw word spilled over the fit of the new fluted shirts, on the eventful evening.

Mission Play Anniversary.

November 3 the 900th performance of the Mission Play will be given at San Gabriel. This event will be celebrated as "Los Angeles Day" at the play. There has been a big advance sale of seats.

The play closes at San Gabriel December 4, after which the production will make a tour of the world, and will not again be seen in California for several seasons.

Billie's Brain-throbs.

How to make a noise like an automobile was the problem which caused Billie Colvin to wrinkle his brow last week at the Burbank when gathering together his "prop" storms and things for "Nearly Married." But Billie is a versatile cuss. The other morning as he was cat-napping before rising, he heard a peculiar buzzing sound close by.

"What's that?" cried Billie to his wife.

"Why, that's the Jap running the vacuum cleaner," replied Mrs. C.

"Good! Just the thing!" cried Billie in wild excitement.

"Why, of course, dear, it's very effective," replied his spouse.

"I mean for 'Nearly Married,'" cried Billie.

Mrs. Colvin thought the task of getting "props" had put too great a strain on her spouse's massive intellect, and she started to bathe his head in cold water, but when he explained she gave him back his clothes and he went down town and bought a high-voltage v. e.

Popular Letty.

It appears that San Francisco will not permit "Letty" to say "so long" for some time to come. Walter Catlett is said to be the chief blue ribboner in the piece, and it looks as if the electrics of New York's Broadway were beckoning for Walter.

Goodbye, Jane.

Jane Gray, who has been appearing in films for the Griffith Triangle pictures will leave for New York today to play the leading role in a new comedy.

Hello, Winnie.

Winifred Bryson, of the Burbank, has returned home from her San Francisco vacation, and will be seen in the next Burbank play.

Near Naughty Play.

"Nearly Married" at the Burbank promises to equal the run of "Sadie Love." It is quite as funny and very nearly as naughty.

Busy Man.

Arthur Shirley has been signed by Thomas Dixon, Jr., to play the heroic lead, that of John Vassar, in Mr. Dixon's big picture, "The Fall of a Nation." Mr. Shirley is an Australian, and was formerly connected with the Universal.

Mr. Shirley is this week appearing at the Little Theater in the role of Herr Ebeling in Sudermann's "Margot."

Anita's Alluring Smile.

Those who know the charming and tactful Anita King, of Lasky Company, who recently assumed the name of the Paramount Girl, and made an auto trip across country from San Francisco to New York, will appreciate the following from the New York Telegraph:

"What the Mayor of San Francisco wrote to Mayor John Mitchel of our own fair town remains a mystery, for when Anita King, the Lasky actress who motored across the continent alone, carrying this message, arrived at Mayor Mitchel's office yesterday morning, the Mayor was out. He was at a meeting of the Finance Committee, explained the Mayor's secretary, and would be busy all day.

"Miss King asked very, very nicely if the Mayor would be in today, for she had verbal messages from various Mayors, as well as a fistful of envelopes. And Mr. Rosseau replied just as pleasantly that the Mayor would also be busy tomorrow. Whereupon Miss King, instead of "registering" annoyance, smiled sweetly as she turned over the envelopes to the secretary.

"That's why the message of San Francisco's Mayor to our own dancing soldier boy Mayor remains a mystery."

The Telegraph gives a detailed account of the ovation accorded Miss King in New York.

Ethel's New One.

Ethel Barrymore's new play this season is "Our Mrs. McChesney," and is founded on the Edna Ferber stories of that practical, but alluring, lady.

Miss Barrymore may take the play on tour next season.

Curtain.

Julie Opp is very ill in New York and was unable to open in the "Hawk" at the Powers Theater. Her physicians say that she must retire from the stage for an indefinite period.

T. H. Shifts.

T. H. Gibson-Gowland, at present with the Lasky company, will play in Constance Collier's next picture for the Oliver Morosco Photoplay Company.

"Carmen" Note.

The "Carmen" music accompanying the picture at Tally's Broadway this week is well worth hearing, being rendered on the big pipe organ with the orchestra. A special arrangement made by the organist, C. P. Garrett, includes a theme for each character.

Billie to Emote.

Billie Burke is at last to be allowed to "emote." Miss Burke always wanted to, she confided to the writer, during her recent excursion into pictures with the Ince company. "But nobody," declared Miss Burke, "would ever let me."

Her husband, Flo Ziegfeld, evidently considers her sufficiently grown up to be allowed to tackle the quivery thrillers. So Miss Burke is to appear in Hall Caine's "The Woman Thou Gavest Me." And so Miss Burke isn't to wear pink pajamas and make us laugh any more, alack-a-day!

Herbert's New One.

William Worthington and his company of Universal players this week returned from a week's stay at Bear Lake, 6000 feet above the sea, where they have been staging exterior scenes in the production of a three-reel story by Walter Woods, entitled "Bloodhounds of the North," in which Herbert Rawlinson and Agnes Vernon are featured.

Lillie in Films.

Lillian Hamilton has joined the Universal and starts work this week under the direction of Roy Clements in a Joker comedy, with Victor Potel.

Smalleys Will "Film."

Lois Weber and Phillips Smalley left this week for San Francisco, where they will begin the production of Rufus Steele's picture play, "Hop." The Smalleys themselves will appear in the picture, together with Juan de la Cruz, Marie Walcamp and Charles Hammond.

Lovely May.

May Allison's fine work (and face and figure) in "The House of a Thousand Scandals," recently shown at Tally's Broadway, is making her much sought after as a photographer's model. Miss Allison is a member of the American Film Company at Santa Barbara.

Back in Two-a-day.

It is possible that Irene Franklin will appear in vaudeville on the Orpheum circuit this winter. She has closed her engagement in "Hands Up."

Two Temperaments Temp.

Miller's Theater announces that Theda Bara in "Carmen" will be shown at that theater next week. So you can see Geraldine Farrar at Tally's this week and Theda Bara in the same role at Miller's next week.

Go Just Everywhere.

When Harry Corson Clarke and Margaret Dale Owen start from New York on their fourth trip around the world after the holidays, they will be accompanied by two camera men and a complete outfit for taking moving pictures. The itinerary as now arranged is by steamer to Galveston, a visit to the principal cities of Texas, a tour of California, a trip through the Hawaiian Islands, a season in Manila, then on to Japan, Singapore, Ceylon and India.

Wholesome.

GILBERT SKETCH DAINTY AFFAIR

Love Fantasy of Yesteryear Pleases at Orpheum.

Clever Girl Revivifies the Mimic Art.

Glimpses of Stageland and Photoplay Row.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY.

"Sweethearts" is the name of a very dainty and humon little sketch at the Orpheum this week. It was written by Sir W. S. Gilbert, which accounts for its clear-cut artistry, no doubt.

The playlet is in two scenes, the first tells the story of a girl and man who part, when the man is sent to India, without revealing their love for each other, the girl because she must retain her "ladylikeness," the man because he is obtuse and afraid of being jilted. The second scene shows the man and woman meeting after forty years, in the same old garden where they parted, under the tree they planted together.

The chief charm lies in the character of the delineations of Erwin and Jane Connelly as the man and woman, the girl being of cameo-like beauty and portraying a character of passionate sensibility clothed in old-time reserve, and the man quite the wholesome, Johnny-Bull type of slow comprehension. The quaint costuming adds to the attraction of the playlet.

"A Telephone Tangle" lives up to its name. Madge Caldwell is the telephone girl, who, seated at a conventional switchboard, gives vent to the cynical humor, at the expense of "customers," which is supposed to be the telephone operator's conversational stock in trade. The persons in the booths are shown by means of transparencies, and appear and disappear as their times to get tangled up in conversation with the wrong parties occur. This is all far more amusing than it sounds in the telling, and made a great hit yesterday.

Bessie Browning is a "find" in vaudeville. She has a personality which gets her very good material over in capital fashion. Of course, imitations have been somewhat overdone, but hers of Eva Tanguay and Eddie Foy, with his watery smile and husky voice, and his funny, bandy legs, justify the vaudeville stage in keeping this type of netertainment a whole longer.

Doing a hand-balancing act with the weight of his body resting on three fingers of each hand is the most picturesque feat achieved by George Chiyo, a Japanese tumbler, whose other work is nifty but not new.

Weber, of Weber and Elliott, starts out press-agencing himself from the audience by pretending to be a spectator who has come to see Weber work, and tells Elliott he won't stand for anybody else's appearance. The best comment which can be made on the act is that Weber, while he enters by way of the audience, takes the precaution not to exit that way.

Devine and Williams, billed as the "Traveling Sauesman and Female Drummer," laugh a good deal themselves, but somehow the audience isn't in on the joke.

Alice Lyndon Doll and the two other pretty girls with her continue to please in their musical numbers, and Wilson and Lenore are no worse than last week.

ZIMMERMAN SUIT IS DISMISSED.

HEINIE'S MARITAD TROUBLES GET INTO THE COURTS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The marital troubles of Henry (Heinie) Zimmerman, second baseman of the Chicago National League baseball club, came to an issue today when Supreme Court Justice Brady dismissed the suit for separation brought by Mrs. Helen C. Zimmerman, but ordered that the action for absolute divorce which Zimmerman brought against his wife should proceed. The separation suit was dismissed when Mrs. Zimmerman's attorney announced that his client had disappeared with her daughter and that he had been unable to communicate with her.

A Combination That Is Worth While

The Times

The Woman's Home Companion

The American Magazine

THE TIMES.

The Times, in addition to its unsurpassed foreign, national and local news service, is the only newspaper in California having its own correspendent, Harry Carr, on the European battlefields. Mr. Carr's articles, written from the various European cities, have the intimate personal touch, and are intensely interesting. And those that will be published after his return from the scene of hostilities will be fascinating, thrilling and enlightening.

The Times chronicles all the momentous happenings in the world accurately and impartially, and in local news it stands out distinctly as a Los Angeles newspaper, being owned, managed and edited by men who live in and are identified with this city.

Its editorial page is strong, aggressive, progressive and independent; its financial and market page is more complete than that of any other Pacific Coast newspaper; its Women's Page meets the needs of all classes of women and readers; and its Society Page thoroughly covers the social activities of Los Angeles and environs.

The Times' literary features are comprehensive and varied; its cartoons are amusing and instructive; its articles on the home, church and clubs, art, amusements, outdoor life and sporting events are well written and entertaining, and in all the features that go to make up an adequate metropolitan newspaper The Times shows its incomparable and indisputable supremacy all the year round.

THE WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION.

The "Companion" stories are the kind of stories that are as good to read as intelligent, well-bred, entertaining people are to meet. They are not the kind that give a cheap view of life, or throw a glamor over vice and crime, but they elevate thought and inspire men and women to worthier deeds. A new series begins in November, with the first installment of Fanny Heaslip Lea's new novel, "Chloe Malone." The regular subscription price of The Woman's Home Companion is $1.50 per year.

THE AMERICAN MAGAZINE.

A beautifully illustrated magazine for the home devoted to art, fiction, humor and sketches of distinguished people of the world, by famous writers. Of interest to every member of the family. The regular subscription price is $1.50 per year.

HOW TO GET THEM.

Sign your name and address on the card below and mail or bring it to The Times office, or any regular Times agent.

Baby Boy Just Misses Being Perfect Specimen.

New School Betterment Movement is Undertaken.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Oct. 26.—Death came without warning to a widely-known southern family at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. Benton J. Brown succumbed suddenly to heart failure at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Clifford Tuttle, at No. 560 South Orange Grove avenue.

In poor health for several years, the deceased came to California about a year ago accompanied by various members of her family, among them Mrs. Clifford Tuttle, and sons, of Englewood, N. J.; another daughter, Mrs. Albert Menke of the Maryland Hotel, and Mr. Menke, and a son, Harold Brown, and family, of Englewood.

Mrs. Tuttle and her sons and Mrs. Menke and Mrs. Brown will leave Wednesday to carry the remains of their mother to Englewood, where she will be placed beside her husband, the late Judge Benton J. Brown, in the family mausoleum.

Mrs. Brown was born in Louisiana 76 years ago. Her maiden name was Martha Catherine Rothrock. She came of an old Virginia family which had intermarried with the Dudleys of Massachusetts, her great, great grandfather being Gov. Dudley of that state. The late Judge Brown was a member of the bar in Little Rock, Ark., and was on the bench many years, being one of the wealthiest jurists in the South. He also died at the age of 74 in 1910, just one month before he and his wife were to have celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Brown was a woman of brilliant mentality and her sudden passing was a great shock to family and friends.

CHAMPION BABIES.

Louis Calvin Norris, 24-month-old son of Louis A. Norris, a fireman of No. 233 Elizabeth street, missed being declared a perfect baby by just one and one-half pounds yesterday at the conclusion of the "better babies" contest, which has been carried on for the last three days. However, baby Louis so far outstripped the other 211 entrants that he was awarded the city championship and a beautiful silver trophy, accompanying the distinction.

Because Louis weighed thirty-one and one-half pounds instead of the twenty-five pounds set down as the desirable weight for a 2-year-old boy he lost .3 of 1 per cent. in the judges' rating.

Little Ruth C. Merriam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Merriam of No. 808 South Los Robles avenue, won first prize for girl babies and came within .6 of 1 per cent. of equaling the champion's record. She is 1 year old.

Dr. I. L. Livingston, who conducted the contest, stated the average of the babies of the Crown City is among the highest for the many similar contests she has supervised in Southern California. She was particularly pleased, she said, with the splendid physical and mental qualities of the winners.

TELEPHONE TRAGEDY.

Because he did not receive a telephone call yesterday afternoon, James Dooley has a bullet wound in the breast and lies at his home, No. 2053 North Los Robles avenue, in care of a nurse and a guard.

Recently his wife went to live with friends in the neighborhood and applied for a divorce. Yesterday Mr. Dooley called her by telephone and asked if she would meet him at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, that they might discuss differences. She said she would, but later found she could not do so, and tried to reach him by telephone and suggest he call at 4 o'clock. She could not find him.

So without a meeting he called her up in the evening by telephone and berated her for not keeping the appointment. Then she heard the sound of a shot.

She called the police. When she arrived with officers at the husband's home she found him wounded in the head and gas rushing from open jets.

TO BETTER SCHOOLS.

A series of teachers' committees, appointed by Superintendent of Schools Hughes, is about to initiate a campaign known as the school survey, to interest the pupils constructive thinking. The campaign, which is modeled after that pursued in several other cities of the country, Mr. Hughes said today:

"The committees will study their problems of the work from the point of view of what the Pasadena school system can do from the point of view of what other good school systems have done, with the aspect of determining what improvements or additions can be made in the local system.

"We must be constantly alert to provide sane, practical means for infusing new life into the school system and keep things going under pressure. This new plan has that object in view and contemplates practical tests, in actual work, of new ideas."

CITY BRIEFS.

Thomas A. Edison, according to a telegram received here today, expects to spend several hours in Pasadena the latter part of the week. He expects to be in the south by Thursday night and plans on taking an automobile trip through Pasadena in company with Henry Ford, the automobile manufacturer.

Because forty of the big slabs of marble which form the floor of the handsome lobby of the new $350,000 Maryland have cracked, the contractors will have to replace them, regardless of the fact that they were accepted by the superintendent of construction.

Under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers' Association, a reception which will include an inspection of all the rooms of the handsome new $40,-Altadena school will be given tonight. It will begin at 2:30 and continue till 4:30 p.m., and for an hour before the programme, which begins at 8 o'clock, patrons are invited to inspect the school.

Until yesterday Besotu Mendes of No. 131 Dayton street never had seen a whisky and when one stung him, he rushed to the Emergency Hospital

HEAVY PREMIUM ON ROAD BONDS.

LAST BLOCK OF BIG ISSUE IS BOUGHT BY BANK OF SAN FRANCISCO.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 25.—The highest figure said to have ever been offered for 5 per cent. bonds in this county was given as a premium by the Anglo and London Paris National Bank of San Francisco today in purchasing the last block of $625,000 in county highway bonds out of the total bond issue of $1,750,000. The premium is not announced but it is reported to be in excess of the $20,312 paid for a former block of bonds by the same company and indicates that the big war loan in the East has had no visible effect on financial conditions on the Pacific Coast.

HEAVIER FREIGHT MOVEMENT BY SEA.

PROSPERITY SIGNS ARE SEEN IN FAT CARGOES OF COAST CRAFT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Oct. 25.—An indication that business conditions have taken a decided turn for the better is seen in a remarkable increase in coastwise freight movement during the past week. Over 4000 tons of merchandise and grain arrived here yesterday and today from San Francisco, Portland and Puget Sound ports.

The Congress, which sailed for return to Puget Sound today, brought more than 1200 tons, the Beaver, which sailed for Portland today, more than 1000 tons and the Roanoke, which arrived from Portland tonight, more than 1000 tons. The Harvard and Aroline, from San Francisco, also had heavy cargoes.

Lumber shipments are also heavier this fall than they have been at any time in three years. The demand for lumber in the country districts has been normal for several months but it is only lately that the city trade has been showing signs of its old-time activity.

ORDER BOND ELECTION.

Almost Two Millions for Irrigation of Citrus Lands Proposed in Tulare County.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VISALIA, Oct. 25.—Members of the Board of Supervisors today formally approved of the engineering plans for the Lindsay-Strathmore Irrigation District and passed an official order for an election at which property owners of the district will pass on a proposed issue of $1,750,000 for the construction of storage reservoirs and a distribution system. The date for the election will be announced soon.

This project, with changes in boundaries recently made, will include 17,500 acres of foothill citrus land stretching from Exeter to within a short distance of Porterville.

HIT BY SKIDDING BUS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Oct. 25.—Struck by a skidding jitney, Miss Carrie C. Miller of No. 401 East First street was knocked down and run over and received severe injuries. Her nose was slit and one shoulder was probably broken. The accident occurred after last midnight a mile south of Anaheim. Miss Miller was returning in an automobile from Pomona with E. C. Martin, Miss Eva Martin and Miss Hester Covington, after attending a church meeting. At a curve on the State highway Mr. Martin's automobile skidded on pavement made wet by fog, and careened to the side of the road. The occupants of the machine got out. A jitney came around the corner and it, too, skidded. It struck Miss Miller and Miss Martin. Miss Martin escaped with severe bruises only.

Circus Manager's Protest Discloses Triple Burial of Horse that Would Not Stay in His Grave.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, Oct. 25.—Discussion today by the City Trustees regarding an invitation to a circus that usually winters here to again close its season in this city unearthed a city skeleton. It is that of one horse buried by the city three times before it was completely out of the way.

The circus manager said he would willingly come back, but the city held a bill of $25 against him for burying the horse, which he thought high. It was explained the animal had to be reburied on account of high water washing it up twice. The bill was cancelled by the Trustees.

Santa Monica Contemplates Drastic Regulation Because Privilege has Not Brought Service Expected.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 25.—Constant complaint to the police that jitney busses fail to give the service intended when the City Council granted them privileges resulted today in authority being given the Police Commission by the Council to regulate jitney traffic until a strict regulative ordinance can be drafted.

The action was taken upon the advice of Chief of Police Randall, who said that the jitneys crowd one street, Santa Monica boulevard, where the electric cars are operated, and that pedestrians say their lives are endangered by a constant stream of the fare machines.

MISSING WOMAN SEEN.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Oct. 25.—Following the assertion of Mrs. Harry E. Meyers of this city that she saw Miss Annie Kirkwood in an Oakland department store last week, relatives of the missing woman have turned northward in their search. A brother of Miss Kirkwood is on his way to Oakland today. In the Oakland department store, Mrs. Meyers said, Miss Kirkwood spoke to her cordially and with apparent surprise at meeting her so far from home.

FULL OF BIRD SHOT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 25. — Charles Dundas, one of the proprietors of the Glenwood Garage, is carrying about in his person, just under the skin, thirty-two No. 8 birdshot, received while hunting quail in the vicinity of Elsinore. The thirty-third shot, which lodged in Mr. Dundas's nose, he removed with a pocketknife. The remainder he says he will carry about until he has leisure to dig them out. The charge struck the automobile man when fired by a companion, who was 100 yards distant.

RECALL PETITION.

THREE-MONTH-OLD INJURY IS FATAL.

MOTORCYCLIST IS VICTIM OF MENINGITIS—NEWS OF MONROVIA.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

MONROVIA, Oct. 25.—Cerebrospinal meningitis, believed to have been caused from injuries received in a motorcycle accident three months ago, yesterday afternoon caused the death of Carl Ertle, 28, who was employed in a bakery here. The young man was stricken Saturday night with a violent chill and lapsed into unconsciousness two hours later, never rallying.

About three months ago Mr. Ertle's back was hurt when his motorcycle collided with an East Indian, Intr Singh, who was riding a bicycle. The Indian is still in the hospital, but will probably recover. Mr. Ertle was apparently little hurt, and it was not until late Saturday night that he considered the bruises received long ago in a serious way.

The funeral service, in charge of the local W.O.W. camp, were held tonight. The remains will be shipped to the family home at Salem, Or.

Seventeen years ago John O'Neil called on his friend, J. H. Baker, at the latter's clothing store in Newburyport, Mass., to say good-by. Mr. O'Neil was a private in the army. Yesterday Capt. John O'Neil of Fort Rosecrans, San Diego, stopped here to visit Mr. Baker, who is now proprietor of a furnishing goods house here. Capt. O'Neil won a commission from the ranks, and is now on his way to San Francisco, where he will direct mine planting in the harbor.

BAPTISTS COMING.

Five hundred members of the Los Angeles Baptist Association will meet here tomorrow for the three-day session of their forty-seventh annual convention. The church, Sunday-school, Young People's Society and Missionary Society will hold morning, afternoon and evening sessions. Lodging and breakfast will be furnished by the 250 members of the Monrovia church, for those unable to return to their homes over night, and dinner and supper will be prepared and served in the church dining-room.

Some of the best-known ministers of Southern California will take part in the deliberations.

FIRES CONTROLLED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 25.—Forest fires are burning four miles north of Zaca Lake and in the vicinity of Nojoqui grade on the State highway. The local forestry office reports both blazes under control. A fire which had burned since Saturday in the Elizabeth Lake country is out, according to report to the office today.

KILLED BY BLOW.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

OXNARD, Oct. 25.—Querero Jose, a Mexican, was killed by a blow struck by John C. Scavarda. Scavarda says he was struck first, and the inquest has been postponed so a number of witnesses may be called. Jose worked at the sugar factory and bore a good reputation.

Pomona.

METHODIST MINISTERS GIVEN APPOINTMENTS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, Oct. 25.—The most important change made by the appointments at the conference of the Methodist Church, South, which closed in this city today, was the selection of Rev. D. Scarborough of Santa Ana for presiding elder of the Arizona district. His place at Santa Ana will be filled by Bishop Lambuth later. The next most important change was that of Rev. Eustace Anderson from Prescott to Bethel Church at Phoenix. The latter is said to be the best church in Arizona. Rev. Mr. Anderson was pastor of Marvin Church in Los Angeles for five years.

It is said there was at no time any doubt but that Rev. C. C. Selecman would be returned to the congregation of Trinity Auditorium. His report for the year, covering the many activities of the million-dollar enterprise, was a delight to the sixty visiting pastors, and the bishop said he felt Rev. Mr. Selecman is probably the only man who could carry on the work at Trinity successfully.

R. P. Howell was made presiding elder of the Los Angeles district, and the Southern California appointments were as follows:

W. A. Youngman, Azusa; W. O. Waggener, Carpenteria; George S. Clark, Downey; T. B. Lavender, Duarte; G. T. Bond, Long Beach; C. C. Selecman, Trinity, Los Angeles; W. J. Burtscher, secretary for Mr. Selecman; L. J. Milliken, director of religious education; to be supplied, Bethel, Los Angeles; J. Allen Ray, Hollywood; W. L. Whisnant, Marvin; C. M. Cagle, Woodlawn; R. H. Barr, Newport; George C. Harris, Norwalk; James T. French, Pomona; Gross W. Alexander, Redlands; to be supplied, Santa Ana; R. R. Raymond, supply; C. R. Gray, San Diego; Talbert and Thermal to be supplied; A. V. Stem, Ventura; W. J. Lee, San Bernardino; C. P. Moore, Sunday-school field superintendent; A. L. Marshall, secretary of education; George Forma, missionary evangelist.

Arizona appointments were as follows:

D. Scarborough, presiding elder; Rev. Robin Gould, to Bowie and San Simon; J. R. Sawyer, Clifton; W. B. Wheeler, Duncan; Elgin Circuit and Morenci to be supplied; J. B. Rice, Gila and Ajo; S. C. Bockman, Liberty; B. R. Mobley, Nogales, R. K. Acuff, Parker; R. N. Snders, Alhambra circuit; Eustace Anderson, Bethel, Phoenix; W. H. Nelson, Cartwright; W. J. Sims, Central, Phoenix; J. F. Hodgpeth, Prescott; E. L. Fitch, Ray; G. L. Horine, Safford; J. M. Risinger, Verde; J. Coy Williams, student of theology at Dallas; R. H. Fields, Maricopa county missionary; W. J. Sims, conference missionary secretary.

The following transfers were made: C. A. Hyatt and A. L. Marshall, to the Western North Carolina conference; C. B. Webdell to the West Texas conference; S. M. Cheek to the Columbia conference; A. B. Waldrep to the Western Oklahoma conference; E. H. Mowre to the Pacific conference; J. E. Crutchfield to the Louisville conference.

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Oct. 25.—In a formal published statement today John C. Wray, editor of a daily newspaper, denied a report that he had been married. Rumor had him wedded to a wealthy widow residing in the Wilshire district in Los Angeles.

"At 68 years of age I am too sensible to put any woman, old or young, in a position where nothing but regrets could result from an alliance," the statement concludes.

ADMIRAL MANNEY CALLED BEYOND.

NAVAL VETERAN PASSES AWAY AFTER AN ILLNESS OF SIX DAYS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 25.—Rear-Admiral Henry Newman Manney, U.S.A., retired, died this morning at his home on Point Loma, from pneumonia, after an illness of six days. Three days ago the illness of Admiral Manney took a turn for the worse, and his death had been expected since yesterday morning, when he lapsed into unconsciousness.

Admiral Manney was born in La Porte, Ind., January 22, 1844, and was appointed to the Naval Academy from Minnesota in 1861. Upon the outbreak of the Civil War he was detailed to one of the United States frigates and saw considerable active service. At the conclusion of the war he returned to the Naval Academy, from where he was graduated in 1866. From 1903 to 1904 he served as commandant of the New York navy yard, and was then transferred to Washington as chief of the bureau of equipment of the navy, with the rank of rear-admiral, continuing in this capacity until 1906. From then until November 20, 1909, when he was retired at the age limit, he superintended naval construction work on the Pacific Coast. Upon his retirement Admiral Manney came to San Diego and had since made his home here.

Two and one-half years ago he was elected to the Common Council of San Diego, an office he held at the time of his death. Admiral Manney leaves a widow and one daughter.

In compliance with his wishes his body will be embalmed and forwarded to Washington, for interment in the Arlington National Cemetery.

Brawley.

TO PUT TOWN WHERE OIL IS.

Survey of Desert Site will be Begun Today.

Commercial Value of Field Yet Undetermined.

Many Persons Still Busily Recording Filings.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BRAWLEY, Oct. 25.—With the commercial possibilities of the oil finds west of here yet undetermined, promoters will tomorrow launch the first oil town in the valley. In one of the few level stretches in the hummocky desert forty miles from here, John Rice, formerly City Engineer of Imperial, will tomorrow start surveys for the townsite, which will be called Gateway. It will be in section 3, T. 12, R. 10, about two miles south of the Curley Hole, in which oil was discovered.

Attorney Harry Dyke, one of the promoters, said today that several persons had already declared themselves desirous of securing locations for stores, lodging-house, a restaurant and similar establishments. Water will be secured by drilling. Negotiations are under way for a wireless outfit, which will bring the proposed town into communication with the valley. John B. Curley, Sam and Will Dick, William Wessel and A. Hudson are backers of the project.

The surveys will be made off the third standard parallel in order to obviate any danger of lawsuits through erroneous surveys. Much litigation is certain from this source if any of the three drilling rigs now on the way tap a paying supply of oil and the claims are shown of sufficient value to fight for. Other contests will develop through double filings.

According to the books of the County Recorder's office, filings are plastered two deep on some half-sections. As the available land has become scarcer and the oil fever intenser, sentries with rifles and shotguns have become thicker, there are threats a-plenty for any adventurous "jumper."

Filings on 6400 acres were recorded at El Centro today. One of the groups was made up of Richard Woelffel, secretary of the Brawley Chamber of Commerce; Guy Pearson, C. W. Dietrich, C. E. Harrington, a local oil driller, and Jerry Sullivan of San Diego. They are in section 22, T. 11, R. 10. A San Diego group, made up partly of Beecher Sterns, F. M. Ridler, W. E. Craigiaw, R. S. Davis and W. H. Jarvis, also filed today. They are in the Yuha country. An Imperial group, made up partly of Roy McPherrin, R. K. McGuffin, S. L. Loffer, M. V. Dutcher and W. A. Mackie, filed this morning. The area filed upon this month is 35,000 acres.

C. C. Toney of El Centro yesterday took a party of San Diego men to a gas hole in the bed of New River, near the south end of the Superstition Mountains. There he showed them a hole three feet in diameter, which periodically emits gases which, when lighted, give off a flame that flares up three or four feet. Heavy filings have been made in the surrounding country.

Claus Spreckels and a party of San Diego men interested with him in the exploitation of the Brawley field again yesterday visited their claims.

FAID TO BREAK SAFE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN FERNANDO, Oct. 25.—Would-be safe-crackers, who eschewed "soup" and wielded sledge hammers and jimmies, last night found the strong box of the postoffice here is too strong for them. They locked the door of the lobby, which is kept open day and night, and attacked the safe by driving wedges about the door. A merchant who tried to enter found the street door locked and notified Postmaster Hills. The would-be thieves had gone when he investigated. They left the hinges of the safe sprung, but still holding fast.

At the critical age of middle life

To grow old gracefully! This is the hope of every man and woman at the critical age of middle life. To keep the mind fresh, the body active—to keep from too-early "slowing up" with the weight of advancing years—to be able to resist the attack of disease with the same certainty as in the younger day—this is the hope of the middle-aged.

And here the kindly help of Sanatogen brings most gratifying results. Embodying purest albumen and organic phosphorus, Sanatogen is easily assimilated into the system; it feeds the depleted cells and tissues, restores energy, reawakens the appetite, and strengthens the organism so that it is better able to withstand the inroads of disease.

Many indeed are those who, after using Sanatogen, can say with John Burroughs, the venerable naturalist:

"My sleep is 50 per cent. better than it was a year ago, and my mind and strength are much improved."

Or with the Hon. Wm. E. Chandler, former Sec'y of the Navy, who writes:

"Sanatogen is a pleasant nutriment for cases of impaired digestion. It strengthens without irritating and promotes vitality in feeble folks."

Famous men and women almost without number have given grateful praise for the restorative aid of Sanatogen, and over 21,000 physicians—after watching it in their daily practice—have written expressing their belief in Sanatogen.

To guard against the pitfalls of advancing years, Sanatogen can be helpful also to you.

Sanatogen is sold by good druggists, everywhere, from $1.00 up.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE INDICATES NEW CREDITS NECESSARY.

War Shares are Again Strong and so are Many Railroads Whose Earnings Have been Increased by Heavy Traffic—Steel and Several Specialties are Also Firmer.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Last week's renewal of activity in special stocks was resumed on a large scale today, regardless of more acute weakness in foreign exchange. Demand sterling fell to 4.61½, a decline of 12 points from the high point to which it recovered a few weeks ago, when the Anglo-French loan was in process of consummation, and only 11½ points above the alarmingly low level recorded in August. Most other forms of foreign remittance were lower, including francs and lires, while marks were inclined to yield. It is becoming increasingly evident that the only solution of this problem lies in the establishment of new foreign credits. Conferences with this end in view were held by international banking interests today, and some definite adjustment is soon probable. The higher prices scored today were again limited to so-called war shares. Among the new records were Maxwell Motors common, up 15⅝ points to 90½, the second preferred 7½ to 64; National Enameling and Stamping, 2¼ to 36¼, and American Linseed, 3⅜ to 31½. Among the other substantial gains of the session were General Electric, 5¼ to 182; Baldwin Locomotive, 4 to 146; New York Air Brake, 5 to 153, and the fertilizers and oils, these gaining 2 to 3. United States Steel's course was watched with especial interest because of tomorrow's quarterly meeting of the directors. Steel opened a fraction higher, soon fell over a point, and was heaviest at the close, losing 1¼ at 85⅝. The opinion is that no action on the common dividend will be taken. Eries were the outstanding features of the railways, the common advancing 3¼ to 39½, the first preferred 1½ to 56½, and the second preferred 3¼ to 48⅝. These represent the highest quotations in three to four years. Erie common was only second in activity to Steel, the demand for this stock being among the few impressive features of the day. Rails in general and specialties shaded considerably toward the end, some standard issues making moderate net losses. Total sales were 1,150,000 shares. The western freight movement now is substantially above last year's, and shows gains over 1913. The government cotton ginning report was without effect on southern transportation shares. Bonds were steady at the outset, but yielded slightly on increased offerings. Total sales, par value, aggregated $4,655,000. Government bonds were unchanged on call.

LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE.

Heavy Trading in Ivanhoe—Increased Activity Among Oil Issues. Investment Sells Strong.

There was considerable excitement on the Stock Exchange yesterday afternoon when Ivanhoe Consolidated was called for the first time. For a short period bids and sales came so rapidly that Caller Jolliff had some difficulty in taking care of all the transactions. Almost 300,000 shares changed hands at a universal price of .17½, with 30-day buyer options bringing .18. This establishes a record for the heaviest trading on any one stock so far this year. Big Jim was slightly stronger at .38, and Lucky Boy was in some demand at consistent quotations.

Quite a number of transfers were recorded among the oil securities. Forty shares of Producers' Transportation sold for $70.00 and 20 shares of Union brought 60.00 a share. United Oil evidenced improvement at .17½, and National Pacific was a seller at unchanged figures. Los Angeles continued to attract interest at .43, and over 1000 shares were transferred at that price.

There will be no call on the exchange today on account of the State election.

NEW STRENGTH GIVEN WHEAT.

ADING PRICES ARE OVER THREE CENTS HIGHER.

Unsettled Weather in the Northwest, an Improved Export Demand and a Disappointing Domestic Visible Supply Overcome All Bear Arguments and Values Rise.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Wheat made a good advance in value today, owing to unsettled weather in Canada, and to improved export business, and to the fact that the United States visible supply did not increase as much as expected. The market closed buoyant, with 1¾ to 2⅞ net higher, with December at 1.01⅛ and May at 1.03⅜@1.03½. Corn finished 1⅛ to 1¼ up, and oats show a gain of ⅛ to ⅜@1, but provisions unchanged to 20 down. Strength in wheat was preceded by something of a break at the start. Corn went up-hill as a result of the strength of wheat. Fine weather did but little to check the advance. Signs of a good export demand helped to put firmness into oats. On the bulge, though, countershowings increased. Provisions ruled dull, owing to lack of aggressive support. The trade virtually ignored advances in the price of hogs.

SIGN TALK FOR ALL NEWSBOYS?

PLAN DOES NOT SOUND GOOD TO COMMITTEE.

Suggestions Favoring Adoption of London Street Sellers and Adoption of Silencers Turned Down When Managers Agree to Handle the Situation Direct.

Considering requests for an ordinance to license newsboys and require them to announce their wares in whispers or else solicit trade in sign language, the Public Welfare Committee of the Council yesterday finally decided to leave the matter with the circulation managers of the various local newspapers. The managers assured the committee that they can handle the situation without invoking the aid of a city ordinance.

One suggestion before the committee was that Maxim silencers be provided for the boys and another suggestion was to adopt the business methods of the newsboys in "Dear old Lunnon," where the British newspapers are announced by placards which the newsboys bear on their backs. Councilwoman Lindsey thought the placard system might be a good thing, anyway, but no vote on that point was taken. Another request to the committee was for an ordinance silencing the newsboys until 8 a.m. on Sunday. Mrs. Lindsey denounced the practice of some newsboys, who, despite the fact that they were perfect strangers, walked by her side and held an afternoon "Extra" before her face, seeking to arouse her curiosity to the buying point.

The circulation managers told the committee that many of the newsboys are supporting themselves and helping to support others. In the last two or three years the profits of the newsboys on the streets have risen from $300 a week to $3000 a week, and the managers argued that the business was one of financial importance to many families.

The next largest gathering before the committee was a delegation from Hollywood, headed by Mrs. L. B. Jorlamon, who complained that a neighbor is running a chicken and peacock ranch with the muffler wide open day and night. In this lot at the rear of her home, No. 1753 Serendo place, Mrs. Jorlamon said, is kept an aggregation of twelve roosters, eighteen ducks, three peacocks, two parrots, five geese, seven peafowl—and so the list continued. There was a drawing of the lot with the various coops and pens indicated and evidence was plentiful on all sides. It was suggested that a delay of a few days may bring about some settlement of the troubles of the neighborhood and with the understanding that dictaphone records of the noises may be submitted later, the committee delayed action on the complaint for thirty days.

LET 'EM WAVE.
MORE MONEY FOR PALMS.

"Never again," said Councilman Wheeler, chairman of the Finance Committee yesterday when he signed a report favoring payment of a bill amounting to $56.95 for watering the palms on the downtown streets during August and September. "Never again," echoed Councilmen Betkouski and Wright as they signed the report.

"Seems to me that's what we said two or three months ago," added Mr. Betkouski.

In the meantime, Commissioner H. Z. Osborne of the Board of Public Works and representatives of the county are trying to find who owns the palms and what to do with them if the Council really decides to order them off the streets.

The Finance Committee disapproved a suggestion of the Board of Public Works that motor-driven street flushers be tried out at a rental of $1200 for two months. The committee suggests that by a plan where one side of a street is flushed one night and the other side the night following, many accidents may be avoided. An appropriation of $175 was recommended to pay the funeral expenses of Police Sergeant J. F. Toolen.

Declare New Sewer Needed.

Members of the Council Finance Committee conferred with City Engineer Hamlin and City Attorney Stephens yesterday relative to the necessity for immediate action in constructing a new north outfall sewer. The City Engineer explained that the present sewer is so overloaded that floods are certain and the new sewer is urgently needed. It is estimated that the sewer, including rights of way, will cost $2,000,000.

Hearing is Delayed.

There was no quorum at yesterday's meeting of the Civil Service Commission when the question of a hearing on the applications of the recently discharged employees of the Humane Animal Commission was scheduled. The commission will likely meet Thursday, when Mrs. E. M. Waddell, former secretary, and H. S. Fowler, former inspector of the Humane Animal Commission, will appear.

No Overtime Pay.

The Council Finance Committee yesterday turned down flat the request of Tax Collector Conrad for permission to pay office employees for overtime work during the rush of tax collections. "We wish to reaffirm our position as unalterably opposed to overtime pay in any city department," says the committee report.

Against Hotel Runners.

Members of the Southern California Hotel Men's Association were assured by the Public Welfare Committee of the Council yesterday that the City Attorney will be instructed to draw an ordinance prohibiting hotel runners from soliciting business at the local railway stations. The fight, which has been before the Council for several months, is one in which the large hotels seek to do away with soliciting on trains or at the stations while the smaller hotels desire to continue the practice.

Mayor Strictly Neutral.

Replying to a cabled request from the London Times for his opinion on the execution by the Germans in Belgium, of Miss Cavell, the English nurse, Mayor Sebastian said that he must conform to the President's request that citizens of the United States refrain from expressions that may be regarded as a violation of the spirit of neutrality.

Minor City Affairs.

The Council yesterday approved the form of franchise drafted by the Public Utilities Board for the Pacific Electric changes in Front street and other streets in the Harbor district and bids for the franchise will be opened by the Council November 8. The franchise provides that when the Harbor Commission and the Board of Public Works make final decision on the location of the Harbor boulevard in the district covered the railway company must separate grades as deemed necessary by the city.

The Public Welfare Committee recommended yesterday that the City Attorney be instructed to draft amendments to the ordinance relative to handling second-hand goods to provide that all persons and firms dealing in such articles be included in the license list and that reports of second-hand goods received be made daily to the police instead of weekly as at prsent. This question was voted down by the Council several months ago but the change is urged by Chief Snivley as necessary in order to cope with the automobile tire thieves who are getting their loot out of the way before it is reported to the police.

UNBORN CHILD TANGLES CASE.

TRAGEDY AND DOMESTIC MIX-UP INVOLVE ESTATE.

First Wife's Divorce not Final, Thus Voiding Second Marriage, is Charge, but the Second Now Expects Heir Who Would Inherit the Contested Fortune.

The Probate Court is attempting to solve what appears to be a case without a parallel. It involves a tragedy, a domestic mix-up and an unborn child. It is set down in the calendar as the Holmes case, and after a partial hearing yesterday it was continued by Judge Rives until tomorrow afternoon.

Frank L. Holmes, his wife, Sarah Holmes, and their son, Leon Holmes, met death in an automobile accident at Long Beach August 31. In the administration of their several estates the question to be settled was which died last, the mother or the father. The apparent heir was the young wife of Leon Holmes. She filed a petition for letters of administration on the estate of approximateiy $50,000. But Mr. Holmes had been previously married and the former Mrs. Holmes also filed her petition.

Mr. Holmes, it appears, was a divorced man when he married his second wife. It developed, however, that only the interlocutory and not the final decree had been signed at that time, and it was admitted by Swaffield & Swaffield, counsel for the second wife, that the latter's marriage was void. But it transpires that the second wife is expecting a child, and under the law this child would inherit.

It was brought out that the first Mrs. Holmes and who now is to be known as the widow, had signed a separation agreement under which she waived her rights to administer upon the estate of her husband. The agreement also provided for a property settlement. She is seeking to set aside the agreement as without consideration and that it was obtained under duress.

If the agreement is set aside the first wife, now the widow, and the unborn child of the second wife will inherit from the husband's estate.

If the agreement is sustained, the child will inherit all of the estate.

If the agreement is sustained and the child should not be born alive, the estate will go to the two sisters and the brother of Mrs. Frank Holmes, who is supposed to have survived her husband.

These heirs are Mrs. Eva Greusel and Mrs. Emma Freeland of Michigan, and Ransom Gleason.

Miss Kinney is counsel for Public Administrator Bryson, in behalf of the brother and sisters. Skinner & Jakes represent the widow.

CURTAIN DROPS.
ACTRESS HALTS SUIT.

Maud Armfield, the actress, who sprang into prominence when she filed a $500,000 breach of promise suit against Bryant H. Howard, action for divorce suit. He is said to be out of the State, and Le Roy Edwards, Mrs. Stimson's attorney, would like to know where he is.

Another development was to the effect that Mr. Stimson is endeavoring to recover property valued at $10,000 which he gave to Mrs. Stimson's brother, C. J. Waters, a rancher in Orange county. Yesterday an attachment was filed against Mr. Waters. It is alleged that the property was turned over to Mr. Waters in the nature of a loan.

The rulings of Judge Shenk were without prejudice. As the matters dealt with in the answer are also believed to be contained in the divorce complaint, more particularly the references to Miss Gay, the divorce court judge will probably be asked to restrain either party from disposing of the securities until the suit is tried. It was contended by Mr. Stimson's attorneys yesterday that as they represent community property, Mrs. Stimson could not take and secrete them.

WIPES OUT SUIT.
SUSTAINS BOND SALE.

The suit of Anna Gustafson against the City National Bank of Long Beach and the city officers, growing out of the sale of 729 improvement bonds under the act of 1901 in which the validity of the sale was attacked, was thrown out of court yesterday when Judge Taft sustained the demurrer to the complaint without leave to amend.

The bonds covered Improvement district No. 1. They were sold to the City National Bank for $72,900 and Mrs. Gustafson, a taxpayer, whose property is in the assessment district, alleged that they were not sold at par and for the accrued interest. She contended the city should have realized $82,471.95, and her suit was based on the difference in the purchase price of $9571.95, with interest.

Judge Taft held that the bonds were sold as contemplated by law. He ignored the fact that Mrs. Gustafson asked for relief in the name of the city which, he found, could not profit by one cent whatever the result of the suit.

An appeal may be taken to the higher court, and Judge Taft said that if this is done and the validity of the bonds passed on the situation may be clarified. Attorney Stephen Long represented the City Councilmen.

RAILROAD WINS.
CITY MUST REFUND.

The suit of the Salt Lake against the city for the recovery of taxes on leased property south of Terminal Island was marked finished yesterday, when Judge Finlayson gave judgment on the pleadings, on the motion of the corporation and against the opposition of the city.

The Salt Lake complained that the city had imposed a tax of $1163.74 on improvements assessed at $92,850. The tax was paid to prevent the sale of the property. The city alleged that the tax was a proper one, as the corporation had constructed a breakwater and was filling in the land. The work was at a cost of $67,000. Under the judgment the city will have to refund the taxes.

STRIKES OUT.
ELIMINATES AFFINITY.

Judge Shenk held yesterday that the allegations of Mrs. Ezra T. Stimson in the answer to her husband's suit to recover securities valued at $1,000,000 were interesting but not material, in so far as they referred to his alleged infatuation for Miss Virginia Gay, and he ordered them stricken out. He also sustained Mr. Stimson's demurrer with leave to amend.

But while the court held the allegations were interesting, Attorneys Weyl and Lawler characterized them as scandalous. As the battle was fought yesterday the trial of the property suit and Mrs. Stimson's divorce action promise lively testimony.

It developed yesterday that Mr. Stimson cannot be reached by the process servers on the order to show cause why he should not provide for Mrs. Stimson pending the trial of her

INS AND OUTS ABOUT THE COURTS.

WANTS GUARDIAN. Charles A. Steadman, son-in-law of John Fletcher, petitioned the Probate Court yesterday for the appointment of a guardian for Mr. Fletcher, so that his interests would be safeguarded and Mrs. Fletcher provided for. Mr. Fletcher owns real and personal property valued at $47,000. He is 78 years old, alleged to be ill, incompetent and at times manifests violence towards his family. The Fletchers reside at Pomona. The family includes three daughters and two sons. John Fletcher, Jr., is in Imperial Valley.

CHARGE FRAUD. The James R. H. Wagner Company was made defendant yesterday in actions brought by Fred W. Babcock and wife; D. A. Leiberknecht and S. Oscar Stees and wife, to recover monies paid in part on contract to purchase agricultural land in Riverside county. The amounts sought are respectively, $347.20, $225 and $562.50. False and fraudulent representations are alleged with reference to water and the cultivation of the land by the corporation until the purchasers were able to look after their holdings themselves.

DENIES NEW TRIAL. Judge Myers yesterday denied the motion of the Bradbury estate for a new trial in the damage suit of Grace Brink, one of the victims of the elevator accident in the Tajo Building, and who was awarded by a jury a verdict of $17,000 for injuries she sustained The motion was based on the ground that the verdict was excessive. The denial of the motion paves the way for an appeal from the verdict of the jury.

INCORPORATIONS. Oriental Cafe, Inc., incorporators, Lung Yep, Tick Kong and C. T. Shun, capital stock, $50,000, subscribed, $4.

TESTIMONY CLOSES.

The testimony in the case brought by the government against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company for alleged violation of the Interstate Commerce law relating to the hours of trainmen was completed yesterday. Judge Trippet will charge the jury this morning. It is alleged that during the early part of 1914 the road allowed thirty engineers, firemen, brakemen and conductors to work overtime on the Los Angeles-Indio service. This is denied by the road.

POSTAL PROMOTIONS.

By reason of the death of Thomas Burns, late cashier of the Los Angeles postoffice, and the appointment of Charles E. Anderson to fill the vacancy, the following promotions were announced yesterday. Superintendent of the money order division, formerly held by Anderson, to R. C. Strashley, former superintendent at Station C, who is succeeded in turn by J. F. Bourne, superintendent of Station H; L. R. Umstead, superintendent of Station R, goes to Station H, and Charles Wilson, clerk at Station D, is made superintendent of Station A.

DYNAMITE TRIAL AGAIN CONTINUED.

SCHMIDT'S NEW COUNSEL GIVEN WEEK TO FAMILIARIZE WITH CASE.

Another week's postponement was granted yesterday by Judge Willis in the trial of M. A. Schmidt on the charge of the murder of Charles Haggerty, one of the twenty victims of the dynamiting of the original Times Building.

The case will be resumed at 10 o'clock Monday morning. The delay is granted that the new chief counsel for the defense, Nathan C. Coghlan, and his associate, Edwin V. McKenzie, may familiarize themselves with the case.

Judge Willis stated before granting the continuance that he believes this delay will result in the expedition of the case later.

"We would have made more rapid progress up to the present time," said Judge Willis, "had the counsel been in harmony as to the policy of questions to be asked the jurors."

At the opening of court yesterday morning, J. H. Ryckman, one of the counsel associated with the late Charles H. Fairall, presented the resolutions of condolence prepared by a committee appointed by Judge Willis. The court ordered these spread upon its minutes and copies are to be sent to Mrs. Fairall and the presiding judge of the San Francisco Superior courts.

Attorney Coghlan then presented an affidavit in which he set forth the reasons for asking a week's continuance.

At the afternoon session District Attorney Woolwine presented an affidavit opposing the continuance; urging that the opening statement of the case would require at least a day, and would give a complete outline of the theory of the prosecution's case; that several days would be required in presenting proof of the corpus delicti; and that weeks would be required in presenting proof of purely formal character, so that the defense would have abundant time to examine grand jury records, etc. He also urged the consideration of the great expense entailed upon the State by reasons of delay, because of the number of witnesses held here.

Attorney Coghlan again urged his arguments, and the court then allowed the continuance.

Miss Katheryn Schmidt, sister of the accused, was in court yesterday morning, accompanied by several women. The prisoner and his sister embraced and kissed each other.

There are eleven jurors in the box, four of whom have been sworn to try the case. When the twelfth juror is secured then will be resumed the exercise of peremptory challenges, of which the defense still has nine and the State six.

District Attorney Woolwine stated yesterday that he believes it will require a week's time to complete the jury.

RESPITE FOR SCALPER.

Judge Trippet in the United States District Court yesterday granted one week the temporary injunction granted the Southern Pacific, the Salt Lake and the Santa Fe railroads against Kline and other alleged ticket scalpers. Other business interfered with the hearing of the petition on its merits. It is claimed that, since the court allowed the temporary writ some time ago, It has been violated, one of the defendants selling a tourist a ticket over the Southern Pacific that was taken up at San Francisco. The traveler and an official of the transportation association behind the prosecution in the federal courts, brought the man back and compelled the scalper to refund the price of the transportation, about $

BECOMES CITIZEN.

John Joseph Krivanek, a native of Austria, was admitted to citizenship yesterday by Judge Trippet, it appearing that the petitioner had concluded a term of service in the United States Navy as a member of the Marine Corps. Such service covered by a special statute, and examination is necessary, it being the theory of the law that if a man is good enough to fight for the country he will measure up to the standard of good citizenship.

SEVEN NEW ATTORNEYS.

The District Court of Appeal on its October term yesterday, with comments and the submission of briefs in a dozen unimportant cases, the following attorneys were admitted to practice by the court: Paul R. Grant, H. F. Davis, Dale H. Gates, Hardy A. Norvill, Jr., Harry B. Lee, George M. Martin and George Hoffleken.

SUES ON COPYRIGHT.

An acton was brought in the United States District Court yesterday by the Royal Pattern Company against Adam, for $5000 damages, alleged to be due for an alleged infringement of a copyright owned by the plainants, in the contents of a magazine known as La Costume Royale, published in the advertising columns of a Bakersfield newspaper.

The Money Master

By

Sir Gilbert Parker

"Perhaps the best and surely the most pleasing of all my novels," says the author. "The book is admirably written and admirably worked out. The style has mingled gayety and pathos, humor and charm; the story holds the reader's interest throughout. . . . A novel which is not only worth reading, but worth keeping."
